Arago School and Community

Rev. George Carl, of Los Angeles, California, preached to a large and appreciative audience in Arago last Sunday night. His delivery was very rapid and very eloquent. Mr. Carl spent his boyhood at Norway and in this vicinity. He recalled the conditions that obtained here forty years ago and contrasted them with the conditions that prevail today. He told many interesting episodes that happened in the old days. It was interesting to know that the first Coos County Fair that Mr. Carl ever attended was at Arago. It was the day of the old race-track, traces of which are still in evidence back of the city of Arago. Those were the days when men travelled in boats up and down the Coquille river. They didn't have so far to go to get a thrill as they do today. Mr. Carl's seven pound potato that won a prize and a blue ribbon taught him to appreciate the prize winner. The thrill he received forty years ago was quite similar to the feeling prevalent around Arago at the present time. It seems that all the world loves a winner. That is why Tillamook county is trying to locate us on the map. She wants to know how we made that cheese and how we judged that stock at the State Fair.

The stock-judging was surely no accident. Emerson says, "It takes seventeen generations to make a preacher. Heredity and training are equally potential in making a good critic of livestock. It was Melden Carl who took the state prize in stock-judging.

Arago is looking up the family tree of several other promising youth of the community. It might be that we have a Tom Sawyer or a Huckleberry Finn in our midst. Harry Collier deserves honorable mention as a member of the stock-judging team. He helped to put the team from eleventh place last year to fifth place this year. He has the right spirit. He is back home beginning all over again. He is now making a milk-stool. Orvus Miller, the third member of the team is studying General Science. He wants to know what is in the food that makes the milk that makes the butter.

But what has all that to do with Volley-Ball. Nothing, except that stockmen, preachers, dairymen, farmers and cheesemen know that volleyball with a shower-bath makes for efficiency. You are invited to join the business men's team.

Wayne Woodward reports that jobs are scarce in Southern California. He says "Thousands of men are out of employment in Los Angeles."

Delores Root writes that she is attending high school at Ukiah, California. There are thirty members in

George Hampton is always up to date. The Fair is ancient history with him. He talks in his sleep. Between snores he says, "Bambino, Pirates! Yankees! Sixtieth! Pittsburgh! New York! Miller Huggins! Kremer! Bush! Babe Ruth!" Ask him where the next great convention will be held, and he will say, "Pittsburgh!" "Who will be nominated?" And his reply is, "Bambino."

Wm. Stauff and family attended the Christian Endeavor convention at North Bend last Sunday. They report a good convention.

Two new landau sedans grace the main street of Arago. Terrill Woodward and W. B. Farrier have had their cars over a week. The new ones are driven by Lafe Cornwall and Delman. The mayor will be getting a "Chev" some of these days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore entertained the members of the Arago Dairymen's Association last Monday night. The wives of the members and a few friends were also invited. Everybody had a royal time and a feed of pie and ice cream long to be remembered. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have set us all a good example.

Mrs. C. M. Howard, of Sheridan, Oregon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Sevy, of Arago, will sing over KGW broadcasting station this coming Saturday night, October 8th. Mrs. Howard is singing in a state contest. Sixty per cent of the decision depends upon the popular vote. If she should win she would go to the National Atwater-Kent contest to be held at San Francisco. The winner at San Francisco will receive two years training in New York. Mrs. Howard was the state band soloist at the state fair.

Last Thursday morning Mrs. F. D. Fish with her son, Warren, and her mother, Mrs. E. M. Gabeler, motored to Portland, where they spent the night with friends and relatives, returning home Friday by way of McMinnville, where they stopped for lunch with Mrs. Carrie Edmunds.

Among those from Arago attending the state fair at Salem were Mrs. E. E. Hampton, George Hampton, wife and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. John Carl and Mrs. I. B. Sevy. Mr. Hampton took the boys of the judging team, who were Orvus Miller, Melden Carl and Harry Collier.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carl visited a brother at Hubbard while on their vacation last week and a reunion of five Carl brothers was a most pleasant feature of their trip.

Mrs. Will Lett, son and daughter, spent the evening at the John Carl home last Sunday. Mrs. Lett and Mr. Carl are brother and sister.

It is reported that Walter Barklow who was taken to the hospital with pneumonia one day last week is improving and will soon be able to return home.

Mrs. C. C. Hulet filled the pulpit last Sunday morning and addressed a full house.

George Carl, brother of John Carl, visited his brother here last Sunday and in the evening filled the pulpit. Sunday morning he had attended the Love Feast at the Brethren church at Myrtle Point and both there and at Arago he met many old friends as Mr. Carl spent several years of his boyhood days on his father's farm at Norway. As a prelude to his service Mr. Carl spoke touchingly and feelingly upon the great change that had come to Arago since he was a boy. He spoke of there being no church here then and the only music that was heard being dance hall music. No wonder he noticed the change when he came to church, which is held in our high school building, and listened to the young people's choir led by Mrs. Sevy with Mrs. Marquette Aasen at the piano and the "special" rendered by Mrs. Louise McAlister made quite a contrast to what he had heard here thirty-two years ago when he left the county.

Salmon Catch Reduced

The U. S. commissioner of fisheries estimates that the salmon catch along the Pacific coast is this year 50 per cent below normal. The reason is a mystery both to the fishing industry and to government experts.

New Securities Company

University Mode Of Instruction Wins Admirers

President Hall Brings Back Praise From Group of Eastern Educators

University of Oregon, Eugene—That the University of Oregon faculty is making good progress in its search for more scientific methods of instruction is evinced by the interest that prominent educators are now showing in the University and its faculty, states Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University. Dr. Hall has just returned from the East and Middle West, where he has spent the past several weeks.

Dr. Hall presided over the meeting of the Social Science Research Council of America which was held in Hanover, New Hampshire, this year. He also visited the campuses of several large universities and came in contact with many men prominent in social science research and in the field of education.

Dr. Hall says that the efforts of the University of Oregon faculty, which are centered around scientific instruction, rather than increasing enrollment in the school, are attracting nation-wide attention from educators. Dr. Hall states that one college president told him that the people of Oregon should be proud of the University and its faculty, because of its rapid advancement along educational lines.

Freshmen No Longer Hazed at University

University of Oregon, Eugene—A change in attitude toward freshmen, and the cessation of padding during the annual Fresh parade are measures strongly endorsed among other by the Traditions Committee in a report recently submitted following a request by the President of the A. S. U. O.

"The Committee recommends that the Fresh Parade be modified," says the report. "Hazing methods are fast disappearing from the majority of college—(persisting only in a few smaller institutions). Upon investigation, the committee finds that nowhere in the Northwest do other institutions have a fresh parade where the paddle is wielded. Nowhere is 'cockiness' of the Freshmen subdued before he has a chance to be 'rocky'. The time has come for a change in attitude toward the freshmen."
