The ability to sing is an accomplishment rated highly by English politicians, for voters demand entertainment in connection with speeches. Even Lloyd George, it is said, is not above breaking into song when addressing public gatherings.

McKINLEY NOTES

Mrs. Theron Loshbaugh accompanied her husband to California this trip for grapes and raisins. They expect to be gone about two weeks. Of the Ellen, the small daughter of the family, was left with Mrs. J. B. Myers so she would not have to lose any school.

The Bunch-Heller Lumber Co. is busy getting out timbers for rebuilding the dam on the Frank Snow place which was so badly damaged in last spring's freshet.

Dr. E. E. Straw, of Marshfield, was out Sunday on a business and pleasure trip. He visited at the W. H. Bunch home and with Cecil Dugger, who now owns the place on upper Cherry creek, where the doctor used to have a fish farm.

McKinley Grange No. 582 will meet on Saturday evening, Oct. 22nd, in order to let all patrons, who wish, to attend and take part in the Corn Show Carnival. The Lions Club is expected to be at McKinley for this meeting. They had planned to come earlier but other matters came up to cause a postponement of the Goodwill caravan. Twenty-three patrons from this side of the divide attended the Grange installation at the Hollow Stump last Saturday and reported a very enthusiastic meeting there with a large number in attendance.

Miss Rosabel Shone spent the week end at Marshfield with her aunt, Mrs. D. L. Crow. She said that it was so known yet exactly how much clothing was stolen when her aunt's home was robbed as she kept discovering that articles were missing that she didn't notice at first were gone.

Mrs. R. H. Lawhorn has been helping her step-mother, Mrs. Dave Barker, with her work a good deal of late as Mrs. Barker does not seem to improve very much and her arm keeps breaking out in new places. Her father is also very miserable all the time. He has been ill a long while now.

Uncle "Larkie" hasn't much use of his hand and arm yet, and says he suffers a good deal of pain most of the time.

Mrs. Arthur Brown is still bothered with her arm and shoulder. That infected finger that so nearly caused her to lose her life is the cause of it.

Kenneth Hansen brought Jim Watson out to spend the week end. They enjoyed hunting and riding in the "open sedan" even though they were completely drenched. Kenneth has a nasty deep cut over his eye as a memento of last Saturday's game.

A number of farmers are filling their silos this week.

Harold and Helen Glenn, who drive in to high school every day, have been inconvenienced this week by their car refusing to run, but they only really missed one day of school on account of it. It's a problem sometimes to keep the cars going if one drives or the proper food is on "batches" and not have to miss school. Let us hope for the day when every child will be able to obtain at least a high school education by having transportation furnished to the rural population when it is not feasible to have a high school.

Hampton's Hairless Mex. Dogs

Geo. Hampton was in town Tuesday to get a permit from the booth committee at the Corn Show to show his new Hairless Mexican dogs in his booth. This is the first time that this new dog has been shown in Coos county and as the ones he is showing here from the same strain that caused so much comment when shown at the State Fair this year, we feel assured that everyone will be interested in seeing this new, popular dog. Mr. Hampton is so enthusiastic about his new dogs that he predicts that they will be in nearly every home in the county in the very near future.
