

Goodyear's Price Often Duplicated But It's Quality —NEVER

For a good many years, now, Goodyear tires have been the choice of the largest single group of tire users in the world.

If Goodyear tires did not consistently give their users the utmost in satisfaction and economy, this would not be true.

But it IS true—and you can buy a Goodyear tire and be sure of similar satisfaction and economy.

Or you can buy an unknown brand at a so called "long discount" and take your chances.

Opportunity to Do Big Things

(State Board of Health)

The physicians of Oregon are custodians of the health of over eight hundred thousand of Oregon human beings. They are pretty good at repairing and curing defective and diseased individuals. But what do they do to prevent disease and the development of defects? Preventive medicine, the science that seeks to prevent disease, hardly exists. The eleven hundred physicians in the state of Oregon could, if properly educated and financed, do more to insure health, wealth, and happiness to the residents of this state than any other profession. The physicians are the guardians of the health of the people, but neither the people nor many of the physicians realize their importance to the economic welfare of the country.

Preventive medicine as an aid to keeping well is yet in its infancy and very little has been done to make effective known means of disease prevention. The main object in life should be to prevent disease rather than to cure it. The one is easy and cheap, and the other expensive and often impossible.

The examination of drafted men in the World War showed that 47 per cent were defective from a military standpoint. Approximately $5,000,000 worth of life insurance applied for in 1923 was rejected by the insurance companies because of the various defects found among applicants. The condition of children appears to be quite as serious. Fifty to ninety-eight per cent, varying with the locality, have decayed teeth; 30 to 50 per cent have diseased tonsils; and 25 per cent have impaired vision.

There are approximately 6,000 tubercular persons in the state of Oregon.

The economic cost of disease involves figures quite beyond comprehension. The cost of disabling diseases in this state is over $12,000,000 annually. Approximately over $4,000,000 is being spent each year for drugs alone. Decreased efficiency due to disease imposes a toll upon industry of about $12,000,000 annually. To a large extent these losses are preventable.

The prevention of disease is the most important problem of civilization, and all that is needed for the solution is sufficient funds to departments that will make modern measures of disease prevention effective.

Better care of the cows, sanitary conditions on the farm, modern methods of bottling milk—these are some of the things that go towards making our milk the finest you ever drank or ate.

Cars Collide, Little Damage

A Ford came off second best in a collision at the intersection between the Liberty Theatre and the Sentinel building Wednesday afternoon. C. E. Johnson, of the Lee section was driving west on First, and had the right of way over the Chevrolet, driven by Ike Cox, of Langlois, who was going north. The Chev was not injured while the Ford suffered a broken fender and the misplacement of a front tire. Neither needed help to continue their journeys.
