Around Arago Vicinity

There was a little too much water last week to let this correspondent get notes off to the Sentinel. While the roads are now passable there is still quite a lot of water covering the lowlands, doing damage to the farmers only and that because it is depriving his stock of the feed they should be having at this time of year, thereby cutting down on milk production which goes to feed the world at large. It will be quite a benefit to farmers in this valley whenever the law is enforced keeping a part, at least, of the river open so that the river may have a channel to carry off the surplus water.

April 4th a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lillie. They call the little lady Glenda Gene. Mrs. Leon Paul is nursing there.

An Easter program was given at the community church last Sunday. All did their parts so nicely and everything was so in accordance with the day that the writer feels they all need complimenting, the teachers for service given and the children for co-operating in such a way as to do their teachers justice. The beauty of the day so inspired Mr. Sevy that he wrote a beautiful poem, worthy of print, which was read by Mrs. Sevy.

Rev. Thos. Barklow talked upon Easter and what it has meant to the world. It was a very beautiful sermon but he had to hurry through because he had to go to Camas valley that afternoon to preach the funeral service of Mr. Culver. He expected to be ready to leave Myrtle Point at twelve-thirty.

An Easter egg hunt in which old and young alike were invited to partake, was enjoyed for a short season after church. Then came one of Arago's picnic dinners and that's enough said.

Miss Ethel Fish walked over Lampa hill after having waited for two days for the water to fall enough for her to go to her school at Bear Creek. When she got over the hill she found her cousin, Sumner Fish, of Bandon, waiting there with his car to take her to her school. Miss Fish purchased a new Chevrolet coupe last week-end. Not having had practice enough to inspire courage in starting alone with it, her father, A. H. Fish, took her to her school Monday in his Ford.

Mrs. C. T. Robison has been very ill, requiring the services of the doctor, while the water was about at its highest; but we are glad to report her better at present.

*Albert Fish is practicing clean-up day. He is having a new coat of paint put on his house.

Lumber is on the ground for another new house in Arago. Lucius Myers is building a little closer to the thoroughfare than the old house stood.

Saturday afternoon, the last day of March, Mrs. Albert Fish, Mrs. F. D. Fish and son, Warren, returned from a trip to southern California just in time to prevent being held up by the overflow and being unable to cross from Coquille to the foothills. One day later and they would have had to come home in a boat or continue visiting with friends a while longer. They left here for their trip on the fourteenth of March and had a most enjoyable trip both ways with the exception of their last day, coming in from Phoenix, about four miles south of Medford. On the trip down they had with them Mrs. E. M. Gabeler, mother of Mrs. F. D. Fish. Mrs. Albert Fish stopped off at Yucaipa, about nine miles southeast of Redlands. There she visited with two of her sisters while the remainder of the company went to San Diego. Mrs. Gabeler decided to remain indefinitely and after a six days' visit with relatives the rest of the party started home coming the inland route, having gone down the coast route.

The Myrtle Leaf club met at the home of Mrs. Stella Crowley April 5th. The afternoon was spent in the usual sewing and visiting. Mrs. Crowley served refreshments to the following members: Mesdames Mildred Benham, Lelia Lawhorn, Zilpha Krewson, Belle Laird and Grandma Laird, and to the visitors, Mrs. Lester Mayse and Mrs. Anise Anderson.

Miss Anna Lou Lawhorn spent the week end with the Glenn Shores family, of Gravel Ford.

Binger Laird and family, of Roseburg, were visiting relatives of the valley over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker and little grand daughter, June, and Mr. and Mrs. Beckett, of Bandon, visited the Perley Crowley family Sunday. Mrs. Baker is a sister of Mrs. Crowley.

Mrs. C. M. Wilson was called to Coquille Thursday by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Forrest, who passed away Saturday night.

Joe Laird and wife came up Saturday evening to spend Easter with his mother, Grandma Laird. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

The Dora Sunday School invited the Sitkum and Gravel Ford Sunday Schools there for a joint Easter program and basket dinner. The program was fine consisting mostly of songs and readings by the school children. After the lunch Mr. Wiley, of Myrtle Point, preached a very good sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bohlander had Easter dinner at the Brant Taylor home.

Edna Alford, who has been sick so long, is still not very well.

The school children enjoyed their Easter and birthday lunch at the school house Friday noon. The mothers of the pupils, who have birthdays in April were invited to attend. They were Mrs. T. J. Parks, Mrs. Crowley and Mrs. E. Krewson, also J. R. Benham, it being his birthday month, too. The children enjoyed the egg hunt very much.

Kellie Alford was home from his work near Coquille for Sunday.

Mrs. Anise Anderson was a Sunday visitor at the J. D. Laird home.
