Ole Neisheim Wins Another

Ole Neisheim, of Bunker Hill, put Bill Jossi, of Tacoma, down for the count in the second round of their ten-round event at Marshfield last Friday evening and remains, along with Bud Bryant, the undefeated Coos county scrapper, who wins all bouts with a knock-out. Jossie had all the best of it in the first, but didn't stay on his feet long in the second.

Bud Bryant made short work of Mickey Patton in the first round of their encounter. As usual Bud started in upper cutting and quickly put Patton to sleep.

The two round draw between two 81 and 90 pound boys was the most interesting match on the card.

The McDewitt-Shaw and the Ward-Russell bouts were not up to the rest of the card.

The Arm of a Sofa

It was hollow. In cleaning house mother found it. She thought it a good place to "open a savings account." She gathered together $165 in bills and hid them in the sofa arm. The other day she went to add to her account, when she found the mice had made a nest of her $165.

It is not only necessary to save money. You must keep it in a safe place. This bank is that place.

The Calf Was a Gift

Merle Hartson has had to stand a lot of razing the past week on account of a calf in a car in front of his store last Sunday evening. He had been out in the Fishtrap section with W. R. Rutherford, and the latter had been presented with a six weeks old calf by Elmer Shull. Arriving back in Coquille they stopped in front of the Coquille Furniture store and the calf began to bawl for its mother. It was neither Mr. Hartson's car nor his calf, but he has had numerous offers for the hide, and his friends have had a lot of fun at his expense.

Monday morning Recorder Leslie fined the two men $25 apiece for intoxication.
