Republican Campaign to Start

Plans for a county-wide campaign in behalf of the republican candidates for all offices to be filed at the November election, were formulated at a meeting of the executive committee of the Coos County Republican Central Committee held in the office of James Watson, chairman, at Coquille on Monday.

Mr. Watson was present and in active charge of the campaign and an advertising and publicity program will be carried on under his direction.

It is the purpose of the committee to use every effort to advance the interests of all republican candidates on the county, state and national tickets.

According to Mr. Watson, the most important duty of all citizens at this time is to make certain that they are registered and qualified to participate in the coming election. D. F. Thompson, republican candidate for County Judge, in conversation Wednesday, was asked what his policy would be, as a member of the county court, in regard to appointments in the county's highway department.

"I am glad you asked that," was his response, for I hear street rumors that in the event of my election I intend to favor a man for roadmaster who is a candidate at this fall's election. Such is not the case. I have never been approached on the subject, have made no promises, and will not favor making the appointment which the rumors indicate."
