Telling About People and Events in the City and County

F. C. Hudson has been up at Powers this week, invoicing the Wm. Livock bankrupt drug stock.

The ladies of the Church of Christ will hold a cooked food sale Saturday at Thrift's grocery store.

Mrs. Mary Harvey, sister of J. E. Quick, is in a very serious condition and no hope is held for her recovery.

Auto Tops and Curtain Lights made new or old ones repaired. C. E. Collins Body Shop, 365 Front street, Coquille.

Mrs. Henrietta Morgan returned Sunday from Hillsboro, where she had gone with her son, G. Russell Morgan, before Christmas.

Kenneth Staninger left Monday morning for Stockton, California, after visiting here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Staninger.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Taylor Jr. returned last Saturday morning from a week's visit with her parents at her old home in Richfield, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Nosler left Tuesday for Portland where she is taking treatment for her eyes which have been bothering her a great deal.

The next meeting of Coquille Post No. 36, American Legion, and of the Auxiliary, will be held in the Community Building, Monday, Jan. 14, at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a cooked food sale at the 20th Century store Saturday, January 19, beginning at 10 a. m.

Miss Edith Pomeroy, of the Beauty Maid Shoppe in the Drane building, is back on duty this week, she and her father having recovered from their attacks of flu.

P. E. Drane is Number 1 on the Chevrolet list of the Southwest Motor Co. for one of the new sixes. The coach, on display here for the past week, is Mr. Drane's.

Rev. and Mrs. Hale B. Eubanks returned to Coquille Wednesday from Bandon and will make their home in the A. J. Sherwood house, north of the O. C. Sanford residence.

Deputy Sheriff Wm. Anderson and Wm. King, of North Bend, left this morning for Salem, taking with them to the penitentiary Harvey Miller, Wilbur St. Clair and Chester Johnson.

Senator Chas. Hall stopped in Coquille for a few moments this noon on his return home from a ten days' trip outside. He spoke at the annual meeting of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce last evening.

Mrs. Sadie Jayes was hostess to the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. Light refreshments were served to about twenty ladies. Next Thursday the meeting will be held at the parsonage.

The Kindergarten opens Monday, Jan. 14, in Baptist Church. All children attending be there by 9:30 a. m. All fees in advance. Our time 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. From 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. Our aim—constructive instruction.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, whose home is near Patterson's Grove, left last Saturday evening for a visit of several months with her son, Fred E. Romero, in New York city. She did not know whether she would be back before next winter or not.

Mrs. J. R. Bunch is enjoying a visit this week from her sister, Mrs. H. C. Peterson and little daughter, Carol, from McMinnville. They came in Sunday evening and are expecting Mr. Peterson with this evening to return with them Sunday.

L. L. Graham, of Eugene, district traffic agent of the Southern Pacific, and P. P. Gray, passenger agent at Marshfield, were Coquille visitors yesterday. Referring to street rumors which he heard several times in Coquille, Mr. Graham said the company had no announcement to make.

Word was received from Wanda Houdyshell, who is attending the Normal at Ashland, that she had made Sigma Epsilon Pi, girls' honorary fraternity. She did not state what qualifications or record were necessary for membership, but it is known that excellence of scholastic work is a requisite.

On her return from spending the holidays at Eugene Miss Mary Druley was accompanied by Miss Margaret Trader, who was a teacher in the Coquille schools a couple of years ago. Miss Trader had been attending the University of Oregon last semester and after two days here left Wednesday morning for California to visit relatives in that state.

Allen Young spent a week of his ten day vacation with his parents here, arriving last Friday evening from Yakima, Wash., and leaving yesterday morning to return to work. He is with a pharmacy in the Washington city. Snow and ice has been the order of the weather up there for several weeks, and he says there has not been a good rain since he went there Sept. 1.

Chris Terres returned home Sunday from a 17-day trip to Oakland and Los Angeles where he visited two daughters and his wife. Many years ago Mr. Terres lived in the Los Angeles neighborhood and he found several people he knew at that time, but saw very little country that looked familiar. He stood the trip well and enjoyed all of it. Mrs. Terres will not return for a few months yet.

He Talked on "Evolution"
E. Purvance, of the Smith Wood-Products, Inc., and L. L. Graham and P. P. Gray, of the Southern Pacific, were guests at the Lions Club luncheon yesterday noon. All three responded to invitations to address the club.

Dr. J. R. Bunch, in charge of entertainment for the luncheon, gave an illustrated talk on Evolution that contained more humor than can be found in all of Darwin's "Origin of Species." The doctor did not delve into the monkey theory but confined his remarks to the human race from Adam's time.

A request for a donation for a worthy civic improvement cause was reluctantly turned down. Being a service club, without a budget for donations of any kind, its treasury will not permit the use of funds for public benefits, although its members are generous in support of worthy causes.

Attend Conference at Eugene
W. V. Ferguson, superintendent, and four students of C. H. S. left this morning for Eugene. The former goes to attend the Oregon High School Principals' Conference; George McClellan, student body president; and Vera Fortier, its secretary, for the Student Body Officers Conference; and Geneva Agostino, assistant editor of the High Times, and Pauline Ellingsen, Laurel editor, will attend the Publication Conference. The session lasts two days and they will be home Sunday.

W. H. Schroeder Laid Up
W. H. Schroeder expects to be laid up several weeks yet as a result of an electrical shock he received before Christmas. He was in the ware room back of his jewelry store and reached to pull the plug from the lavatory which was full of water. In doing so his other arm accidentally came in contact with a switch which controlled a small motor standing on a bench. He was partially stunned and has a great blue streak across his chest which the doctor says may have been caused by burst blood vessels.

J. L. Smith Home Today
J. L. Smith returned from Portland this morning, feeling somewhat improved, but realizing that the complete recovery from his accident last September will be very slow. He made arrangements with the accident commission at Salem to receive the electric heating treatment and massage either here or in Marshfield, and does not expect to return to Portland. He can bear a little weight on his foot but is still compelled to use crutches.

Bar Banquet Postponed
The Coos County Bar Association, in session here Tuesday, decided to postpone its annual meeting and banquet for two weeks, or until Jan. 25. The death of T. T. Bennett and the serious illness of John C. Kendall were the determining influences in causing the postponement. Letters of condolence to Mrs. Bennett and of sympathy to Judge Kendall were passed upon by the association.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES
By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

Fear is the soul's tanglefoot. Few roses grow along the path way to the Temple of Fame. If you can kill an enemy with kindness he will stay dead. The employee who watches himself will not need watching. The boy's worst day is the day when he "gets away with" his first lie. Can you remember when brides and bridegrooms began their housekeeping with a Family Bible?

Erwin Saw Reigel's Run
J. S. Erwin returned Tuesday evening from his two weeks' trip to visit brothers and sisters in California. He made a trip through southern California where he saw the Question Mark on its record-breaking sustained flight and was present at the California-Georgia Tech game and saw Reigel's make his backward run which cost California the game.

He also made a trip through Hollywood, its movie colony and the wonderfully attractive residential district which has built up in that section.

Afraid Will Lose Their Mail
Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Schroeder who live on one of the oldest roads in Coos county, that between Fox bridge and Gravel Ford, were Coquille visitors Wednesday. The county graded about a mile of that three and one half mile road last year, but with only $200 budgeted for it this year, Mr. Schroeder is fearful that nothing will be done on it this year and that the residents will lose their mail service. The carrier has been making the trip from Fox bridge on foot for several weeks.

C. of C. Donates $15
At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors Wednesday evening, the request of the Woman's Club committee for a donation of $15, to be used in beautifying the court house yard, was complied with. It is expected to prepare one flower bed along the walk in front of the old building and the ladies hope to secure another $15 from some other organization for a similar bed on the other side of the walk.

Milk Theft Epidemic
Pete Miller says there has been another epidemic of milk stealing lately, from three to five bottles disappearing nearly every night. The thieving occurs in a different section of town each night. Last evening he found several empty bottles in an old barn not far from the O. T. Gant home on Beech. Customers are warned not to let their milk remain outside.

B. & B. W. Meets Jan. 14
The Business and Professional Women's Club will have its next regular meeting at 7:30 Monday evening, January 14, in Guild Hall. The committee on Health will have charge and is planning a program which will be of interest to all. A part of the program will be a talk by Dr. P. M. Drake, some health songs and a talk on nutrition.

Duck Season Closes Tuesday
The duck season closes next Tuesday evening, after a three months' season of good and poor hunting. Members of the Fat Elk Duck Club have suffered more from too much water on the Russ lands the past few weeks than they did earlier in the season from too little.

Nu-Way Burners in 2 Schools
C. W. Gardner returned Tuesday from Powers where he installed a Nu-Way oil burner in each of the schools there. Having had no word from there this week he naturally concludes that the burners are working efficiently and satisfactorily.

Liljeqvist May Return to Coos
L. A. Liljeqvist, formerly district attorney of Coos county, has under consideration the resuming of practice in Coos county, with Marshfield as his home. He had not made definite decision whether he would leave Portland when he was here this week.

The Temperature This Week
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings this week the thermometer stood at 30 degrees, but yesterday morning it dropped to 26. This morning it registered 39 degrees.

Recital by Pupils Last Night
The music pupils of Mrs. E. A. Woodyard gave a very pleasing recital at the home of J. S. Barton last evening, which was attended by many of the parents and friends of the performers. All but one of Mrs. Woodyard's pupils are taking piano, and the program last evening demonstrated that they are receiving splendid instruction.

Mrs. Woodyard is an accredited teacher of music, who is herself taking advance work in music, and the recital last evening proved her ability as an instructor.

Those taking part at the piano were Maxine and Lorraine Simpson, Isabel Unsoeld, Thomas Stacer, Zelma Boserman, Orville Weekly, Emma Frances Mulkey, Jimmie Clay, Beatrice Sanders, Donald Smith, Mary Lou Clay, Glenada Kendall, Marvin Skeels, Lorraine Sanders, Philip Laird, Louise Woodyard, Vada Swinney, Beryl Unsoeld, DeVona Shaver, Elda Gilman, Barbara Richmond, Barbara Unsoeld, Donald Farr, Anne Barton, Edythe Farr and Katherine Jane Hassler. Two solos by Eleanor Folsom, who is taking vocal lessons, were one of the evening's features.

Make Washington Building Safe
The Washington school was equipped Monday with automatic sure-stop fire extinguishers. C. W. Lynd, of Marshfield, did the installation. Mr. Lynd also reports full installation in the Chandler Hotel at Marshfield.

Clothing Store Deal Completed
The sale by Z. C. Strang of his clothing and gents furnishings store to Wm. A. Zosel was completed the first of this week and the latter is now in possession. Mr. Strang says he does not know what he will do.
