What Presidents Have Been

Pioneers, theorists, lawyers and politicians have all served well in constructing and perfecting the Government of the United States. But a new day and new problems are taxing the governmental machinery. Billion dollar industrial corporations, gigantic trade combinations, mass production, expanding international commerce and employment problems, all these have grown to such vast proportions that they have presented new issues, says the Christian Science Monitor.

For the solution of these new complexities society needs and business demands proven data, accurate tests and precise measurements, combined with a comprehensive knowledge of how to apply these tests.

These measures are working tools of Herbert Hoover's profession. His experience and training as an engineer, an administrator, business man and practical farmer, seem to fit him into the new order of things and equip him as no other President has been equipped to handle modern economic problems.

To be sure, Washington, like Hoover, might be classed as an engineer, but of a different type in a different period. Up to the present time undoubtedly there has been a need of those skilled in legal lore to construct and interpret the Constitution, which may account for the fact that out of twenty-nine Presidents twenty-three have been lawyers. John Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, Lincoln, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Wilson and Coolidge, lawyers all of them, albeit with many other qualifications. Johnson was a tailor and legislator. Taylor was a soldier, as was Grant. Roosevelt was a publicist but well versed in law. Harding was an editor and legislator.

A broad legislative foundation to the ship of state has been built. Today the demand is for it to function and operate on a large scale, particularly on business lines. A practical sailing master is needed to direct affairs harmoniously and profitably for the benefit of industry, labor and the Nation. The task is Mr. Hoover's.

The President-elect is singularly equipped to discharge it.

They Ate Several Apples

(From the Training School
Monitor, of Woodburn)

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?

Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2—a total of ten only, but we figure the thing out far differently. Eve 8 and Adam 8 also—total 16, and yet the above figures are entirely wrong. If Eve 8 and Adam 82 certainly the total will be 90. Scientific men, however, on the theory that the antediluvians were a race of giants, reason something like this: Eve 81 and Adam 82—total 163.

Wrong again. What could be clearer than if Eve 81 and Adam 812 the total was 893. But, if Eve 811st and Adam 812 would not the total be 1,623?

We believe the following to be a fair solution: Eve 814 Adam, Adam 8124 Eve—total 8938.

Still another calculation is as follows: If Eve 814 Adam and Adam 81242 Eve, total, 82,056. We think this, however, not a sufficient amount, for, though we admit that Eve 814 Adam, Adam, if he 8181242 keep Eve company—total 8,182,056.

All wrong, Eve, when she 81812 many, and probably she felt sorry, but her companion, in order to relieve her grief, 812. Therefore when Adam 8181242 Eve's depressed spirits. Hence both ate 81,895,864 apples.

Coquille Hi Loses First

Coquille High lost the opening scheduled game to Myrtle Point last Friday at Myrtle Point by the one-sided score of 31-7. The Pointers played a strong consistent game throughout but the visitors couldn't seem to get started.

The same evening the Roseburg quint defeated North Bend, at Roseburg, 27-19.

The Ford Motor Co. manufactured the old model T Ford Car for eighteen years. A total of fifteen million cars were made and sold in that time. The new model A Ford car was announced and displayed to the public about one year ago. About seven hundred thousand have been delivered since then, most of them in the last four months. Production is now at the rate of about seven thousand cars a day.

Ford is adhering to his old policy with the new model. Mechanical improvements in the chassis are so designed that they are interchangeable with the older parts. For instance the starter and the front engine hanger have been changed lately. The new starter can be installed on the first models at a cost to the owner of four dollars and fifty cents. The new front engine hanger does away with all body roar. It consists of three springs which cushion the motor. It can be installed for eight dollars on the older cars.

Deliveries on new Fords can now be made within a very short time after your order is placed. If you are going to buy a car in any price class, stop at the Ford garage and take a ride in a new Ford before buying, or phone 25, Coquille, and ask for a demonstration.

Calling cards 100 for $1.50.
