Arago School and Community

Bobbette)

Rev. Sanford MacDonald, president of Philomath College, spoke in Arago Sunday morning. A very ready and eloquent speaker. The congregation was much pleased with his message as well as his manner of delivery.

Rev. Parunagian, of Portland, represented the Near East Relief work to the Arago congregation last Sunday night. Mr. Parunagian is a natural orator. He speaks a slightly broken English but his intense feeling for the unfortunates of the Near East is certainly contagious. As a result of his appeal the congregation pledged about $200 to the Near East.

There were 101 present at Sunday School last Sunday.

The following seniors will attend the conference with Dr. Jewell at Coquille today: Irene Schroeder, Irma Schroeder, Opal Robison and Harvey Meyers.

The Student Body voted to require sixteen full quarters in basketball to entitle the player to a block letter.

The Myrtle Point band gave a concert in the Arago Hall last Wednesday. On account of the weather and the unfitness of the hall for such weather, many who would liked to have heard the band failed to come out. Those who went report an excellent program.

High water has been treatening all the week. No serious difficulty has been present so far.

Did you hear the last bull-dog's bark? Be sure and see it anyway. It's a good one.

The following pupils stood 90 or above for the first semester: Georgia Deardorf, 91.6; Opal Robison, 90.5; Irene Schroeder, 92.25; Edna Halter, 91; Houston Robison, 91.5.

The Lakeside game was postponed on account of scarlet fever in Lakeside.

The wood-working class have just finished several sets of tea-tables and chairs to match for small children. These sets are very cute and very substantial. A table and two chairs for the price of a table. Better see them.

The parts for the community play were given out this week. Watch for this big show. It's a scream. A thousand laughs in a car load. A play you would walk a mile to hear.

Watch for the Junior class play. The Juniors had three additions to their number at the close of last semester, viz.: Clarence Mullins, Pearl Meyers, and Edna Halter. This class feels like plurality vote just now.

The Arago musicians will sing at the Myrtle Union next Sunday at Marshfield.

If you want a Sunday Journal speak to Rural Griffin.

The Myrtle Point-Arago practice game last Saturday resulted in a 30-27 score in favor of Arago.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Sumerlin and girls spent Saturday evening and Sunday at Webb Carlson's home.

The water in the North and East forks has been just right for logs to run and many have gone down.

The Myrtle Point concert band will give a concert in the community hall Thursday evening, February 7th. Everybody remember the date and be sure and come. A part of the proceeds will go to the Woman's Club. These ladies are fitting out the hall with dishes and silverware and many other things added as they are able.

Mrs. Stevens spent Tuesday night with her daughter, Mrs. T. A. Hall.

Mrs. Tom Hall and children drove to Coquille and heard the operetta put on by the High School chorus.

Students at O. S. C.

Marietta Hufford, of Coquille, is a member of a committe in charge of sale of tickets for the Y. W. C. A. waffle breakfast February 2 at the Oregon State Agricultural College. The waffle breakfast is given primarily to raise money for the general budget of the association and also to take this means to get into contact with the students because the student body enjoy it. More than 600 persons usually attend the breakfast.

Austin Dodge, of Myrtle Point, sophomore in engineering, has been initiated into the Beaver Knight chapter of Intercollegiate Knights an under-classmen's honorary service organization.

This organization acts as a "pep and tradition" committee for the college. Its object is to instruct the freshmen in songs, yells, and traditions of the college, to receive and entertain visiting teams, to help with campus traffic, and to function at all college events such as athletic contests and convocatons.

Shot for a Cougar

The following item from the Cottage Grove Sentinel concerns a young man who spent some time here while S. L. Godard was building the Smith Wood-Products plant. He made many friends here who were shocked to hear of his death so soon after he left here:

Erwin Small, 20, is dead as the result of a hunting accident Saturday afternoon near London, south of Cottage Grove, in which his friend, Claude Shortridge, 19, mistook him for a cougar and shot him through the left shoulder, Small dying a few minutes after being hit.

Shortridge, in his report to the authorities, said the two had sighted a cougar and separated to try for another sight of the animal. Each was to take a different direction. Apparently Small failed to go in the direction designated and Shortridge, seeing the bushes move about 40 yards away and believing it to be the animal he was tracking, fired. Small called out and the other youth ran to him and caught him. Murmuring a few words, Small died in his companion's arms.

Amateur Boxing in Portland

The Pacific Coast A. A. U. boxing championships will be held in Portland Monday and Tuesday nights, February 25 and 26, under auspices of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. The two nights' fistic classic will be staged in the Portland Armory. James J. Richardson, manager of the club, expects at least 60 entries from eleven western states which make up the five amateur districts comprising Pacific Coast territory.
