

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LAST FRIDAY

continues to shine. Our great need is to be awake spiritually to the unreality of all sense-testimony with its lying limitations, and cheerfully, confidently fix our gaze on spiritual reality, which is ever-present, unchangeable, unlimited good, and to which sin, disease, sorrow, poverty, failure, discouragement, disaster, and death are unknown.

THE TRUE PATH

Although Christian Scientists have no personal devil, we admit that the universal belief in evil, termed by Mrs. Eddy mortal mind or animal magnetism, amounts to the same thing as a personal devil until its mask is removed by individual spiritual enlightenment and its fraudulent claims are exposed, denounced, and destroyed. If, however, evil could come to the inquirer in the form of a personal devil and tell him to put off or not to take up the study of Christian Science; or, if it could tell the student of Christian Science to neglect his daily study and meditation and to ignore the By-laws in the Manual of The Mother Church; or, if it could tell him to become lax in his loyalty to our beloved Cause and remiss in his reverence for Mrs. Eddy, —if it could come and talk to him in this manner, both inquirer and student would, under the guidance of Truth, be alert enough to do the very opposite of the devil's bidding. But because evil always works suggestively, depending upon persons to carry out its devices by way of silent arguments that appear to be reasonable and sound, we sometimes find ourselves accepting these evil suggestions as impulses or our own thought-processes. Then some students wonder why they are not progressing spiritually, why they are out of step with The Mother Church, and why their treatments or prayers do not heal as quickly and as uniformly as they should. Now that we have an inkling of what has been at work, let us strive more diligently to handle—that is, overcome and get rid of—the adversary instead of being handled by it.

Furthermore, to beginners who would have their feet planted firmly in the true path of Christian Science, let me say there are at your disposal church services on Sundays, and on Wednesday, evenings testimonial meetings where you may go and hear those who have been healed by Christian Science tell about it. There are Christian Science Sunday Schools where children who are accepted as pupils are taught how to utilize this glorious, demonstrable understanding of God. There are free Christian Science Reading Rooms where the authorized literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased. There is in the back of The Christian Science Journal a list of authorized practitioners who, when called upon, are prepared to help those who appear to be unable to help themselves.

Finally, let it be understood clearly that there is only one Christian Science and that is the Christian Science revealed by God to His loving, watchful, obedient servant, Mary Baker Eddy. God selected Mrs. Eddy to be His messenger and scribe to this and future ages because she was wholly worthy and capable of carrying out the divine commission. It is as necessary for him who would succeed as a Christian Scientist to keep this fact clearly before him and gratefully to acknowledge it, as it is for the mariner to refer constantly to his charts and compass and obey them in order to steer his ship safely past the rocks and shoals along the way. Owing to this saintly woman's discovery, the world is witnessing in accordance with prophecy the establishments as a permanent, scientific, demonstrable system of that healing method by which the patriarchs, prophets, and apostles performed their mighty works, and which the Bible, studied in the light of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," now makes available to all mankind.

CONCLUSION

Obviously, in a brief period like this, one can do little more than touch upon the inexhaustible subject of Christian Science. Nevertheless, in the hour at my disposal, I have endeavored to show, first, that the teachings of Mrs. Eddy are in full, uncompromising accord with the spiritual teachings of the Bible; second, that spiritual healing is inseparable from Biblical Christianity, than which there is no other in fact; third, that it is unquestionably both the right and the duty of Christians in this and future ages not only to preach the Gospel, but to practice Christian healing.

Writing on page 126 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy says: "I have set forth Christian Science and its application to the treatment of disease just as I have discovered them. I have demonstrated through Mind the effects of Truth on the health, longevity, and morals of men; and I have found nothing in ancient or in modern systems on which to found my own, except the teachings and demonstrations of our great Master and the lives of prophets and apostles. The Bible has been my only authority."

20 Million Trout Planted

During the past fiscal year a total of 20,345,278 trout were liberated in the streams of Oregon by the hatchery department of the Oregon State Game Commission. This number included rainbows, steelhead, Eastern Brooks, cutthroats, silversides and graylings. Practically all of these fish were six inches or more in length. The largest number, 3,857,310 went to Klamath county, but each county had streams that were planted. The smallest number, 21,320 went to Multnomah county.

The State Game Commission has adopted the policy of raising trout to a length of six inches or more before they are liberated. This insures a much lower mortality than was shown when much smaller fry were liberated. A six inch trout, liberated early in the year will make a substantial growth before the season opens for angling. Antelope are increasing rapidly in Oregon according to the State Game Commission. A state refuge for these fleet of foot little animals was established in Harney and Lake counties in 1925. Within this preserve there are now approximately 20,000 antelope. Bands of them now wander outside the preserve in localities where they have not been seen for 20 years. As the herd increases the scattering bands will move farther away in search of food. It is unlawful to kill antelope at any season of the year.

The Anti-Narcotic Campaign

The following is a letter from the secretary of the Anti-Narcotic Association headquarters in Portland, and tells of the crusade being waged on this coast to stamp out the sale and use of narcotics:

"Another important milestone has been passed in the fight against narcotic drugs on this coast. Out of the small beginning of the work here in Oregon there has grown a large effective organization, which will henceforth function in the eight Pacific Slope states.

"It was our earnest ambition from the beginning to enlist all the states on this coast in a united campaign against a common foe, which has been accomplished. We are now negotiating with British Columbia and Mexico, to join us in this crusade and are confident that they will become a vital part of this movement. The Governors of the eight states have pledged their co-operation. The movement has the strong endorsement of large commercial bodies, as well as many clubs and other organizations, and can, with proper support, wage an effective fight against the narcotic evil."
