Constance Talmage in

"Venus"

She Lived to Dare! No escapade was too risqué for this royal beauty who lived but to laugh, play and be merry. A brilliant drama sparkling with the escapade and frivolities of idle nobility and emblazoned with a modern Du Barry's regeneration. Thrills, laughs, and heart throbs surge through this dynamic tale of a belle who risked all to repair a great wrong.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. F. W. Martin and Mrs. J. M. Rivenes delightfully entertained the Missionary Society of the Pioneer Church Thursday afternoon at the lovely new home of Mrs. Martin on Knowlton Ave. The program opened with singing and Mrs. Alex Peterson read a descriptive scriptural lesson on the Beatitudes. Mrs. S. D. Walters led in prayer. The lesson topic was presented in the form of questions and answers, Mrs. C. W. Gano and Mrs. A. T. Morrison asking the questions and Mrs. R. E. Boober giving the answers, which gave a very comprehensive idea of how the upward of two million dollars raised for missions by the women of the Methodist Church South since the woman's mission board came into existence fifty-one years ago, has been spent and the wonderful work accomplished. The money has been raised in small amounts by the missionary societies of the various churches with the exception of a few large gifts.

After the lesson little Miss Phyllis Mae Johnson consented to sing a special, which ended by her singing a half dozen or more songs, very much to the delight of all present. Mrs. A. Petersen and Mrs. M. Radcliff received first and second prizes respectively for guessing correctly the most names of the Old Testament prophets in a prepared list. Later the hostesses served ice cream and cake with coffee to the following: Mesdames C. T. Skeels, R. E. Boober, Henry Ellis, H. D. Walters, J. A. Hoodysell, W. E. Thompson, Alexander Petersen, B. C. Minard, Anna Griner, Lyman Carrier, C. Vernon Smith, B. B. Rogers, Julius Ruble, A. T. Morrison, E. Purvance, Walter Oeding, E. A. Johnson, Wade Arstall, C. W. Gano, J. Pyburn, Mrs. Martin Radcliff, of Portland; Miss Jennie Olson, of North Bend; and the hostesses, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Rivenes.

Mrs. F. C. Hudson invited a few guests in Wednesday for an evening of Bridge in compliment to Mrs. A. W. Chapin Sr., who is here from Portland visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Harold A. Gould, and other friends. Mrs. Ashton held high score for the evening play. Those invited were Mesdames A. W. Chapin, C. A. Baer, R. B. Miller, J. E. Paulson, Chas. Ashton, Jennie Price, Harry Oeding, E. L. Vinton and Harold A. Gould.

The Y. M. W. club members enjoyed the afternoon on Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. Paul Brinkley. The ladies sewed, making the afternoon very pleasant. The members are Mesdames Henry Tiedeman, William Nelson, Alton Dungey, Sheldon Von Pegert, Everett Overton, Kirk Shelley and Ivan Gregory.

Mrs. George W. Taylor Jr. was hostess at luncheon at one o'clock Monday to the Study Club members at her attractive new home on Coulter street. Those attending were Mesdames C. A. Rietman, Hale B. Eubanks, George Chaney, Iris Elrod, C. W. Kline and C. D. Walker.

Yesterday afternoon the "Needle Workers" club were delightfully entertained for luncheon at the home of Mrs. E. A. Wimer on South Henry street. The hours following were pleasantly spent in sewing and fancy work. Mrs. Schram, after not attending the club for the past year, was welcomed back by the members. She will also entertain in a fortnight. Those being present were Mesdames Maggie Simmons, Frank Schram, George Gilman, Lee Hand, Fred Hickok, Frank Pook, Ray Simpson, Josh Ruble, John Belloni and from Marshfield were Mrs. Cecil Elwood, Mrs. Frank Osmond and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Osmond.

Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Drake were hosts to their two-table Bridge club members at their home on Grand View Terrace Thursday evening. The members are Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ruble.

Mrs. C. A. Baer invited in a few of Mrs. A. W. Chapin's former neighbors Monday evening and also to meet Mr. Baer's mother, Mrs. I. E. Baer, of Marshfield, who has been visiting here at the Baer home since the holidays. Bridge was played. Those included beside the two honored ladies, Mrs. Baer and Mrs. Chapin, were Mrs. Charles Ashton, Mrs. F. C. Hudson, Mrs. Jennie Price, Mrs. R. B. Miller and Mrs. J. E. Paulson.

A Birthday Surprise Party

Mrs. H. E. Porton was surprised by a number of her friends at her home on Spurgeon hill last Saturday night who brought the eats along to help celebrate her birthday. But they waited until after she had retired before making their appearance. That they did not take her out into the snow is one thing she has been thankful for since. Five hundred was the evening's diversion. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Jack Arnold, Ray Simpson, Lee Mandlin, N. Daniels, Clem Smith, Melvin Kern, Drew Cunningham, H. E. Porter, Mrs.

OREGON OBSERVES THRIFT WEEK

National Thrift Week is again being observed, and the Oregon committee, headed by W. O. Munsell of Portland, has organized activities in many cities and towns of the state and is distributing much literature and presenting the ten-point code of life by speakers and in various other ways. In this state it is sponsored by the Oregon Bankers' Association and the Y. M. C. A., co-operating with numerous other organizations.

The week starts January 17, the anniversary of Benjamin Franklin, greatest apostle of thrift. The ten-point code consists of these features: Work and earn, Make a budget, Record expenditures, Have a bank account, Carry life insurance, Own your home, Make a will, Invest in safe securities, Pay bills promptly, Share with others. January 17 is Thrift day; 18, budget day; 19, share-with-others; 20, make a will; 21, own your home; 22, life insurance; 23, safe investments.

Governor Norblad Proclaims Thrift

Governor A. W. Norblad has officially proclaimed January 17-23 Thrift Week, and in issuing his proclamation made the following statement.

Governor Norblad

Thrift is a habit which can be acquired only by consistent practice. It not only guarantees economic security for those who follow it, but also promotes an increased sense of responsibility and self respect. It includes far more than the mere hoarding of money. It means the wise and constructive use of all possessions, both public and private, to the end that by present self-control and intelligent foresight, the largest and most desirable returns may be insured for the future. It is a boon to the individual and an asset to the state and nation.

The governor urges the schools, churches and other civic and educational agencies to "give thought and attention to the importance of the wise husbandry of personal possessions and the careful conservation of public resources."

Thrift Age-Old Story

By L. Barnum, President Oregon Bankers Association
The question of Thrift is but the age-old story, retold and given new impetus by Benjamin Franklin. The habit of production of wealth is inherent to all of us. The message Thrift bears is that more thought should be given to the employment and sound investment of all the forms of wealth our personal and national industry produce.

L. Barnum

Mr. Barnum is head of one of the great organizations promoting Thrift week throughout Oregon, simultaneously with its observance all over the United States.

W. George Escapes Conviction

A second jury disagreed last Friday as to the guilt of Wayne George, charged by prohibition officers with possession and operation of a still. George was arrested and indicted the fore part of last year and tried at the June term of court, at which time the jury failed to convict.

Officers E. E. Oakes and C. W. Hunt, after a long trip through the brush and over the hills from Lakeside, arrested George, as he was the only one approaching the still during their watching, but not all of the jury believed their testimony!

At the conclusion of the trial Friday, District Attorney Coleman moved that the case be dismissed.

Quotes Micawber on Thrift

By Robert W. Sawyer, member Oregon State Highway Commission
I think the last word on Thrift was said by Mr. Micawber some years ago.

Robert W. Sawyer

You will remember his words as reported by David Copperfield: "Mr. Micawber... solemnly conjured me, to observe that if a man had twenty pounds a year for his income, and spent nineteen pounds, nineteen shillings and sixpence, he would be happy, but that, if he spent twenty pounds one, he would be miserable."

Thrift Principles Given

The cardinal principles of thrift are as follows: Work and earn, Make a budget, Record expenditures, Have a bank account, Carry life insurance, Own your home, Make a will, Invest in safe securities, Pay bills promptly, Share with others.

The Oregon committee consists of Mr. Munsell as chairman; C. N. Wonnacott, vice-chairman; T. P. Cramer, publicity; H. L. Markell, secretary; Walter H. Brown, treasurer; Committee chairman: Banks, C. C. Colt; Make a will, R. M. Altom; schools, C. A. Rice; Library, Anne M. Mulhern; Women's clubs, Miss Grace Bridges; Parent-Teacher groups, Mrs. William Fehrenbacher; State federation of women's clubs, Mrs. G. J. Frankel; Share with others, Dr. E. C. Farnham; Speakers and meetings, George P. Simons; Pay bills promptly, John Keeler; Life insurance, L. F. Rice; Invest in safe securities, Willis K. Clark; Own your home, W. H. Rose; Budget, Fred G. Willis; Radio, W. S. Kirkpatrick.

Grant 5 Dance Hall Licenses

The Coos county court, with Judge Thompson and Commissioner Hagg present, granted five dance hall licenses last Monday, contingent on satisfactory bonds being filed.

Heretofore surety bonds have been accepted, but the court now requires that the law be followed to the letter and only personal bonds are in order. Those granted were to:

Dew Valley Community Club at Two Mile, below Bandon.
C. S. Murphy, at Bridge.
Geo. W. Cox, Highway Pavilion, four miles below Bandon.

North Bayside Grange, at Glasgow.
J. W. Flanagan at Coaledo.
The court also awarded publication of the 1924 junk list to the Western World of Bandon at the legal rate of five cents per line each insertion.

The Oregon Farmer, one of the best agricultural papers in the northwest, can be secured in conjunction with The Sentinel for 25 cents. $2.25 for the two for one year.

Sale of sales starts Saturday. Elrod's Men's Wear.
