Cafeteria at High School Doing Splendid Work

Few people, except those connected with the schools, realize the extent to which the cafeteria of the Coquille high school is serving the students of both the high school and Lincoln building.

Throughout the winter months for the last three years the high school cafeteria under the management of Miss Helen Roseman, head of the Home Economics Department, has served hot lunches to all students desiring this service. Every day two hot dishes are offered together with salad, a desert, and milk. Each dish is offered at the flat rate of five cents and all students may take as many or as few dishes as they wish. One of the class rooms next to the cafeteria is used as a lunch room. The number of students served varies from one hundred and ten to one hundred and fifty per day.

This service allows for all students who do not go home for lunch to take a complete meal with the cafeteria, or to bring their own sandwiches, and purchase a bowl of soup, a hot vegetable or some other hot dish.

This service to the students is at no cost to the district except for fuel used in preparing the food. Furthermore, preparation of food for cafeteria use is not done at the expense of classroom work. Three or four high school girls are hired at the rate of forty cents an hour. These girls work from one to two hours a day in preparing the food, peeling vegetables, cooking, serving and washing dishes following each meal. Thus several girls are given employment at a very substantial rate of pay.

The cafeteria not only costs the district nothing for operation but actually clears enough to purchase all food supplies needed in the laboratory work in all four of the Home Economics classes. Receipts for the month of January totaled $195.64 which is an average of nearly $10 a day taken in on five-cent dishes. This shows a purchase of around 200 dishes per day on an average, by students of high school and the Lincoln building. Of the $195.64, $193.46 was expended for food and help. The amount spent for help during the month of January was $36.31, while $157.15 was expended for food. A profit of $2.18 for the month of January was realized and this money will be placed in the fund for purchasing additional cafeteria supplies and laboratory equipment.

The menu for every week is posted so that the students know what is to be served each day. A typical menu, that was served for the week of February tenth to fifteenth, is as follows:

Monday—Spanish Rice, Clam Chowder, Fruit Salad, Walnut Maple Custard.

Tuesday—Vegetable Soup, Scalloped Salmon, Waldorf Salad, Chocolate Cream Pie.

Wednesday—Baked Beans, Cream of Tomato Soup, Combination Vegetable Salad, Fruit Jello.

Thursday—Potatoes au Gratin, Pineapple and Banana Salad, Pudding Supreme (whipped Jello).

Friday—A special Valentine luncheon shall be served, the cost not to exceed twenty cents per plate. Chicken a la King, Perfection Salad, Five Threes—Frozen Dessert and Valentine cakes.

Miss Helen Roseman, head of the department, deserves great credit for the work she has done in the cafeteria and for putting it on a paying basis and giving the excellent service which has been maintained for the past three years for the students of the two buildings at the north end of town. This work is but an example of the many things which are being done lately in our schools by the teachers, but which very few people outside of school know and which is taken for granted by those who are acquainted with conditions, the work going along daily unmentioned and unsung.

Rogue River Bridge Starts Soon

Construction of the Rogue River bridge will start about March 1, according to information received here from the contractors, Mercer & Frazer of Eureka, says the Gold Beach Reporter.

It is said the company plans to move its equipment here late this month and to have all arrangements made for materials so that work may be started without delay.

Rights-of-way for the bridge approaches have not yet been obtained by the state. There appears to be a disagreement between the state highway department and the owners of the property relative to prices to be paid for the land. If an amicable adjustment cannot be made as to price, the state will bring condemnation proceedings in court.

Any suits involving the rights-of-way will not retard the construction of the bridge, it is said.

The Macleay Estate Company owns the land required for the right-of-way at Wedderburn approach, while F. S. Moore, Charley Wilson and the Macleay Estate Company own property at the south approach through which the right-of-way will extend.

More interest is being shown all the time by the number of people attending our meetings. Our questions are proving to be very practical and are solving many problems along the garden lines. Why not bring your garden mysteries and present them to the club. They will always be answered for you.

We are planning an extra meeting which will be announced in another part of this paper. Mr. Ira Gabelson, of Portland, who has one of the largest rock gardens in the state and in all probability on the Pacific coast, will give us a lecture with colored slides, at the Community Hall Wednesday evening, February 26, at 8 o'clock. There will be no charges. Please notice the other item and plan to attend; because the slides are very educational as well as very interesting. They are all tinted for your benefit.

New Kinds of Iris Proving Popular.

It seems that the interest in iris is growing every year. More and more amateurs are learning of the wonderful effects to be had in gardens where iris are especially featured. The almost unparalleled growth of the American Iris society in the few years since it was started shows how great the interest is.

If you have ever visited one of the large iris shows and seen the remarkable quality of the flowers displayed you have realized that the average iris display as found in most gardens is very ordinary in comparison with what might be if the owners would become familiar with the better things. During the past 15 years there have been many fine varieties introduced. Compared to the old varieties they are such a great improvement that once you see them you will want to throw away the old ones and plant your garden entirely to the new.

And that is what a great many are doing, not only amateurs, but many growers. They are discarding entirely great blocks of the old varieties and starting to propagate the new. They realize, of course, that as soon as the public learns of the new they will not purchase the old ones. With flowers as with everything else, the American public wants the best and is willing to pay for it.

During this week I will discuss various phases of gardening in relation to iris. They are among the most important of all hardy flowers, and we should know more about them.—Romaine B. Ware.

Girl Reserve Notes

On Wednesday eleven eighth grade Girl Reserves met at Mrs. Covall's residence for a constructive meeting.

Miss Aagot Hoyendahl, county nurse, showed the girls the care of a baby, its bathing and dressing.

After the demonstration, the meeting was called to order by the president, Anne Barton. The minutes of the past two meetings were read by the secretary, Beryl Unsöld.

The president announced that the girl should bring their food for the food sale to which all the G. R. groups are contributing, to Lois Harris residence on Saturday, February 22, at 10 o'clock. The high school group will furnish two salesgirls who will sell the food at the veneer plant and the food that is left will be sold at the Thrift store.

Mrs. J. E. Norton was at the meeting as a visitor.

The next meeting will be a social one, on Wednesday, February 22—Edythe Farr, G. R. Reporter

The Sixth and Seventh grade group of the Girls Reserve met at the residence of their leader, Mrs. Ralph Harry, Wednesday. Beside the routine business it was decided to participate in the cooked food sale at the Smith plant Saturday.

County School Superintendent Mulkey attended the meeting and gave the girls a talk on savings. She recommended the practice in vogue in schools around Coos Bay, that of collecting the small savings of a group each week, placing them in the savings department of a bank, all in one account, and keeping a record of the amount each girl contributes weekly. This way of handling small savings has been successful wherever tried.

The next meeting will be a social affair at the residence of Mrs. Emily Hersey, on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 26.
