Gun Club Won Four Sunday

The presence of a dozen members of the North Bend Gun Club, which was one of the Coquille Rod & Gun Club opponents in the telegraphic shoot last Sunday, and the fact that Fred McNelly has returned to the firing line, seemed to spur the local sportsmen on to victory and they won all four contests that day, losing only the shoot-off of a tie with Corvallis which was carried over from the week previous. Coquille made a 74 record; Corvallis 75; North Bend, with Denny Hull the only one going straight, dropped to 71; and the other three were below that.

Next Sunday the Coquille club competes with Collins Park, Bend, Douglas county club and Halsey, most of which stand higher in percentages than does the local club. But John Miller is expected also to be out Sunday, and there is a good prospect that Coquille will again be living up to the record which made it the most feared gun club in the state in years past.

Following were the scores made last Sunday for both veterans and rookies, in their first trip of the day to the firing line:

G. E. Low 25, E. D. Graham 24, F. C. McNelly 25, Pete Miller 23, A. B. Collier 22, F. C. Hudson 19, Ira Johnson 22, Geo. Lorenz 19, Alton Grimes 19, Dan Brown 22, Geo. Bryant 22, J. A. Berg 16, R. B. Miller 22, C. A. Baer 22, Hagedorn 23, Ray Jeub 20, M. J. Hartson 19, Fred Hickok 18, C. A. Rietman 14, Muri Pettit, 12, Ivan Laird 16, S. E. Archibald 18.

O. S. C. Band Pleases

The Oregon State College band was greeted with a very good house at the Community Building Tuesday evening, one of the best they had had on their annual spring tour which was the twenty-fifth for the organization.

They presented a varied program which was entertaining and greatly enjoyed by all the lovers of music.

Two of the features, the trumpet solos by Raymond Cooney and the tenor solos by Theodore Gilbert were especially pleasing and gave proof of the careful training the students in music receive at the college.

Another interesting feature was the motion picture of campus life and the lecture by Dr. D. V. Poling on college activities.

The dance, with music furnished by the band orchestra, was largely attended and the young folks enjoyed the opportunity to step to its dulcet strains.

SOCIAL NOTES

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Fred Hickok was a luncheon hostess to the members of the "Needle Workers" club. A profusion of spring flowers were lovely in the room. Those who attended were Mesdames George Gilman, Ed Detlefsen, John Belloni, Frank Pook, Maggie Simmons, Jack Arnold, Lee Hand, Josh Rubie, E. A. Wimer and Mrs. Cecil Elwood and Mrs. Frank Osmond, of Marshfield. Mrs. Elwood invited the ladies to meet at her home in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thrift were hosts on Monday evening to their Bridge club at their home on the Myrtle Point highway. Bouquets of wild flowers were attractively used for decorations. Honors for the evening play went to Mr. and Mrs. Zosel. Those enjoying the evening were Messrs. and Mesdames George Johnson, William A. Zosel, George McGuire, Harlan Buckingham, Mrs. Tracy Leach and Mrs. R. C. Schott.

Mrs. John Oerding last Friday entertained in honor of her small daughter, Marjorie Helen's second birthday with a delightful little party. The children played games and were then seated at a table holding a birthday cake with two lit candles. Those enjoying the party were Geraldine Oerding, Phyllis Mae Johnson, Marjorie Jane Oerding, Shirley Slater, Virginia Oerding and Marjorie Helen last Sunday.

Knife Hospital Notes

Operations at the hospital by Dr. Jas. Richmond the past week were as follows:

Mrs. Harold Porter, a major operation on Monday.
"Penny" Sturdivant, operation for appendicitis, Monday.
Leonard Sell, appendicitis, Tuesday.
Lois Morrison, appendicitis, Tuesday.

Mrs. Elvin Humphrey, appendicitis, Wednesday.
Mrs. Leslie Jensen, of Norway, major operation yesterday.

An 8½ pound girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Wilson, of Powers, yesterday morning.
The dismissals were Lealie Schroeder and Mrs. William Jones

Handsome Booklet Issued

One of the handsomest, neatest and most attractive pamphlets issued in Oregon in years is that just being sent out by the State Chamber of Commerce.

Each county in the state is given a page. At the top is an outline of the state, the position of the county being outlined, and the balance of the picture showing the principal crops of that county. The bottom of the page is devoted to a listing of the county's attractions and products.

It will be an effective piece of publicity and the Coquille Chamber will later have copies for distribution.

Candidates Who Have Filed

Very few candidates seeking nomination at the primary election in May have yet filed their petitions with the county clerk. The list who have already filed is as follows:

Jess D. Clinton, of Myrtle Point, republican, for county commissioner.
H. E. Hess, of Coquille, republican, for sheriff.

Frank B. Osmond, of Marshfield, republican, for sheriff.

Jas. T. Jenkins, of Bandon, democrat, for county commissioner.

J. J. Stanley, of Coquille, democrat, for Justice of the Peace.
