Replies to Lions Club Letters

Several replies have been received by Dwight L. Hackett, chairman of the Lions Club educational committee, to letters sent out last week to eighth grade graduates of this part of the county, urging them to continue their education by attending some high school this winter.

All of the replies received to date state that the boy or girl is planning to attend school this fall. One characteristic letter said, "I am planning not only on starting high school this fall, but on staying in school until I graduate."

LOGGERS TOO FAST FOR WILY NIPPONESE

Last Sunday the local prides met the All-Star Japanese ball club from Portland on the local diamond, before a large and enthusiastic crowd, and when the dust had cleared away, the score board showed the Loggers had again proved their supremacy by a score of 9 to 1. However, the game had more thrills than the one-sided score shows. Okuda, for the Japs, showed our boys some very fancy pitching, sending nine of the heavy strikers to the bench via the strike-out route. The visitors' only tally came in the seventh on a long home run drive by Yoshida.

Gilbert was in fine form and struck out 11 of the enemy in eight innings and allowed but four hits. Papa Fortier evidently visited the fountain of youth last week and essayed to pitch the ninth inning, and after walking the first batter, the second hit into a double play and the third lined-out to Stewart, ending the game, and gave Bill a no-hit-no-run inning.

Ray Woodyard seems to be trying to be the Babe Ruth of the club. In the second he hit a long home run to right with the bases full. Nice work, Ray, we are for you. Herb Cox also duplicated in the seventh, with two on, and played his usual sparkling game at third.

Jug Lorenz, our recruit outfielder, looks very good and played a fine game in centerfield, pulling down two hard drives and contributed one hit.

The boys played errorless ball and looked like the champions they are.

District Meeting of Rebekahs
The twentieth annual district convention of the Rebekah lodge met in North Bend last Tuesday, August 19. Five lodges of the district were represented. The afternoon session was very profitably spent in having instructions from Miss Leona Thiel, state president of Rebekah Assembly. Address of welcome by Miss Neva McLaren made us all feel so welcome that we should like to come often. The response given by Mrs. Inez R. Chase, of Coquille, was heartily endorsed by everyone.

A banquet was served at the Grange hall in Glasgow at 6:00 p. m., which was attended by 75 Rebekahs. At eight o'clock the regular lodge session opened and a degree team from Western Star lodge, Marshfield, exemplified the degree work in a very creditable manner. Coquille was chosen as the place of the next convention for 1931.

Officers were chosen as follows:
Chairman, — Clara Bosserman, Mamie lodge, Coquille.
Vice Chairman—Elsie Hall, Western Star lodge, Marshfield.
