The Junior play, "I Will! I Won't!," was enjoyed Wednesday evening by a large audience and the players were highly commended for their acting. Ray Barklow as Doctor Willis in the leading part was a scream, the part being absolutely opposite to his disposition and character. The dual roll was played by Lois Schroeder who is actress enough to change from a sweet to a sour disposition in a minute. Laura Milani as Lynn Patton, a college co-ed with plenty of pep, was splendid. LaVaun Aasen, as George the colored maid, supplied plenty of comedy and played the part well. Shelby McAllister, as Carney Underwood, a ne'er do well young scamp, was splendid in that particular part. Leona Paul, as a saucy co-ed, did exceedingly well. And Ruth Keltner balanced up the play with the dignified part of Dean Willis. Ernest Ferrari with his accordion gave several beautiful selections between acts. Rural Griffin also helped out with his uke and harmonica combination during the intermissions, which was much appreciated.

The "Bull Dog's Bark" have elected a new staff for the coming semester: editor-in-chief, Leona Paul; news reporters, Laura Milani and Ernie Milani; sport reporters, Lois Schroeder and Rural Griffin; literary editor, Clara Delsman; business manager, LaVaun Aasen; typist, Walter Moore, and mimeograph operator, Milo Griffin.

A ten-pound girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen, of Norway, January 21. Both mother and baby are doing nicely. Mr. Jensen was a resident of Arago for many years.

The basket ball fans of Arago community got their money's worth Friday evening when they witnessed three games on the local floor. The Riverton high school girls and the Arago girls played first. The game was fast enough as girls' games go to be interesting, the score being 6 to 7 at the half. The game ended in a score of 10 to 25 in favor of Riverton. The Riverton girls have only been defeated once in several years.

The Riverton Cagers and the "Bull Dogs" played the next game, which proved to be one of the best games the fans had witnessed in some time. The Bull Dogs took the lead of 12 to 4 at the half. In the second half the Cagers scored five field baskets and the Bull Dogs five baskets and one converted foul shot, making the final score 22 to 17 in favor of Arago. The hour was late but most of the crowd remained to see the independent game between Riverton and Arago. Arago had the lead throughout the game and it ended with a score of 44 to 28. The Arago line-up was mostly the original team which won the tournament six years ago under Coach F. F. Cooper. They are, Wendell Robison, Everett Lafferty, Arthur Farrier and Wiley Cornwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane, of Myrtle Point, visited a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Halter.

The potluck supper of the Arago community church was well attended Thursday evening. A number of outside visitors were present and enjoyed the evening with us. Dean Parsons, of the University of Oregon, was present and gave a very interesting talk on community development. John Carl was appointed chairman of the executive committee and this committee will meet some time in the near future and appoint committees for the next supper to be held the third Wednesday in April.

Glenda Jean Little and Darwin Gulstrom are confined at home with the chicken-pox this week.

Miss Opal Robison, of Glide, Oregon, and Houston Robison, of Ashland, returned to their respective schools on Sunday, having spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Robison.

Mrs. Jesse Robison returned home Saturday from the Knife hospital, where she underwent a major operation two weeks ago. She is recovering satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Doyle, of Eugene, returned home Thursday, having spent two weeks here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Doyle.

The Bandon Independents met the Arago Independents at Arago Monday evening. Arago took a lead of 14 to 1 in the first quarter. Bandon tried too many long shots and could not make them. In the second half they changed their form of play and tied the score with four minutes to play. Arago called time out and slipped in two field baskets and won the game by a score of 33 to 29. Rural Griffin refereed the game.

The Arago second team will meet the Bridge team up there on Saturday evening.

Sixteen dairymen attended the herd improvement meeting held at Arago Tuesday afternoon by Roger Morse, dairy extension specialist of O. A. C., and County Agent George Jenkins. Mr. Morse demonstrated the new herdscope and gave a talk on herd improvement, all of which was very interesting to dairymen.

Hague Law Academy

The Hague academy of international law has proved to be a great success. Last year 379 students of international law, representing 35 nationalities, among whom were 21 Americans, attended the course. The greater part of them are university men now in the diplomatic or consular service, and this year the number is expected to be larger. Twelve countries are supporting, financially and otherwise, the academy, which was founded with the collaboration of the Carnegie endowment for international peace. The Dutch government has created 5 scholarships of 400 guilders each for foreigners desiring to attend the courses.—Chicago News.

Old Roman Farmhouse

A great Roman farm establishment, the rural villa of a colonial gentleman of the Third century, is being unearthed and explored near Cologne by the Wallraf-Richartz museum. The principal building had a length of more than fifty yards and contained thirty rooms. An outstanding feature is the bath establishment, patterned after the luxurious baths of Rome, with elaborate water supply and drainage systems. There is no evidence that the place was abandoned because of a fire; apparently the owner simply decided to move away to a safer place when the barbarian tribes beyond the Rhine became too restless about the end of the Fourth century.

Brewster Valley

Mrs. Perley Crowley entertained a number of her friends on Thursday with a quilting bee. Those present were: Mesdames Prohaska, Walter Laird, J. H. Laird, E. Wilson, C. M. Wilson, B. Taylor, M. Jones, L. Laird, W. A. Nickason, C. Nickason, L. Mayee, E. Krewson, D. Crowley, A. Christensen, O. M. Durrell, E. Alford and Miss Dorris Durrell.

On Wednesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nickason was the scene of a pleasant social gathering of Brewster Valley singers.

Miss Iris Clinton, one of Gravel Ford's well known ladies and a popular member of the young set, and Jesse Laird, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laird of Brewster Valley, stole a march on their friends Saturday evening and were married by Judge Thompson at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Robt. Dutton, of Coquille. They are now at the home of Walter Laird, after which they will return to Gravel Ford where they have rented a ranch. Both young people are well known here and their friends wish them much happiness.

Leslie Groat with his little son visited at the Pinkston hospital on Sunday. Mrs. Groat is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Aiford visited at the Brant Taylor home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson are spending a few days in Portland.

Mrs. David Crowley is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Sutton, of Port Orford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Laird enjoyed a week-end visit with their son, Binger Laird, wife and family, of Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cordray with Mr. and Mrs. Moller were Sunday dinner guests, at the J. D. Laird home.

A miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Laird at the community hall on Sunday night. They received many practical and useful gifts.

Alva Brown for more than 30 years a resident of McKinley, passed away on Monday at twelve o'clock. Funeral services were held at the family home at one o'clock Wednesday. Interment was in Dora cemetery.
