Next Week at the Liberty

Will Rogers, internationally famous comedian and humorist, will appear at the Liberty Theatre for three days, starting Sunday, in defense of the American "Babbitt." His newest starring vehicle is "Business and Pleasure," adapted from the best selling novel, "The Plutocrat," by Booth Tarkington, written as an answer to writers of the Sinclair Lewis school who have consistently poked fun at Americans abroad.

Rogers, in the role of Earl Tinker, Middle West razor blade manufacturer, goes on a Mediterranean cruise with his wife and daughter. Incidentally, he has a business scheme in mind, and also is anxious to get his daughter away from an unhappy love affair at home.

Aboard the cruise steamer is a sophisticated Broadway playwright and an equally snobbish artist friend who sneer at the crudities of the typical middle westerner, blinding themselves to his many good qualities. Also on the ship is Mme. Momora, who strikes up a close friendship with Rogers and pries intimate business secrets from him.

In Algiers, the playwright and Tinker's daughter discover they have very much in common. He suddenly aroused interest, however, gets a jolt when a cablegram informs him his play has "flopped" and he is broke.

The climax is reached when Rogers is captured by Arabs who are about to engage in a tribal war. How he averts the war, and re-unites his family is one of the most amusing situations yet seen in a Rogers' picture.

A Ten Legged Quartet

The Lions Club luncheon session was very enjoyably enlivened yesterday by the singing of the "ten-legged quartet," as Mr. Ferguson called them, from the Smith-Hughes class of C. H. S. The boys, Harry Helmkin, Russell Martindale, Ernie Cooper, Carl Yeoman and Delbert Donaldson, are improving steadily. They were accompanied by Edythe Farr at the piano.

After the singing their instructor, W. M. Canning, about Smith-Hughes work in C. H. S., and it was easy to see that he is very proud of "his boys."

One thing he stated is good news for several schools in the county; that is, that the attempt to abolish government support of vocational training lost in congress and that the federal participation in this work will continue.

Riverton News

The union high school and grade school boards met Tuesday and re-elected all but one of their teachers for next year. A salary cut of $10 a month was given all the grade teachers and a cut of $5.00 a month was given the principal and high school teachers. One less teacher will be employed in the high school next year. Those receiving contracts were: Stella Fields, Fae La Branch and Ansel Hayward in the grade school; Mr. Beck as principal; Miss Louise Smatt and A. E. Haan, of the high school. The school board members present at the meeting were: H. J. Berry, Joe Nilsen, Ralph Christensen, J. F. Van Leuven, Conrad Borgard, Almer Walstrom and Mrs. D. P. Jenkins.

Coach and Mrs. Beck accompanied J. F. VanLeuven and son, Raymond, to the invitational track meet at Grants Pass last Saturday, where Raymond was a contestant in several track events. Raymond won for Riverton first place in the "B" League and won fifth place at the tournament, even beating Coquille, who took sixth place. The trophy won there for placing first is one of the prettiest we have won. We are all proud of the record Raymond made and we are wondering just what the result of the tournament might have been if Coach Beck had entered more than one man from Riverton. Raymond will represent our school at the state track meet at Corvallis next Saturday.

Mrs. Wes. Bean has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harold Riding, of Molalla, this past week.

The student body held a meeting Wednesday morning to decide on the selection of the letters to be awarded to the boys and girls of the basket ball teams. Those to receive letters are Frank and William McFarlane, Ray Smith, Fritz and Howard Hull, Maurice Nulf, Earl Edgmon, Robert Smith, Howard Schroeder and Norman Chapell. The girls are Retha Watson, Agnes Hull, Eleanor Heilmann, Grace Kight, Marvel Smith, Dorothy La Branch, Violet Morris, Irene Cusic and Georgie Philpott.

Three one-act plays, sponsored by the Senior class will be presented by the Riverton high school student body on May 20 at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium. The Juniors and Seniors will give "The Ghost Story," by the following students: Frank McFarlane, Grace Kight, Raymond Van Leuven, Dorothy La Branch, Violet Morris, Howard Schroeder, Fritz Hull, Pauline Miller and Pete Hull. The Sophomores will give the "Trysting Place"
