Poppy Day Will Soon Be With Us Again

For most of us the World War has limped 14 years into the past, a dimming memory of drilling soldiers, knitting women, Liberty-Loan drives and glad hysteria of Armistice Day; but for many thousands of men, living largely unnoticed in our midst, the war is still going on. They are the disabled. Row on row, they lie in the white beds of a hundred hospitals or hidden in humble homes, they endure with quiet courage the privations and humiliations that sickness and poverty bring. And by their sides, sharing their suffering, are brave women, their wives. There, too, are little children, unborn when the world went mad with war but paying the cost in hardship and blighted opportunity.

The ability of the Legion and Auxiliary to help is derived to a large degree from one thing, the little paper poppy which the women of the Auxiliary offer on the streets on Poppy Day each year. From this money the Auxiliary can get one-third back to buy materials and make up clothing and other needed things for families of ex-service men and hospital extras.

They, the gallant men who won the war, must pay this terrible cost. But we can help a little. On Poppy Day we have our chance to help lighten their burden. Few are so poor that they cannot buy a poppy and God grant that none of us are so dead to gratitude and sympathy that we will not. To honor those who found eternal peace among the poppies of France and Flanders, and to aid those for whom the war has never ended, we will wear an American Legion and Auxiliary poppy.

Last year the Auxiliary here received $23.76, the one-third returned to them to be used for materials, etc. The following articles were made by the Auxiliary community committee of which Vera Hooton is chairman: For child welfare, 23 girls' dresses with bloomers, 9 girls' dresses, 6 pr. rompers, 8 pr. saten bloomers, 2 pr. pajamas, pieced and tied two quilts. Used clothing, 9 women's dresses, 2 pr. bloomers, 1 slip. Children's Used Clothing, 2 pr. longies, 2 pr. sunsuits, 4 pr. bloomers, 1 playsuit, 4 blouses, 2 caps, 3 blommer dresses, 6 dresses, 14 suits underwear, 6 pr. short sox, 4 pr. bootsox, 3 baby dresses, 4 jackets, 2 skirts, 1 bath robe, 1 boy's pants, 1 sweater, 2 skirts. Hospital Needs, 10 small hospital pillows, 20 pillow cases, 4 sofa pillows, 9 covers.

SOCIAL NOTES

The girls in the Leader class of the Pioneer Church Sunday School, along with their teacher, Mrs. James Richmond, arranged for an all day picnic which was held Sunday in Richmond cottage at Bandon Beach. Junior Hi Notes

The Coquille grade schools are delighted with the result of the county track meet held at Marshfield last Saturday. Our boys and girls made an excellent showing in taking the county championship. Those making points for our schools were: Bruce Ackerman was high point man, placing in four events besides the relay team, 1st in running broad jump, 4th in high jump, 2nd in shot put, 1st in 100-yd. dash, all in Class IV. Carlene Irvine was high point girl, placing in three events, 2nd in baseball throw and 1st in 50-yd. dash, Class III; 1st in 75-yd. dash, Class IV. Marvin Goodman, 1st in 50-yd. dash, Class I; Norman Rickett, 1st in running broad jump, Class II; Alan Bailey, 2nd in 75-yd. dash, Class III; Robert Waggoner 4th in 75-yd. dash, Class III; Lewis Donaldson, 1st in shot put, Class IV; Imogene Hickam, 3rd in 25-yd. dash, Class I; Ella Arnason, 1st in 40-yd. dash, Class II; and last the relay team, Jesse Barton, Jim Miller, Lewis Donaldson and Bruce Ackerman, who won first in that event.

Up to the time of the relay the score showed North Bend in the lead with 56 1/2 points, Marshfield second with 56 1/2 points and Coquille third with 52 1/2 points. As the relay counted five points, the Coquille score was raised to 57 1/2 points, making us winners of the day.

Other students who represented our schools but failed to place were Vern Oederkirk, Zoe Sinclair, Ted Miller, Jim Schaefer, Gail Cornelius, Jim Miller, Eileen Percy, Martha Carrier, June Hickam, Wave Gisholt, Ruth Mulvihill, Catherine Mulvihill and Margaret Belloni.

The 8-A-2 room gave a party yesterday at the home of Eileen Kern for the 8-A-1 room. The two rooms wished to get together for once before graduation.

The Jr. Hi has not only accomplished a great deal in athletics this week but on Monday the following students received final certificates in penmanship: Geneva Crouch, Donald Bailey, Dorothy Glaisyer, Mary Lou Nosler, Charley Vincent, Lorein Child, Marcus Shelley, Georgia Sherwood, Ray Mattoon, Betty Savage, Gordon Daniels, Hazel Harrison, Margaret Tway, Marie Tway, Alice Wheeler, Lillian Wiggins, Mary E. Graham, Eileen Percy, Laura Harrison, Kenneth Waggoner, Leonard Ensele, Lurene Tilghman, Marilyn Compton. Other students who have earned the final certificates but did not buy them are:

Melba Varney, Raymond Williams, Merle Shuck, Carlene Irvine, Bernice Jacobsen, Bessie Summers, Leona Coy.

The 8-A-1 room boasts a perfect attendance record for the last week. Perfect records have been hard to make this spring due to so much illness.

On Tuesday the Junior Hi surprised Mr. Arstall with a flower shower. His office looked very much like a flower show room for a while. Later in the day he very kindly sent a number of bouquets to each room so that many could enjoy the flowers.

Honor students for the entire year, having no grade below a III are: Margery Rowe, Barbara Oederkirk, June Holverstott, Howard Hickam, Geraldine Ensele, Doris Compton, Margaret Belloni, Mary Ann Schroeder and Eileen Kern.

Several students have succeeded in having perfect attendance records for the entire year to date; they are: Margaret Belloni, Marie Tway, Alice Wheeler, Melba Varney, Robert Waggoner, Maxine Brining and Norman Ricketts.
