

MINOR MENTION

Telling About People and Events in the City and County

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Faulkner, of Bangor, spent the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Young.

Mrs. Edw. Lorenz left last Saturday for a two weeks' visit with her aunt at Glendale, Oregon.

Safety First! Use Cow Bell Dairy's Pasteurized Milk and protect your health.

Mr. and Mrs. Kramer and Mrs. Fielding and Edward Duncan, of Powers, spent the Fourth with Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kramer, of Coquille.

Miss Marjorie Ashton, who attended school in Fresno, Calif., the past year, returned to her home here last week after spending a few weeks visiting in Berkeley.

Mrs. Leland Brant and two sons, of Astoria returned to their home on July 4th, after spending two months here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Oden.

V. R. Wilson, Optometrist. Eyes examined. Glasses fitted. Broken lenses duplicated. Grimes Building, Coquille, Ore.

Judge Brand this week ordered the payment of $221 to former employees of the Coquille Lumber Co., by Receiver M. O. Hawkins. The payment is for services last June.

Mrs. Walter E. Cox and two daughters, of Bandon, and Mrs. Cox' brother, Geo. Nordstrom, of Berkeley, California, visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Culbertson Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King, of Montana, arrived here last Saturday by auto, from their home in Silver Bow. Mrs. King will be remembered by her friends as Doris Maiden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jeub returned Sunday from Lexington, Ore., where Mrs. Jeub had been visiting her old home for the past two weeks. They came home over the Coast Highway.

Jack Wilson and D. D. Pierce were severely cut and bruised last Monday on the Bear creek hill when their Ford was hit by the J. H. Dalen car, and knocked off the road. The heavier car had not kept to the right side of the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Dwyer and three children, of Everett, Wash., and his brother, Harry Dwyer, of Hibernia, Minn., have been here the past week, making the Jas. Brady home their headquarters while visiting friends in Coquille, Powers and at the Bay. The Geo. Dwyer family formerly lived in Powers.

Geo. W. Taylor Sr. left Wednesday morning with four nursery men from Eugene and Portland on a trip to California. They were going first to the bulb farms near Brookings and thence down the coast. Mr. Taylor expected to go no further than Santa Rosa, but did not know just when he would return.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Purvance and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boober enjoyed a very pleasant outing trip from Saturday morning until Monday evening. They went south of Eureka one hundred miles, saw the large Coolidge redwood, though which they drove and another of the huge sequoias, 87 feet in circumference.

LeRoy Rice, of the Ideal Bakery, left last Friday for Minneapolis, Minn., where his mother, Mrs. Isabel Rice, has been ill for some time. She was formerly a Coquille resident.

Bert Davis is now utilizing the Sentinel's corner room to pack the Myrtlewood novelty stocks which he recently purchased from P. W. Walker and the Oeding Brothers, more than 1200 pieces, which he will ship out in small lots on consignment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Scoy and daughter, Anne, spent the week-end and holiday at the Harry Hart cabin on Union creek, on the Diamond Lake road. It was in the nature of a reunion of the Woodford family, there being present the Ralph Woodford family, the Harry Hart family, of Medford, Mrs. Myrtle Stiver, of Vancouver, Wash., and Mrs. Jennie Williams, of Oakland, Calif. The latter accompanied Mrs. Lamb to Coquille Monday evening and will remain here for the summer.

Frank and Tom Tension Here

Old time Coquille residents visiting here the past week have been Frank Tension, Tom Tension and his daughter, Twilla, who came in Friday evening from San Diego, Calif., for a week or ten days' visit with Mrs. Willis Oddy, Lee Goodman and other friends here. Mrs. Goodman was and Mrs. Oddy is a daughter of Frank Tension. The visitors had started east to Arkansas for their two weeks' vacation trip but found it so hot in Arizona that they decided to come up to Coos county.

Many Travelled Coast Highway

Coquille was well represented on the recently opened Coast Highway to the north over the week end, some of the parties going north as far as Newport and Taft and then cutting over to the Pacific Highway for the return. Among those who enjoyed the beautiful coast scenery along Heceta Head and Depot Bay were the following whom the Sentinel reporter saw and there probably were others: the J. L. Smith family, J. W. Leneve, Leneve and wife, Mrs. Annie Robinson, the F. W. Martin family, M. L. Daniels and family, W. E. Bailey and wife, C. V. Smith and family, and the following who camped Saturday night at Reedsport and Sunday night on the Yachats river: Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Gould and Miss Harriet, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boserman and daughters, Zelma and Donna Dean, Maxine Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Young and daughters, Jean and Carol.

This last named party of 16 enjoyed the two-day holiday to the utmost, even though the rain Saturday night drove them to the shelter of cabins. As ocean fishermen it must be reported that George Bryant, Bert Gould, Willard Boserman and Alton Grimes, who have good reputations for lake and stream catches, were completely outclassed by a red-headed girl who pulled out one perch after another while the men were crowding closer and closer on either side to find out how she did it.

Sitkum Resident Passes

Miss Edna Angeline Alford passed away at her home in Brewster Valley last Friday morning at 4:30 a. m. She was fifty years of age and has been an invalid for thirty years and was bedfast five years. She underwent three operations but nothing could be done to give her relief. The cause of her death was brain tumors.

She leaves to mourn her, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Alford, four brothers, Elwin and Rawleigh Alford, of Brewster Valley, Marshall Alford of Red Bluff, Calif., Roy Alford, one sister, Mrs. Myrtle Christensen, of Sitkum.

Burial was at the Dora cemetery Saturday at two p. m., Elder H. A. Niergarth of the Adventist Church of Coquille preaching the sermon. The music was furnished by Mrs. Polly Nickason, Mrs. Bonnie Dutton and Mrs. Ivan Laird, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mayre Laird.

Appreciates New Wheel Chair

Lee Goodman asks the Sentinel to express his sincere thanks for the gift of a wheel chair made to him by a number of Odd Fellow brothers. They found that C. W. Upton at Lam-pa had a very comfortable chair of that kind and purchased it. Now Mr. Goodman can be seen on every fine day with a tray full of articles of various kinds for which he finds a good sale. Lee is the sort of a man whom fate cannot keep down, even under the most adverse conditions, and he is going to continue to make his own way, even though handicapped by the loss of both legs.

Morgans and Noslers Visit

Mr. and Mrs. G. Russell Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Nosler arrived here last Saturday from Hillsboro, the former continuing on down to Rogue river for a fishing trip and the Noslers visiting his father, A. L. Nosler, and their many other relatives here. They returned home Monday.

Mr. Morgan is the republican nominee for district attorney of Washington county at the November election.

Why and Where is It?

Not in an unneighborly fashion, but with a sincere wish to know who mixed the drinks, the Sentinel inquires, how come I, to the Those Who Come and Go item in Tuesday's Oregonian:

Myrtle Point is represented at the New Heathman Hotel just now by Charles S. Harlocker, its mayor. Mr. Harlocker is accompanied by A. C. Hartle. Myrtle Point is the county seat of Coquille county.

New Arrivals at County Jail

Three cases, heard by Justice Bolt at Marshfield Tuesday, caused the following names to appear on the ballot at the sheriff's office this week. Geo. Granfors, for driving while drunk was given 30 days and fined $100. Eric Johnson, for breaking glasses on the highway, was fined $25. J. G. Harvey, drunk and disorderly, was given a 90-day suspended sentence.

City Council Session

The city council met in regular session, Tuesday morning, Monday being a holiday, with Mayor Berg and Councilmen Jeub, Le Fevre, Medley and Belloni present.

Foreclosure proceedings were ordered and the marshal instructed to sell property on Tenth street, belonging to U. F. and Daisy K. Snow, and on First street, belonging to G. Earl and Ethel M. Low, for delinquent street and sewer assessments.

The total assessments owing on the Snow place amount to $945 and interest, and on the Low place, $610.30 and interest. The sales will be made at the front door of the city hall at 10 a. m., on Monday, August 8.

A card room license was issued to E. B. Miller, who conducts The Card Room on Front street, with Bert Folsom and Harry Dimmick as sureties on his bond.

W. H. Fortier also was granted a license for card, pool and billiard tables for Bill's Place on First. C. A. Machon and R. F. Miller are sureties on his bond.

At the suggestion of Traffic Officer Williams, it was ordered that the cars belonging to the police officers, who use their cars to a considerable extent in the course of a day or night, were leased to the city, provided accident insurance was taken out by the officers to protect the city from all liability resulting from possible damage or accidents. The reason for the action is that automobiles owned or leased by county or municipality of the state are licensed by the state at $1 per car.

By resolution, the council authorized City Treasurer Sickels to pay all city officers' salaries in cash when funds are available in the treasury. This may be done by the city treasurer taking up old warrants at the bank so that the new warrants may be cashed at par by the bank, which is unable to increase its present warrant holdings, or by the city cashing its own warrants, issued to officers, as soon as issued.

There is nothing in the statutes requiring that warrants be retired in the order they were issued or registered. That part of the resolution which would have compelled the same treatment of all warrants for personal service was stricken out after some discussion.

Testing Tin Cans

Millions and millions of tin cans are made use of for the preservation of fruit and vegetables, and it is a rare thing, indeed, to encounter a can which has proven defective. These cans reach the consumer in perfect condition as far as their contents are concerned unless they have been in a freight wreck or subjected to some similar experience. The reason that they fulfill their mission so satisfactorily is that each can is subjected to a severe test before leaving the factory where it was made. The process is the same as we make use of in locating an unseen leak in the inner tube of a bicycle tire. They are pumped full of compressed air while under water and the least imperfection manifests itself by a display of bubbles. Special machinery has been devised for the purpose and the work is done very rapidly.

Syrian Goat Immortalized

The common goat of Syria and Palestine, which is probably a similar animal to those tended by Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, stands on longer legs than some other varieties, but its hair in some cases reaches almost to the ground. It has curiously long drooping lop-ears of about a foot long, which give it a strange uncanny appearance, and is nearly always of a black color. "Thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Mount Gilead," sang the writer of the Song of Solomon IV, 1) from which we gather that, like the daughters of Erin, though her skin was fair, and her eyes blue (like dove's eyes) she had long flowing black hair.

Postage Stamp Pictures

The portrait of Martha Washington has been used on a stamp in two of the regular series and the likeness of Queen Isabella appeared on the $4 stamp of the Columbian commemorative issue. In addition, the central design of the 5-cent denomination stamp of the Jamestown series is a representation of Pocahontas. While other female figures have appeared in the designs on postage stamps, like the Red Cross issue, for example, in no case has the likeness of a woman known by name been used.

Creator of Bell Music

It is due to a Cambridge (England) man named Fabrian Stedman that church bells make music instead of merely noise. He was the man who established the ringing of changes as an art, and the bell-ringers recognized the fact when they held a great bell-ringing festival to mark his centenary recently. Of course, there were bells before Stedman, and some very ancient ones are still in use. The oldest in Britain, a bell in the parish church of Lanark, dates back to 1110. It is probably the oldest bell in Europe.

AN OFFER IS MADE

To Stockholders of the Old Fat Elk Oil Company This Week

J. Ellis Loreman and A. B. Collier returned early this morning from Salem, where Corporation Commissioner Jas. W. Mott yesterday announced his decision to approve the proposed offer to old Fat Elk Oil Co. stockholders of an interest in some of the leases held by the West Coast Co., and a share of the company's stock for each $1.00 to be invested.

The offer to the old stockholders is made by Wann & Collier, acting trustee, and letters announcing the offer will be mailed from their office in Marshfield tomorrow.

Following is the article which the Sentinel has had in type for the past month awaiting Mr. Mott's approval before publishing it:

The following open letter to stockholders of the old Fat Elk Oil Co. is of particular interest only to the stockholders, but it also has a news value of interest to everyone as showing what the Coast Oil Co. is going to do in regard to the former stockholders, and for this reason the Sentinel is printing it this week. Stockholders of the Fat Elk company now have an opportunity to participate, but continued drilling operations are not contingent on their taking advantage of the offer. That is to be continued regardless. Following is the letter sent out which is self-explanatory:

Marshfield, Oregon, June 3rd, 1932. Stockholders of the Fat Elk Oil & Gas Company:

On March 3rd, 1932, the Coast Oil Company wrote you a letter advising you that they had purchased all the assets of the Fat Elk Oil & Gas Co., at sheriff's sale, to satisfy labor liens and other indebtedness, and that all interests of the old stockholders were completely wiped out. The letter also stated that they, the Coast Oil Co., "would try to work out some plan whereby the old stockholders will be given a chance to participate."

Owing to the fact that the stock of the Coast Oil Co. has never been offered to the public, and it is not the policy of the company to do so, many plans for allowing the old stockholders a chance to participate, were formulated but all rejected as not complying with their former policy, they were considering a letter to the old stockholders, advising them that they were unable to offer them an opportunity to participate.

We, the writers of this letter, being formerly interested in the Fat Elk Oil & Gas Co., and realizing that all the assets of the old company had been lost and knowing that we had no equity of any nature remaining, took upon ourselves to inquire as to what plan had been worked out in regard to the old stockholders having a chance to participate, were told that they were unable to formulate a plan favorable to the old stockholders and acceptable to the Coast Oil Co., but if we could suggest a plan acceptable to them, they would give all of us a chance to participate, whereupon we suggested a plan and it was accepted.

To carry out the plan suggested, we have purchased four, forty acre leases, or 160 acres of leases in all, located on the structure, together with 5000 shares of the capital stock of the Coast Oil Company, all for the nominal sum of $5000.00.

We will divide the 160 acres of leases into 5000 units and will offer the units for sale to the old stockholders, for $1.00 per unit, and for each unit purchased we will give one share of Coast Oil Company stock. This plan allows those who buy the 5000 units to own the 160 acres of leases and also to participate in all the holdings of the Coast Oil Co., both in the Fat Elk structure and other structures throughout the Northwest. As the company is not confining its operations to this field alone the stock may become quite valuable through operations of other companies in other fields.

Subscriptions will be limited to not less than 10 units or more than the original holdings in the old company. In case of an over-subscription for the 5000 units, we reserve the right to apportion the units to those subscribing and will refund any such over-subscription, after apportionment. However, the trustees reserve the power to limit the maximum subscription.

This is not a stock selling scheme but a bona fide offer, and we consider it an exceptional offer, for the reason that the Coast Oil Co. stock has a great potential value in case of production of either oil or natural gas, as they are capitalized for only $125,000.00.

We enclose a copy of an article which appeared in the Coquille Valley Sentinel, issue of May 20th, 1932, which accurately describes the operations and showings at the well.

This offer must necessarily be limited, for the reason that Mr. Loreman,

FOX BREEDERS MEET

and was followed by H. E. Morrison, of Seattle. Mr. Morrison was one of the most outstanding speakers of the day. He is one of the largest and most successful fox breeders in America. His talk was based on actual facts and results from records of his several hundred ranches scattered throughout Alaska, Canada and the United States.

At this time a basket lunch was served by the ladies with hot coffee by the committee.

After lunch A. H. Crow, of Denver, secretary of the R. M. N. F. B. A., held the attention of his audience with his explanations of his association's experiences in the marketing of pelts through the A. E. Stevens Fur Co., of Denver. He exhibited a lovely silver fox scarf, calling attention to its especially good points.

Frank G. Ashbrook, head of the Biological Survey of Washington, D. C., spoke last and told of the government's experiments in the fur resources division. He pointed out that the government considered the farming of fur bearing animals as a permanent part of the agricultural development of the country. He urged the great necessity of every breeder keeping accurate record of his strains of foxes.

At the close a great many questions, which had been placed in a question box throughout the day were read by Mr. Finley and answered by himself, Messrs. Walker, Crow, Rops, Morrison and Ashbrook.

A total of sixty people were in attendance throughout most of the day.

the geologist, has told them that they may expect production at any time, so we were required to place July 25, 1932, as the time limit for taking advantage of this offer. If you are interested and wish to participate in this venture with us, we urge that you fill out the enclosed application blank for the number of units you wish to subscribe for and mail to us, together with your check, before June 15, 1932.

Yours very truly,
William H. Wann, Trustee.

In Circuit Court This Week

The Koski vs. Glinger case, in which the defendant is being sued for back rent, started in Circuit court Wednesday and was still on this morning. The next case to come up is that of H. O. Miller vs. Benj. Gant, to be followed by the case of Coos Bay Lumber Co. vs. Geaney. This case is the result of the destruction by fire of the company's railroad trestle out on Cunningham.

Criminal cases to come before the court Wednesday were as follows:

Nolan S. Bowman, Chester Hedsall and Earl Davidson, for burglary near Bandon, pleaded guilty and were each sentenced to two years in the pen. Hedsall was given a 45-day stay of execution and Davidson 90 days.

Ralph Watson who wrote another bad check after serving a 30-day sentence on a similar charge, was sentenced to one year in the pen and was taken to Salem yesterday by Sheriff Hees. Bowman was also taken out.

Leaman Reed pleaded not guilty to a bad check charge.

Percy Lloyd Hale pleaded not guilty to burning his dwelling with intent to defraud insurance company.

Frederick Gardiner pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was given a year in the county jail. He is a foreigner and the judge will take up with immigration authorities the matter of his deportation.

Wm. M. Nygren, of Bandon, pleaded not guilty to a drunken driving charge.

Geo. Anich and Vincent Lamberson pleaded guilty to stealing a cascara bark at Fairview and were sentenced to 60 days each in jail.

Perry Meredith, 18-year old boy from Coos Bay, who was the leader of a gang of thieving youngsters, pleaded guilty to robbing Dunham's at North Bend. He was given a 30-day stay of his two year maximum sentence to the pen.

John Wiedman, of Myrtle Point, pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge. He was given one day in jail, having already been incarcerated for a month.

Latin Little Used

While a form of church Latin is used by clergymen of various nations as a medium of conversation, it is not true that there is any nation today whose mother tongue is Latin. Many of our modern languages are derived largely from Latin but all differ considerably from it.
