Coquille Boy Scouts

Troop No. 14 held its first meeting last Monday with great success, for the election of officers took place and many plans were worked out for the meeting and are ready to help boost the troop to the most successful year in its history.

The election resulted in Don Smith as senior patrol leader, Kenneth Waggoner as scribe, Jack Wheeler as treasurer, Don Stevens as quartermaster and Tom Staver as troop reporter. Three scouts from Bandon and North Bend were voted in the troop, Harry Helmskin, Byron and Murrel Davis, and these three scouts hope to make the troop the best.

Now with the three new scouts and the others, the troop membership is about thirty-two, which is rather a fair-sized troop compared to the other troops in the county. But Scoutmaster Wade H. Arstall has done a very fine job in keeping the boys together and has very many plans for the troop this year. And all you scouts remember next Monday, for it is the next troop meeting date.—Troop Reporter.
