Attending were: Mesdames C. L. Willey, Allen McLeod, M. W. Way, B. A. Davis, Chris Terres, Margaret Brown, P. D. Hartman and Mae Pierce.

The Woman's Guild met at their Parish house Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lloyd Rosa and Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman as hostesses. Attending were Mesdames George Lorenz, Louis Charnock, H. E. Hess, Bert Folsom, Jas. Watson, L. H. Hazard, Geo. W. Taylor Sr., J. W. Laird, Annie J. Robinson, E. A. Woodyard and E. L. Vinton.

Mrs. Wm. Keller was given a surprise party by friends last evening at her home on the Marshfield highway, with a large number present.

For the pleasure of Mrs. R. T. Carruthers, of Astoria, sister of Mrs. F. L. Greenough who is here visiting, Mrs. J. A. Lamb invited a few ladies down to her cottage at Bandon today, where they will enjoy luncheon together. She also included a few Bandon ladies.

Wednesday afternoon at their church parlors the missionary society of the Church of Christ met for their regular monthly business meeting and program, which was in charge of Mrs. M. O. Hooton. At this meeting the members planned a mothers and daughters banquet, which will be given the first part of May. A vocal solo was given by Mrs. Lewis McCullough with Mrs. Lewellen accompanying her on the organ. At the close Mrs. Hooton and Mrs. McCullough served refreshments to those present: Mesdames L. Lewellen, Cal Young, Clifford Kern, Clarence Jesse, Clair Burnett, V. L. Bailey, A. S. Bean, John McCue, Grover McQuigg, H. G. Prey, J. A. Stahinger, Fred Schaefer, Willard Sloan, D. F. ### The Coquille Woman's Club

The Coquille Woman's Club enjoyed a very pleasant meeting on Tuesday afternoon of this week at the Episcopal Parish house with Mrs. J. E. Norton, president, in charge. She first called on the different chairmen of various committees for their monthly reports. Mrs. Skeels, member of the nominating committee, announced the candidates secured. Their names will be made known after the meeting of April 28th, at which time annual reports from committees will also be announced. After all old and new business was attended to, the rest of the afternoon was turned over to Mrs. C. D. Walker, program chairman.

Mrs. Walker introduced the speakers. The first to speak was Mr. Geo. Belloni, of Coquille, who is an outstanding democrat in the county, being president of the Young Democrats Club of this section, also is on the executive committee for that organization in the state and is secretary of the democratic central committee. Mr. Belloni gave a very interesting biographical sketch of our president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, which included his life's history and achievements, also telling of his splendid and careful education, mentioning some of the wonderful schools he has attended and also enumerating the many prominent political offices he had held before being elected president of our country.

The program was interspersed with vocal solos, given by Mrs. Lyman Carrier, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," "Birds of June" and "The Humming Bird and Bee." Mrs. M. O. Hawkins accompanied here on the piano.

The second speaker was Mrs. Olive Barber, of Marshfield, an associate with the United States Biological Survey. She talked on a few birds common to this section, such as the Towhee, Pileated Woodpecker, Ouzel, Grebe, and Hummers. Mrs. Barber is an interesting speaker and scatters much humor throughout her talk. She also stated that the pet house cat is a menace to bird life and kills far too many each year.

At the close of the program tea was served by Mesdames F. L. Greenough, C. D. Walker, J. L. Smith, J. E. Paulson and Lloyd Oddy to those attending: Mesdames J. E. Norton, F. S. Emery, Kenneth Lawrence, Paul Van Scoy, W. H. Mansell, C. A. Rietman, Lyman Carrier, C. T. Skeels, H. E. Hess, Chester Ward, L. P. Maury, Geo. Leach, R. A. Wernich, W. S. Sickels, C. J. Fuhrman, E. L. Wilson, E. Purvance, M. O. Hawkins, Lloyd Rosa, R. B. Rogers, R. E. Boober, Leo J. Cary, Wm. Candlin, Augusta Nozler, N. M. Husposka, R. T. Carruthers, of Astoria, and Miss Inez Rover.

Next Week at the Liberty

"The Wet Parade," the feature at the Liberty Theatre tonight and Saturday is of such length that no preview, or added attraction, is included in the Saturday program this week.

According to a review of "The Wet Parade," they used to say that a southern accent was a handicap in "talkies" but Dorothy Jordan has found it anything but! For Miss Jordan's Tennessee drawl gave her the biggest role of her talkie career, namely that of the heroine in "The Wet Parade," now playing at the Liberty Theatre.

In a recent interview, Miss Jordan made no bones about the fact that she didn't think she stood a chance of getting the part for which a large number of Metro-Goldwyn players made tests.

"It was just the sort of role I'd been begging the studio to give me," explained Miss Jordan, "but I really thought somebody else would get it because of the fact that the characterization is a far cry from what I'd been doing before. I've always had to play shy, demure, and somewhat timid girls, whereas, this Southern girl fights her way through all sorts of dramatic conflicts. There's nothing shy or timid about her. In fact, she has plenty of opportunities to express herself in no uncertain terms."

Mae West, in "She Done Him Wrong," opens at the Liberty Sunday evening for a three days' run. The Liberty management in their advertisement state that this show is not recommended for children.

"She Done Him Wrong," is a story of the New York Bowery, with its collection of wide-open saloons, wise guys, and frivolous dames. It centers around a singer known as "Lady Lou," who has a way with men and who accepts their attention in return for diamonds. Her collection of gems, so great is her popularity, is ransom for half a dozen kings.

Miss West appears in that role. Noah Beery is the saloon-keeper who is furnishing the jewels at the moment. Cary Grant is ostensibly the head of a nearby Mission, who turns out to be as susceptible to her charms as any of the natives of the district. A startling, dramatic climax follows their mutual discovery of this fact.
