Mrs. Theodore Clinton and children and Mrs. Jas. Watson returned Sunday from their ten days' trip to Portland.

J. F. Mashburn, of Medford, district manager of the Safeway stores, was a Coquille visitor yesterday on one of his regular trips over the territory.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Covalt, who have resided here for the past three or four years left Monday evening for their former home in Bellingham, Wash.

Miss Jean Pierce, who went out to Central Point last Thursday to visit relatives, went on to Ashland to spend six weeks there in the summer school of the Normal.

The Royal Neighbors are giving a dance in the Moose Hall Monday night, June 26th. Admission, gents 20c, ladies 10c, including eats. Music by Bobby Burns' Orchestra.

V. R. Wilson, "Optometrist," Errors in refraction corrected, without the use of drugs. "For glasses" see Wilson first and save money. 7tf

Mrs. Nelson Wilson and her daughter, Dorine, came in last Friday from Vancouver, Wash., and will spend the summer at the R. H. Mast home here. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Mast are sisters.

Mrs. Sarah Thrift, who spent the past winter in Portland with her daughter, Mrs. Brooks Hagan, arrived in Coquille last week to spend the summer with her son, Frank Thrift, and family.

Just received new Sheet Music and Records, at Norton's.

Chas. Heller, of McKinley, was a Coquille visitor this morning. He, like so many others, is wondering who is going to pay for all the billions of dollars the government is spending for paternalism and charity.

Cards from Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Caughell to Miss Jennie Lindros stated that they were enjoying the trip east. They stopped in Salt Lake City a day, leaving Sunday and expected to reach Chicago this week end.

Mrs. Ora Maury left today for a month's trip to Oakland, Calif. She went first to Central Point to spend the Fourth with her brother. Her son, Vane Maury, and wife will meet her there and she will accompany them home.

Old Beaver Hill Vein Coal, $4.50 per ton for lump delivered in Coquille. Leave orders at Roosevelt Service Station, phone 114. C. Jack Shumate. 7tf

Mrs. Wynne Grieg, former teacher in C. H. S., whose home is now in Salem, has been spending the past ten days as guest of Mrs. W. N. Cunningham. She came down to attend the reunion of the 1932 public speaking class of the high school.

John Harris, found in the high school building at Marshfield one night this week, pleaded guilty before Judge Brand in Circuit court yesterday morning, to burglary not in a dwelling. He was sentenced to two years in the pen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, who have been over at Medford for several months, returned Monday to Coquille and will remain here this summer unless an application he has made for a position in the Crater Lake district takes him back.

K. P. Lawrence left yesterday for Oakland, Calif., where his wife and sons have been visiting for the past month, at the E. G. Lawrence home. They will all return July 5. The two Mrs. Lawrences are sisters, and their husbands are brothers.

J. Erick Tucker, who came in from La Grande last Saturday, is the new estate police officer for this district, succeeding H. H. Hogen, who resigned. Mr. Tucker is new to southwestern Oregon, although he lived up around Astoria ten years ago.

Mrs. A. O. Walker and three children went up to the Frank Fish place on Myrtle creek, near Bancroft last Sunday and will spend some time this summer camping out there. She doesn't know how long they will stay but it might be for a month or two.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bosserman returned Sunday from Portland where they attended the Masonic grand lodge and Eastern Star grand chapter last week. Mrs. Geo. A. Ulett returned Friday and Mrs. Catherine Ruble, who stopped for visits in Salem and Eugene, returned Tuesday.

Justice Court blanks for sale at this office.

C. W. Noyes, who has conducted the legal business for the Western Mercantile Agency for several months, has severed his connection with the agency and opened a law office in the Richmond building. He has been succeeded by Carl Mack, who comes from Portland, as attorney for the agency.

Mrs. M. O. Hawkins and daughter, Ann left Tuesday on a month's trip in their car to Chillicothe, Mo., and to Chicago where they will visit relatives. They were accompanied by her cousin, Hiram Hatcher, who has been visiting here, in Portland and in San Francisco, for the past three weeks. His home is in Missouri.

J. L. Smith and sons, David and Donald, left yesterday afternoon for eastern Oregon expecting to be gone out a few days. While they are gone Mrs. Smith and daughter, Margaret, accompanied by Mrs. H. A. Young and daughter, Carol, and Elizabeth Pierce, are spending a few days at the Smith's Bandon Beach cottage.

Dr. G. Earl Low was a Coquille visitor from Grants Pass last Sunday. Always a baseball fan, "Doc" attended the ball game that afternoon. He says that his hand is getting along all right now, but the missing three fingers on his left hand show what a serious time he has had as the result of that X-ray burn a year or more ago.

L. P. Bransetter, former Coquille resident who is well known throughout this section, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon while working on his ranch at Capetown, says the Fernside Enterprise. A large clod roller broke loose and rolled down hill, catching him unawares, and giving him a badly bruised chest and possible internal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Leslie left yesterday morning on the return trip to State College, Penn., after a three weeks' visit with home folks here. They were delayed one day in starting because of a severe cold. Mrs. Leslie had and are fearful it will cut their stay at the Chicago Fair to one day. "Spike" must be back by the first of next month when summer school starts at Penn State.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Candlin are enjoying a visit from her brother, James Dee, and his wife and two daughters, who arrived here from San Francisco Tuesday and will leave next Monday for his new post at Portland. Mr. Dee is Salvation Army brigadier general and has just been named commander of the organization for Oregon and Idaho. The family has made visits to Coquille nearly every year since Mrs. Candlin came here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ulett and Mrs. Caroline Yutten, parents and sister of Geo. A. Ulett, of this city, are on their way to Coquille from Revere, Mass., to spend a month at the Ulett cottage at Bandon. They left New York last Friday by steamer going through the Panama canal and will arrive in San Francisco on July 7. Mr. and Mrs. Ulett will meet them there and bring them up by the Coast Highway.

Hienz P. Huebner, student at the University of Oregon who is spending his summer in Coquille at the Velorous Call home, left yesterday morning to attend the world's fair at Chicago. Mr. Huebner is the official representative of the Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business administration fraternity. He will participate in their biennial convention being held at the Knickerbocker Hotel in Chicago June 28, 29, and 30.

Barton Named Representative

J. S. Barton has recently been appointed county representative of the World War Veterans' State Aid Commission, to aid the Commission in carrying on an extensive sales campaign of the real property belonging to the Commission in Coos county. There are approximately forty pieces of town property and eight farms belonging to the Commission in Coos county, representing an investment of $109,943.90. All of this property has been reappraised by the Commission and is being offered at greatly reduced prices and on extremely easy terms, it being the aim of the Commission to afford every one an opportunity to own their own home and at the same time restore to the tax rolls over one hundred and nine thousand dollars in Coos county alone. Listing of these properties will be mailed by Mr. Barton to those interested upon request.

Diamonds and Steel

Competitors could never understand how steel could be machined to two tenths of a thousandth part of an inch. The explanation finally leaked out. It was done by a machine literally studded with diamonds. This almost human machine has four arms. Each contains a diamond which will cut through the hardest steel.—TIT-BITS Magazine.

Mechanical Man Here Tomorrow

What is it, man or machine? That is the question that residents of Coquille are to have an opportunity to decide for themselves when Mr. Robot pays a visit to this community on Saturday.

Mr. Robot, the mechanical man, is insured for $25,000, according to Geo. L. Crowder, its manager, who is here in advance of its visit. And in the end the secret is to be fully revealed before Mr. Robot takes his departure from the community.

It seems to be a mechanical man, sure enough, for here is what Crowder says about it:

"The maker of the mechanical man has put what appears to be pores in the artificial skin. He also placed tiny hairs in the ears and about the face to represent a beard, the head was made by a German taxidermist and is considered one of the most remarkable parts of the entire construction."

"The figure weighs 96 pounds. The lower limbs are heavily leaded causing it to stand in an upright position."

The mechanical man is so lifelike, the opinion is equally divided, is it man or machine? What makes it run? You decide this question Saturday when he performs.

The mechanical man will write a want ad in the office of the Sentinel at 4:00 p. m. He will be at Wilson's Fountain Lunch at 4:15, at the Coquille Service Station 4:30, at Nosler's Grocery Store 4:45, and again at Wilson's Fountain Lunch at 8:45.

The secret will be revealed on the stage of the Liberty Theatre at 9:00 p. m. Saturday night. You will see just what makes the mechanical man run and the head may be removed.

Short Council Session

The city council held a short session Monday evening before adjourning so that the city officers and employees could attend the school meeting. All members were present except Jack Le Fevre.

Fire Chief Gardner reported that he could not approve the treated shake which the Signal Oil Co. wanted to use in constructing a service station here, and the chief's report was approved. Whether a different treatment will be tried to make the shake fire-resisting or whether a different type of construction will be used has not been disclosed by the oil company.

Mayor Berg reported, what had been done in making application to the federal government for a $30,000 loan to renew a part of the city's water line.

City Engineer Stacer was instructed to run lines at the big dam on Rink creek where E. A. Aasen is getting ready to do some logging, and Jack Le Fevre was authorized to scale the few trees which the city sold to Mr. Aasen.

New Officers Take Charge

The postponed meeting of the B. P. W. club was held on Tuesday, postponement from the previous night being necessary on account of the school election. This being the annual meeting, committee reports for the year's work were given by all chairmen present, the balance to be had at the next meeting. As the next meeting would ordinarily fall on July 3, the club voted to meet July 10, that being the following Monday.

At the conclusion of old business, the president, Mrs. Bertha J. Smith, turned the meeting over to the new president, Mrs. Belle R. Gould, who asked for preferences from all members for committee appointments for the ensuing year, these to be turned in at the next meeting.

Mrs. Glaisyer Grand Conductress

Mrs. Inez J. Glaisyer was advanced to the office of grand conductress at the Eastern Star Grand Chapter, held in Portland last week and two years hence will without doubt be chosen as worthy grand matron. She made a very good record the past year as associate grand conductress, and is most deserving of the additional honors accorded her. After the close of the session she left for Tacoma with her two daughters, Betty and Dorothy. They will visit Mrs. Glaisyer's father there this summer. Allington Glaisyer, who accompanied them north, sailed last week as one of the crew on a vessel bound for South America. Dr. W. V. Glaisyer returned to his home here last Friday evening.

Samoans Happy People;

They Laugh at Anything

The Samoans are a happy race. They are smiling all the time except when they are laughing and it takes very little to make them laugh. A large group of native stevedores tolling under the torrid sun were thrown into convulsions by the sight of a tractor which they were taking from the hold. They concluded it was some new kind of automobile with a single seat.

The Samoan has little or nothing to worry him and hence his jovial disposition. His food grows all about him and his clothing demands are quite limited. A clean garment of bright colors and some cheap jewelry make a well-dressed woman and the young children wear no clothes at all. There are many short and sudden showers, but as a rule the climate is warm and sunny and the temperament of the people seems to be the same.—Los Angeles Times.

Nelson Relics

The announcement of the sale of a spy glass said to have been the property of Lord Nelson has been the means of arousing greater interest in the Nelson relics. An aged clerk of the admiralty remembered having seen a small desk stored in an attic of one of the government buildings which was thought to have a Nelson connection and when the search was made it was located and cleaning revealed an inscription roughly scratched upon it, indicating that it had been the property of Lord Nelson. It was repaired and sent to the reconditioned Victory. Another desk and spy glass were discovered in the British consulate at Tripoli. All of these relics are duly authenticated.

Invented Pari-Mutuel Plan

A Frenchman named Oller invented the pari-mutuel system of betting on horse races in about 1872. In 1880 a man in New Zealand named Ekberg, who had studied Oller's procedure, conceived the idea of automatically recording bets. He devised a machine for the purpose, called it a totalizer, and used it for the first time at the Canterbury Jockey club's meeting at Christchurch, New Zealand, in 1880. It was not until 1908 that the pari-mutuel system of betting was methodically exploited in the United States, and in the spring of that year it was adopted in Kentucky.

"To Play the Hedgehog"

This is a phrase familiar to some of us to describe people who go through the world careless of other people's feelings and regardless of their rights. People who "play the hedgehog" are more concerned about getting what they happen to want at any particular moment than about what other people think of them. In this phrase we find allusion to an old fable of the hedgehog, who, on being received into a den, drove out his host. The expression had its first recorded use in "Defense of Poesie," which dates 1595, by Sir Philip Sidney.

Insomnia Records

The case of Cornelius Szekely, who, following a wound in the head inflicted 16 years ago, lost the power to sleep, and who died in Budapest after remaining awake for 140,100 hours, is remarkable; but it is not unique. Two years ago it was revealed that a man living at Newcastle-on-Tyne had not slept for 20 years as a result of a cycling accident; and at about the same time details were published concerning a Hungarian civil servant who had not closed his eyes in sleep since a Russian bullet struck his head in 1915.

Baldness and Badness

The worst type of habitual criminal is generally bald, according to the chief physician of the Fukuoka prison, Tokyo, who recently completed an extensive study of 1,521 criminals occupying ten years. In the course of that work he found nine typical habitual criminals. They had from 16 to 29 criminal convictions, and had spent from 20 to 30 years in prison. They were all bald.

"Conscience Fund" Money

The money that is paid into the "Conscience Fund" of the United States goes into the general funds of the treasury, from which the expenses of government are paid.

Animals and Birds Valuable

A study of the eating habits of wild life in America disclosed 90 per cent of our animals and birds are beneficial, according to Donald A. Gilchrist, naturalist.

Disease Prevention

(Oregon State Board of Health)

As far back as history goes, man has always practiced methods of disease prevention. Some of the methods may occasionally have had some value, but more often they were the result of ignorance and superstition and consequently utterly inadequate and not infrequently actually harmful. Until within the last fifty years little progress has been made in the control and prevention of any disease with the notable exception of scurvy and smallpox.

The sudden development of disease prevention into a science of great importance to the human race began with the proof of the bacterial origin of infection. Of course, all diseases are not due to infection with minute living organisms. It has been found that not only is each infection different from all others but also that the body defense differs in each case. Against some diseases we have made great progress in specific protection, both in treatment and in prevention.

In typhoid vaccine we have a practical and almost perfect protection against typhoid fever. Smallpox vaccine has changed one of the greatest scourges of the human race into a comparatively mild disease, and a rare disease in those communities practicing vaccination.

We can now cure diphtheria by the prompt administration of antitoxin, and we also know how to build up a whole immune generation by the use of diphtheria toxin-antitoxin or toxoid.

In rabies no progress has as yet been made in treatment but an almost perfect method of prevention is in general use. There is now nothing mysterious about rabies; its history and method of infection are well known; it differs from all other diseases in its specific cause, mode of infection, in the period of incubation and in the course of the infection.

In a few diseases such as the common cold, influenza and pneumonia we have as yet made little progress in specific methods of prevention.

In still another disease, tuberculosis, great progress has been made in both treatment and prevention in spite of the lack of any specific vaccine or serum. Tuberculosis requires prolonged treatment, efficient nursing, good food and a thorough education in proper habits of life—all of which are expensive. The point is that in this particular disease they are effective. Many cases of tuberculosis are cured and many are prevented. In the case of all diseases efficient protection is dependent upon accurate scientific knowledge and that is why you need the assistance of your doctor and your health officer. In most cases disease is a social problem and individual efforts at protection are inadequate, therefore, disease prevention is a necessary and proper function of the state.

tion is a necessary and proper function of the state.
