Wm. Barrow, of Hudson's Drug Store, left Saturday night on a week's vacation. He intended going to Gearhart for the druggists' state convention and expected to play considerable golf while on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Scoy, their daughter, Anne, Le Verne Knife, of Coquille, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Brunk, of Marshfield, spent the three day holiday camping on the North Fork of the Umpqua east of Roseburg.

The Friday Evening Club, of which Pete Miller is president and Geo. Johnson secretary, is figuring on a fine large session tonight. We can't tell what they are planning but Alton Grimes can report on what they did five years ago.

V. R. Wilson, "Optometrist." Errors in refraction corrected, without the use of drugs. "For glasses" see Wilson first and save money. 7tf

E. R. Oliver, who is suffering from a broken hand, stated to the Sentinel Wednesday that he was not working at Paul Walker's hardware store. He had been making his headquarters there until Mr. Walker was ready to take charge himself.

WANTED—To buy several young horses, 1000 to 1200 pounds. Address Mrs. Minnie King, Powers, Ore.

Notwithstanding the fact that Newport, up the coast, held no Fourth of July celebration this year, A. L. Simpson, who with Mrs. Simpson was up there Tuesday, says the streets of that town were so jammed as to make traffic almost impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bennett and son and daughter, of Corvallis, were guests at the Ray Thomas home here from Saturday until Monday evening. Don, the son, spent the time with his fraternity brother, David Smith, at the Smith cottage Bandon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Porter, of Burlingame, Calif., stopped in Coquille Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stewart, and then drove on to Bandon where they spent the night at the J. A. Lamb cabin. They are old friends of Mrs. Jane Williams.

See Mansell Drayage & Delivery Co. for Alpine coal. Orders filled promptly.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wimer left this week on a two weeks' vacation trip, going first to Mrs. Wimer's former home at Eugene. They expected to go as far north as Seattle. Mr. Wimer's duties here are being performed during his absence by Fred Andrus of the Marshfield store.

Mrs. Edna Kern has invited the Auxiliary to her home for their next social meeting, which will be Wednesday, July 26th. A potluck luncheon to be held in her lovely garden will be the main attraction. Further plans for this party will be made at the meeting Monday night.

Mrs. L. H. Hazard is expected to arrive in Portland this evening from her six weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Hale B. Eubanks in Boston, Mass. She has also made stops at Washington, D. C., and Chicago. After a short stop in Portland with her daughter, Mrs. Jack Sercomb, she will be home the first of next week.

Mrs. John E. Ross, who has been in Coquille while Mrs. Hattie Ross is visiting John in Scapoose, does not know how long she may remain here, although she would like to stay all summer. Mr. Ross is at present acting for the U. S. treasury department in liquidating the First National Bank of Scapoose, which failed some months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Lawrence and two sons returned Sunday evening from their trip to Oakland, where they visited their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lawrence. The latter will be up here on their vacation in another week or two.

The Royal Neighbors will have a dance in Moose Hall Monday night, July 10. Gentlemen 15c, ladies 10c.

In last week's issue the Sentinel erroneously stated that Mrs. Edna Kern's pupils had art displays at the Flower Show. She did have some sketches on display, but Mrs. Nina Nosler is the one whose pupils' work was shown, and there was considerable of her own paintings and drawings. The Sentinel writer should have caught it when Mrs. Kern's name was given by his informant.

Lon Smith, who formerly operated the garage a couple of miles out toward Myrtle Point on the highway, but who has been in Curry county for the past six months, is moving his equipment to Powers where he has taken over the Morgan auto repair and blacksmith shop. Mrs. Smith and their son, who left ten days ago for a visit in California, will join him at Powers on their return.

The fire Monday morning was in Glenn Howard's car which was being adjusted at the Taylor Service Station. Before the department arrived the blaze had been smothered with extinguishers. Mr. Howard came down from Dallas last Saturday and staid until Tuesday morning visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hufford. His wife, who is a sister of Mrs. Hufford, had been here for the two weeks previous.

Mrs. Helen Harvey, accompanied by her grand daughter, Miss Lyndell Southstone, left on Wednesday for eastern points. Chicago will be the center of attraction, as Mrs. Harvey's son, Paul, is playing a lead in the big production of the play entitled, "Dinner at Eight." This is Miss Southstone's first trip east. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harvey at the Crowdon Hotel, to be gone a month or more.

Legion-Auxiliary Meet July 10

The American Legion and Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting Monday night, July 10, in the Legion hall. The election of officers for the coming year will be the main feature of the business session, followed by refreshments and a social hour. Every member is urged to attend this meeting.

Uneducated Women Drawback

Students of political and social economy declare that the resistance of the uneducated woman is one of the principal factors in delaying progress. She may have enough schooling to enable her to vote in countries that have woman suffrage, but she thinks along a central line and refuses to admit the modern viewpoint.

Voltagess Necessary to Electrocute Criminals

Electrocution of criminals in various states often raises the question of how much electricity is required to snuff out life. According to one authority, it is impossible to say what voltagess are safe, for so much depends upon the conditions existing at time of contact. One man was killed near Prague by coming into contact with a wire charged with a pressure of 95 volts, yet electricians have touched wires carrying currents of such high pressures as 5,000 volts without experiencing any ill effects. Criminals are electrocuted in this country by making contact with a high voltage, 1,800 to 2,000, for three or four seconds, reduced to 500 volts until nearly a minute has elapsed, raised to high voltage for a second or two, again reduced to a low voltage until one minute has elapsed, when it is again raised to a high voltage for a few seconds and the contact broken. A second, or even a third, brief contact is sometimes made later, but there seems little doubt that circulation and respiration cease with the first contact. The general deduction has been drawn from experiments in electrocution work at Sing Sing that no human body can withstand an A. C. current of 1,500 volts, and 300-volt current has produced death, while for the continuous current it may be necessary to use 3,000 volts to produce death.

Animal Characteristics

Much Like Those of Men

Animal personalities vary as much as human personalities. No two animals will react to the same stimuli in exactly the same manner. Neither can all leopards, for instance, be judged as one. I have had leopards as pets, notes a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine, which were as fond of me and nearly as trustworthy as a dog. I have also had leopards that were the incarnation of rage and vindictiveness.

It is possible, however, to separate animals into general classifications as regards temperament. Leopards are excitable and nervous, given to violent outbreaks. They are easily frightened and, although their fear often leads them to attack, it is a sort of desperation because of their nervousness and thoughtlessness. Lions are given to terrible bursts of fury, but it requires more time and cause to start a lion than a leopard. Lions think over a situation before plunging. Leopards fight at the drop of a hat—or less.

Cheetahs, although not strictly members of the cat family, exhibit the temperamental qualities of both the lion and leopard. They are very nervous, but at times have a calmness and repose suggestive of lions. When tamed and accustomed to humans, cheetahs can be affectionate and docile. This is a trait of the lion.

VACATIONS and HEALTH

By Dr. ERNEST H. LINES
*Resident Authority and Chief Medical Director

PLANNING YOUR VACATION

VACATIONS and holidays are magic words that conjure up in our minds all the pleasures of travel and change, all the excitements of new places and strange faces, and all the rest and relaxation that come from temporary release from the drudgery and cares that are the lot of all of us in one way or another.

But they should also be planned with an eye towards the fact that they are intended to build us up for the next year's work. Too often people work so hard having a good time that they come home all played out, needing the rest they should have had on their vacation.

Even worse is the idea that we must forget everything but fun and pleasure. Of course banishing business worries and spending your vacation in the proper mental attitude are among the first essentials to getting the most out of your holidays. But it is also wise to use a little forethought to prevent the accidents and illnesses that can so easily spoil a vacation and turn a good time into a tragedy.

Change and Moderation

In planning your vacation, remember that in many respects "a change is as good as a rest." Don't spend your holidays like the sailor who went boating, or the mail-carrier who took a long walk. If possible, do just the opposite from your usual round of activities.

For example, if your occupation is a sedentary one demanding great expenditure of mental energy, plan a vacation of mild physical activity free from all strain. Golf, tennis, swimming, baseball, hiking, and similar physical pursuits in moderation are suggested. Don't begin too vigorously. Exercise should leave a feeling of pleasant fatigue, rather than exhaustion, which is dangerous to health.

Or, if you do physical work the year round, then seek a holiday of relaxation, and perhaps study and read a bit to exercise the mental processes. Some men enjoy the quiet solitude that comes from fishing. Travel for those who can afford it provides an excellent means of obtaining cultural and educational advantages.

Get away from home if you can. If you can't, remember that many people can get more good from spending their vacations at home loafing than those who tire themselves out going away.

Whatever your vacation program may be, don't make it too fatiguing or strenuous. You should plan to build up a reserve of mental and physical energy that may be called upon during the ensuing year. Keep in mind that change and moderation are the two essentials of a profitable vacation.

This is the first of a series of 12 articles on Vacations and Health. The second, on Children in Summer Months, will answer the questions: 1. How should the child's vacation be planned? 2. What precautions should be taken by children in cities? 3. What should be done before children go to summer camps?
