Mrs. E. L. Stewart and daughter, Margaret, are expected home Sunday from a ten days' trip and visit in Portland, Albany and Roseburg. Mr. Stewart expects to go out to Roseburg Sunday to meet them.

Sam Taylor, clothing merchant, left Tuesday on a two weeks' trip which takes him to Eugene, Portland, eastern and southern Oregon. It is in the nature of a merchandising trip through territory he formerly covered.

Mr. and Mrs. Lex Cope and daughter were Coquille visitors from their home near Langlois Wednesday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Cope's mother and sister, of Roseburg, who have been spending the summer with them.

V. R. Wilson, "Optometrist." Errors in refraction corrected, without the use of drugs. "For glasses" see Wilson first and save money. 7tf

Mrs. Lawrence Rackleff, who had been visiting for a week in Canby, returned Wednesday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Ed Rackleff who will spend some time visiting her sons Dave and Lawrence here, and other relatives in the county.

J. A. Fitzpatrick, who underwent an operation for bursted appendix three weeks ago last Monday, was able to be brought home last Sunday. Although still weak he is gaining rapidly now and will soon be back on duty at the City Cleaners.

Ned C. Kelley will insure your trucks and write your bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas drove out to Albany last Saturday and on their return Sunday were accompanied by Mrs. Thomas' brother, V. D. Smith, of Fullerton, Calif., whom she had not seen for twelve years. He remained for a few days' visit before returning home.

Mrs. E. A. Woodyard and daughter, Louise, returned last Saturday from a week's visit in San Francisco and Palo Alto, Calif. They accompanied Geo. Unsoeld and his brother-in-law, Wm. Trehearne, of Arcata, Calif., who went on a buying trip to the bay region.

C. D. Walker says that he expects to be back in Coquille for a few days around the first of the year, and is sure to come back if an oil field is developed here. He and Mrs. Walker left Tuesday afternoon for Seattle where he is going to be associated with a new insurance company.

H. A. Niergarth attended the camp-meeting held at Gladstone Park near Portland, by the Seventh-Day Adventists, from August 3rd to 13th. Leaving here on Friday morning with Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Bunch and family, he returned Sunday evening. There were some 5000 in attendance on Sabbath.

Rev. T. R. Jackman intends leaving tomorrow morning for Ashland, where he will conduct a series of Bible Conferences in the Foursquare church which will end Sunday, Aug. 27. His duties as field superintendent for the church for Oregon, Washington and Idaho, are likely to take him away from home most of the time this next year.

Mrs. Zula Buchheister and Mrs. Elizabeth Ward left this morning for Newport to spend a couple of weeks at that popular resort town. From there Mrs. Buchheister will go on to Vancouver, B. C., to resume her teaching duties in the Foursquare church school and Mrs. Ward will return to Coquille.

Mrs. Harry H. Oerding and members of the 4-H club of which she is leader returned Sunday morning from Portland. They went up Friday night to visit Old Ironsides on Saturday. The girls making the trip were: Irene and Irja Sulin, Freda Young, Laurel Bullard, Bertha Biecke, Barbara Brown and Dorothy Winters.

Lee Herron, who has been in the Veterans' Hospital at Walla Walla for the past three years, was greeting old friends here Friday and Saturday. He is in better health than he has been for some time but is in hopes that life in the open will still further benefit him. He left Saturday for Gold Beach and will go back in the hills for several months.

Marion Clayton returned last Friday evening from a week's vacation from duty at the postoffice. He stopped at Springfield, Bend, The Dalles and Portland. He found the same traffic conditions that this writer did last week—heavier traffic on the Coast Highway than on any of the others. And when he reached the coast at Newport it was like getting into a different country, the heat of the valley being replaced by the coolness of ocean breezes.

Rev. T. R. Jackman, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Knife and Mrs. Tracy Leach left for Portland Sunday night to attend the Rev. R. G. Sumerlin funeral there on Monday. Mrs. O. L. Newton joined the party there and returned with them Tuesday evening. Her mother, Mrs. Knife, remained in the city for a longer stay. The temperature in Portland Tuesday was 104, but when the party reached the coast at Otis there was a general scramble to find and don the coats that had been cast aside over in the valley.

A Brake School August 23
A "Brake School," conducted by a brake mechanic of the Multibestos Co., will be held at the Geo. F. Burr Motor Co. Garage next Wednesday evening, Aug. 23, at 8 o'clock. Anyone interested is invited to come and learn something about brakes.

Curiosity
A woman wrote to the Bank of England asking how she had suddenly become credited with some $30,000 (about $120,000), her investments having been a tiny fraction of that sum. Investigation showed that a clerk had copied into her account the serial number at the top of a page.

4-H Livestock Clubs, Aug. 23

Members of 4-H livestock clubs in Coos county will assemble at the Arago store next Wednesday, August 23, at 9:45 a. m. and will start from there on a tour for stock judging practice, it is announced by George Jenkins, county agent, who has just completed arrangements for the affair.

L. J. Allen, assistant state club leader, will be in Coos county that day and will assist in training the members in judging various classes of livestock which will be assembled on different farms in that section of the county.

Some of the club leaders have been assisting their club in stock judging work at some of the club meetings already held, according to reports. This will be the first and probably the last county meet which will be held for judging practice.

Classes of beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and hogs will be judged and a record kept of placings made by each member. The team scoring highest in the entire contest will have an opportunity to represent Coos county in the 4-H judging contest at the State Fair and the team placing second at the Pacific International. A judging team is made up of three members all from the same livestock club.

To Revisit Childhood Home

Mrs. Wm. Roberts and son and daughter arrived here Monday from their home in San Bernardino, Calif., to spend three weeks visiting relatives. Mrs. Roberts is a sister of Mrs. Jas. Richmond and A. N. Gould. Dr. and Mrs. Richmond drove out to Roseburg to meet them. When they left home the thermometer stood at 116 degrees and in Bakersfield it was 120, and they are certainly enjoying the Coos brand of weather.

Wednesday afternoon the visitors, Mrs. Harriet Gould and A. N. Gould went out to his cabin at Brewster for a couple of days, and tomorrow Mr. Gould, Mrs. Roberts and children, and Mrs. Richmond are going up to their old home above Allegany which requires an eight mile hike. They have not been there since 1912.

Mrs. Harriet Gould expects to go south when her daughter does in early September.

C. R. Webb Leases Stauff Ranch

The ranch in Arago owned by James H. and William H. Stauff, of Santa Monica and Granada, California, respectively, was leased Saturday to C. R. Webb, formerly of the Coquille-Marshfield highway.

Mrs. Dan Miller had been occupying the Stauff place but after the death of her husband was forced to make different arrangements. She has moved to the Mrs. Pearl Mann ranch on the North Fork of the Coquille river, to make her home with her son, Tom Royer.

Mr. Webb and his wife took possession of the Stauff ranch Monday and intend operating the dairy ranch on a large scale.—Myrtle Point Herald.

To Whom It May Concern

Constitutional Monarchy, Kingdom

The difference between a constitutional monarchy and a kingdom is that a constitutional monarchy is a sovereign state having a constitution, and a king, queen, or emperor as the highest executive authority. A kingdom is a country ruled by a king, and may be either a sovereign state, a dependency, or a sphere of influence.

Peanut Butter

Peanut butter first came into use about 25 or 30 years ago as a food for invalids. It soon became a staple article of food. Peanut butter contains only the ground kernels of roasted, blanched peanuts, with the addition of 1 to 4 per cent of salt. The food value of peanut butter is very high.

or twice a month. Every so often they send delegates to a large convention. He said in this way they had a very active organization.

G. H. Jensen, chairman of the Fur Sales committee, spoke next, dealing with the work of the committee and how the fur industry had weathered the depression better than any other farming industry.

Dr. Beck, who has charge of the fur show to be put on in Seattle this fall, discussed their plans for that. They plan to have a style show, at least 1,000 pelts on display, a great number of live animals and several miniature pens. The show will cover a period of three days and gives promise of being one of the finest ever put on in the Northwest.

Dr. Dederer, of the Seattle Fur Exchange, exhibiting eight or nine pelts, telling of their assets, defects, approximate value and he also told what fur farms should have and what foxes should have in the way of pelts; also how to ship pelts.

C. D. Garfield spoke on the varieties of fur animals in Alaska. There are to date 180 blue fox, 130 silver fox, 40 white, 140 mink, 2 racoon farms in Alaska, with a total of 600 farms.

C. W. Stacy, of Salem, spoke on his eight years' experience with polygamous matings. He also gave a suggestion as to what a fur farmer should do for each month of the year.

A 500-foot motion picture of the McKenzie Fox ranch at Rainbow, Oregon, was shown by Geo. P. Williams, of Portland. It showed their pens, the big five-acre furring pen, expert pelting of foxes, etc.

Mr. Stacy illustrated on two live foxes how to cut the tendons of a fox's foot to keep them from fighting.

Next came the question box in which breeders had put questions to be answered by Mr. Finlay, Mr. Walker, the Washington men and several others.

The last thing on the program was the giving of the door prizes, presented by various dealers.

The Bridge of Sighs

The famous original Bridge of Sighs leads across one of the canals in Venice. It connected the palace of the Doge to the state prison in the days of the Venetian republic. In imitation, a bridge in New York city, over which prisoners are taken into the Tombs, is called the Bridge of Sighs.

Turtle 250 Years Old

A seventy-eight-pound turtle, which was dubbed Methuselah because it is estimated he is two hundred and fifty years old, was found in a pond near Tyler, Texas. It has a shell so thick and tough that a man can stand on its back. Methuselah was placed in the city park.

Myopia

Approximately 250,000,000 persons, or 23 per cent of the entire adult population of the world, suffer from myopia, or near-sightedness.

The Best for Every Child

Why does it pay to study music with an accredited teacher?

1. She is experienced; must have had several years' successful teaching before taking the state examination.
2. She is educated; must pass an examination, given by the State Board of Education in presence of Superintendents of Schools.
3. These teachers are established here; they have given their talent and time to the community, proven their ability and deserve your patronage.

In Justice Court Yesterday
The case of Western Mecantile Agency against Wesley and Thelma Downs was tried in Justice Stanley's court here Thursday. The action was brought on three assigned claims; one in favor of Garoutte Bros. of Bandon for $11.65, one in favor of Dr. Lowe for $56.00 and one in favor of Chas. Oerding for $2.46. The case was tried before a jury consisting of Z. C. Strang, E. L. Hand, Faye Meredith, Minnie L. Johnson, T. B. Currie and Neil McGilvery; the plaintiff being represented by Carl M. Mack and the defendants by Clarence Barton.

After being out about an hour, the jury returned a verdict of $9.15 in favor of Garoutte Bros., $1.00 in favor of Dr. Lowe and in favor of the defendants as to the Chas. Oerding claim.

None of the parties have thus far given intimation of an intention to appeal the case to a higher court.
