

Jimmy Cagney in "Picture Snatcher" at Liberty Theatre Tonight — "Hold Your Man" with Jean Harlow & Clark Gable Sun.

Jimmy Cagney has come back! Not that Jimmy ever was down and out as a picture star. Far from it. But it must be admitted that the hard boiled champion lady smacker and grape fruit hurler fell down hard in his last picture, "Hard to Handle." Again, not as far as his picture work was concerned, for it was one of his best.

But he failed miserably as woman baiter. He never socked a single one. Now comes Jimmy again in a new picture for Warner Bros. "Picture Snatcher," which shows at the Liberty Theatre tonight and Saturday.

And does Jimmy make good again as a lady smacker. He has invented an entirely new kind of a sock to put the lady who displeases him in her place. It is efficient and efficacious, and Alice White, who loves him not wisely but alas too well, goes down for the count—and out. Two other girls also are given lessons in Jimmy's new method of making the ladies behave.

Two of Hollywood's best known Western stars "joined up" with Paramount to play in Zane Grey's "Sunset Pass," which shows as the 11 o'clock preview Saturday night.

They are Tom Keene, who is cast in the leading role, and Harry Carey, one of the menaces of the cast. Keene plays the role of a Cattleman's Association deputy, engaged to run down a gang of rustlers, who finds that the brother of the girl he loves is the man he must apprehend.

"Sunset Pass," the film, follows closely the original story by Zane Grey. It is replete with thrilling incidents—a raging prairie fire, a mad stampede of an enormous herd of cattle, and plenty of hard riding and breathless gun fighting.

Hollywood was combed for a three-year-old boy with Clark Gable's smile and Jean Harlow's hair to play the part of their son in "Hold Your Man," their new co-starring vehicle which comes Sunday for three days to the Liberty.

In the story, an original by Anita Loos, there is a scene in which the little child appears. The dramatic action demands that he be instantly recognized as the son of the characters portrayed by Miss Harlow and Gable.

Eager Mothers Respond

Director Sam Wood, trying to figure the best way to clinch such an identification, decided it was necessary to use a child who had the outstanding characteristics of the co-stars. The casting office sent out a call which was responded to by more than a half hundred anxious mothers with sons of all sizes and descriptions, each insisting her child was a dead-ringer for Miss Harlow and Gable.

Little Bobby Burns finally won the part with his smile and hair, much to the chagrin of the brigade of disappointed mothers.

Fewer Out-of-State Students

A larger proportion of women and a smaller proportion of out-of-state students in the freshmen class at Oregon State college, compared with last year, is indicated by the advance applications for admittance received by E. B. Lemon, registrar.

As freshman week starts September 8, Mr. Lemon is urging students to file their credentials immediately so as to avoid delay and possible disappointment in the last rush at registration time. This applies equally to all institutions, he says.

Students are going to be able to start this year with somewhat less cash in hand than at any time in many years as the result of reductions of fees and other expenses in effect this fall. It is estimated that with the cutting of fees by six dollars a term and with dormitory board and room at $25 a month that it will cost a student at least $100 less a year than could have been estimated a year ago.

Friday Is a Safer Day

Persons who are superstitious about "good luck" days to start motor trips will be interested in recent reports from the office of Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state, concerning "good record" days from the accident standpoint. Contrary to common belief, most accidents occur on Saturday and Monday rather than on Sunday, and contrary to superstitious ideas, Friday is not a bad luck day for accidents. Instead, Friday rates next to Wednesday in having the fewest number of accidents reported in Oregon since January 1, 1933. Approximately 18 per cent of the 10,271 accidents reported so far this year happened on Saturday 14 per cent on Sunday, 16 per cent on Monday, and 13 per cent on each of the remaining days.

General E. L. Vinton Talks on the N. R. A. Campaign

While it is the desire of those in charge of the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign to see widespread use made of the official emblem of the N. R. A. which bears the words, "We Do Our Part," it was pointed out today by E. L. Vinton, general in charge of the big drive in Coquille, that it is a serious offense on the part of anyone who might make improper use of the insignia. Mr. Vinton made it plain that the N. R. A. official emblem is the property of the United States Government and may not be used or reproduced without authority of the N. R. A.

"The Government's regulations permit the use of this emblem," continued Mr. Vinton, "by all employers who sign the President's Re-employment Agreement and comply with it, and the regulations also permit consumers to wear or display a similar badge but only in the form authorized for consumers who sign a statement of co-operation.

"The Government's regulations also provide that by application to the N. R. A. any responsible manufacturer will be authorized to make and offer for sale hangers, cards, and stickers provided (a) that he agrees to conform to regulations to prevent the emblem coming into hands of employers not authorized to use it, (b) he himself has signed the President's Agreement and is authorized to use the emblem; and (c) he will sell at a reasonable price. Information regarding manufacturers authorized to supply the emblem will be issued by the N. R. A. from time to time. For purposes of reproduction, the N. R. A. will be glad to furnish original drawings to such manufacturers to the extent they are available but cannot undertake to do so if the demand should prove large.

"Every such manufacturer shall require of every employer ordering such emblems that he affix to his order one of the 1 1/4 in. stickers. Any newspaper, magazine, or other publication is authorized to reproduce the emblem in the advertisement of any employer, provided such employer files with the newspaper, magazine or other publication a written statement that he has signed the President's Agreement and affixes the sticker thereto."

With regard to the Government's requirements of the manufacturers of stationery, Mr. Vinton said: "Any manufacturer of stationery or advertising literature, including labels, is authorized to reproduce the emblem on behalf of any employer who files with such manufacturer a written statement that he has signed the President's Agreement and affixes the sticker thereto."

Mr. Vinton also stated that employers desiring to make other uses of the emblem may consult the N. R. A.
