Dr. J. R. Bunch Addressed B. P. W. Club Monday Night

Dr. J. R. Bunch, of Coquille, gave a very interesting talk on "Diet in Relation to Tooth Decay," at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday, November 6. He told about the experiment of Dr. Hawkins of U. S. C., who found that he could not carry on his experiments in private homes but had to use children in an orphanage. He eliminated meat, sugar, and white flour from their diet and decay was arrested in ninety per cent of the cases, in the other ten per cent the children had other bodily ills. Dr. Bunting, of Chicago, carried on an analytical experiment and found that the germ of decay would live only in an acid medium. Dr. Dean, of the University of Ohio, also experimented and in his experiments allowed nothing to be eaten between meals. Dr. Bunch stressed the point that you could not diet one child, but the entire family must take the diet as an individual diet is not successful, it must be collective.

Mrs. E. A. Woodyard sang the following numbers for those present: "Morning," "Star Eyes," "King Solomon and King David" and "Memories." Mrs. Lela Elrod discussed "The Use and Abuse of Narcotics." She gave a brief history of narcotics and told of the conferences that had been held to curb the use of narcotics. She discussed the different types and the different methods of using them.

Miss Edith Scott told of the health exercises she has followed for the last twenty years.

Prior to the program a business meeting was held at which time the Finance committee reported that approximately $90 had been turned over to the treasurer from the recent Harvest Festival Dance and it was voted that $50 be turned over to the Scholarship Loan Fund.

Fourteen members answered roll call in the recent membership contest. It was decided to change the hour of meeting from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock so that all members would have an opportunity to be present when the roll call is made. Some members were finding it impossible to be there at the present hour but could attend later, yet were not counted in the contest if they were not there for roll call. Jennie Lindros gave the club collect from memory so that she gained points for her side in the contest. Attempts were made by two other members who were not successful.

After the program by the Health committee a miscellaneous chowder was given Mrs. Marguerite Agostino Brodie, our most recent bride. She was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Everyone in the club wishes Marguerite many, many years of happiness.

A Communication What We Need.

I have been paying a great deal of attention to the desperate condition of our great American Farmers.

We all have our opinions and I would like to offer my suggestion.

If our counties would establish commissaries and cold storage plants, then allow us to pay at least one-tenth of our tax in farm commodities to be used for relief in our respective counties, instead of taxing us for so much cash that is dribbled out in orders on stores, that leave our home grown products go to waste, while they ship in the very things we have.

Right here in my own neighborhood there are fifteen farmers that are paying from $200.00 to $600.00 per year tax. We all have such as beef, pork, potatoes, apples and other things too numerous to mention going to waste, while our taxes are unpaid and our homes advertised for sale.

This plan would not compete with our local stores and markets for they, too, could pay one tenth of their tax in such commodities as the farmers do not have.

Our county employees and people who hold county warrants could trade them in at face value, instead of taking from 15 to 40 per cent discount as they are now doing. This would clean up a large percentage of warrants and save the county the six per cent interest at the same time help the farmers.

This plan could be worked into a far reaching business that would include most every one who pays tax. We would then have chain stores that would be a great benefit to all our local people.

We all know the old adage, "What's good for the goose is good for the gander." So if what we raise is good enough for us it should be good enough for our indigents.

Most of our laws are founded along the principles laid down by Moses. His plan was one tenth of the fruits of the land for the poor. I am only asking one-tenth of our tax.

For example, a man who pays $250.00 tax would be allowed to pay $25.00 in produce, the very best he had, and receive credit on his tax.

Think this over, it can be worked out.

Mrs. D. P. Jenkins, Bandon.

"Her Step-Husband" Will be Presented This Evening

trouble, chin-deep. One of her picturesque lies, namely, that she and her husband are simply wallowing in luxury, even to the point of keeping a butler, reaches the ears of her well-to-do aunt, who pays her an unexpected visit. The fourflusher puts up a gallant fight to save her face, borrowing enough household furnishings to hide from aunt the most obvious signs of poverty, and pressing her long-suffering husband into service as the butler. Now aunt has never met hubby; so when it becomes necessary to trot out some kind of a husband for her inspection, Mary digs up a quick-witted stranger, who obligingly passes himself off as her husband. The step-husband, though a good fourflusher, is no match for Mary and soon has them both in hot water. Not until she has maneuvered poor hubby to the very threshold of jail, does she call a halt on her wild orgy of pretending. The cast is enriched by a tough but sentimental jailbird, a comic maid also too good to be true, and a policeman who is a masterly hit of satire. Aunt alone is worth the price of admission. The play abounds in witty lines that keep the audience roaring.

45 Attend Firemen Meeting

The members of the Coquille Fire Department, representative from the other fire departments in the county, Mayor Berg and the Coquille city council, altogether about 45 men, were present at the regular monthly meeting of the fire departments of the county held here last Friday evening.

A dinner was enjoyed in Moose Hall, and most of the evening was spent in discussing fires outside the city limits. The Marshfield department told of their success in organizing a rural fire department and stated that Bunker Hill had joined in supporting the department.

To Bandon and Marshfield went the doubtful honor of reporting the most fires for October.

After talks by Mayor Berg and the councilmen the meeting adjourned. The next session will be held in Marshfield in December.

Normal Homecoming Nov. 17-18

The annual Southern Oregon Normal School Homecoming will be held on November 17 and 18 at Ashland. The Lithia Springs Hotel has been selected as headquarters. The courtesy committee will have a desk in the lobby, and the banquet on Saturday evening will be held there.

The chief feature of the Homecoming will be the game between Southern Oregon and Eastern Oregon Normal Schools on Ashland High School field. A big noise parade and bonfire will be held on Friday evening. This will be followed by a Midnight Review at the Lithia Theatre.
