SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Alice Alverdes, of Myrtle Point, was honor guest at a delightful dinner party given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Hal Baxter on Knowlton Heights. It was also on this occasion that Mrs. Baxter announced the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. John Hawkins, nee Fredah Baxter, to her many girl friends who were included that evening. Just before the dessert was served little Miss Bonita Rooney, who was attractvely dressed in a long yellow, old-fashioned dress and poke bonnet, passed among the guests cards announcing the recent marriage. After the dinner bridge was played with Miss Harding winning high score prize and Miss Alverdes was presented a guest prize. Included were Misses Alice Alverdes, Harriet Gould, Mary Ella Cary, Kathleen McClintock, Barbara Bradford, Jeanette Pook, Avis Hartson, Marvin Jane Hawkins, Dean Harding, Dorothy and Florence Cary, Jean Pierce, Gloria Getz, Florence Folsom, Mrs. J. W. Laird and Mrs. Julia L. Randleman.

Monday evening Mrs. M. J. Hartson entertained her Bridge club at her home on Willard street with the following attending: Mesdames J. L. Aasen, A. B. Collier, Geo. Johnson, H. S. Norton, E. M. Kay, and two extra guests, Mesdames E. W. Lorenz and George Lorenz.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Donald Estes Tuesday evening by members of the Entre Nous club at which time Mrs. Watson won the high score prize. The next club meeting which will be in two weeks will be at the home of Mrs. H. H. Oerding. Members met for dinner dessert with the following provided for: Mesdames E. L. Vinton, Julius Ruble, Kenneth Kistner, Walter Litzenberger, F. C. Hudson, H. H. Oerding, Roy Watson and Richard Barnes.

The Needle Workers club ladies met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Taylor with sewing and refreshments both enjoyed. Attending were Mesdames Swain Donsted, C. C. Bonniksen, Frank Pook, Jack Arnold, W. D. Simmons, W. E. Cross, Ed Detlefsen, Frank F. Schram, E. C. Yarbrough, Fred Hickok, E. A. Wimer, Geo. Gilman and a guest, Mrs. Harold Simmons.

Mrs. E. L. Wilson had her bridge club members meet Thursday afternoon at her home for dessert luncheon, which was served at one-thirty o'clock. Mrs. Knight won the high score prize while Mrs. McCloskey the consolation. Mrs. Newdall, who was a guest that day, was given a prize gift. Covers were laid for Mesdames Theodore Clinton, Geo. Johnson, C. P. Zumwalt, Joe Knight, Richard Barnes, M. M. Newdall and J. H. McCloskey and Ray Rickman, of Norway and Myrtle Point. In three weeks the club will be entertained by Mrs. Zumwalt.

For luncheon today Mrs. M. O. Hawkins is entertaining the Just-a-mere club ladies, with sewing as the afternoon diversion. Covers were provided for Mesdames O. C. Sanford, Hal W. Pierce, J. A. Lamb, A. J. Sherwood, L. H. Hazard, H. A. Young, Bert Folsom, J. L. Smith, Nels Osmundson, Lyman Carrier, C. J. Fuhrman, W. S. Sickels, F. L. Greenough, R. A. Wernich, Paul Van Scoy and Mrs. E. E. Johnson, of Marshfield.

Pierce-Curts

The wedding of Donald J. Pierce and Dena Curts was solemnized at the bride's home on North Coulter street last Sunday at 3 p. m., Rev. G. A. Gray being the officiating clergyman, in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Miss Katherine Wilson was bridesmaid and Robert R. Watson was groomsman.

The bride was attired in green chiffon and the bridesmaid in pink. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

The floral decorations were of pink carnations and asparagus fern.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon of cake and coffee was served by Mrs. H. S. Norton and Misses Katherine Wilson and Janet Tyrrell.

Both the young people are graduates of Coquille high school. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ellingson and the groom is the son of D. D. Pierce, and a brother of H. W. Pierce. He is employed by the Coos Bay Lumber Co. at Powers.

Besides those mentioned above the guests included Mrs. N. P. Wilson, sister of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Tyrrell, Mrs. S. L. Lafferty, Mrs. C. W. Ashton, Mrs. Jennie Price, Mrs. Kate Sigler, Mrs. Pearl Ellingsen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steckel, Mrs. Robert Watson, Miss Edna Robison, Denton Ellingson, H. S. Norton, George Robison, Miss Elizabeth Pierce and Dan Maurice Curts, the bride's son.

See Mansell Drayage and Delivery Co. for Mill Wood, $2 a load. Orders filled promptly.

Attractions Next Week at the Liberty Theatre

PAT O'BRIEN, JEAN HARLOW and IVAN LEBEDEFF in "BOMBSHELL"

Abounding in historic feuds between cattlemen, the rugged West furnished Zane Grey with one of its most spectacular struggles for "To the Last Man," which Paramount has just filmed. The picture is coming tonight and Saturday to the Liberty Theatre.

The imposing all-star cast features Randolph Scott, Esther Ralston, Buster Crabbe, Jack LaRue, and Noah Beery. The company of more than 150 players was sent to the actual location of Zane Grey's story, where it remained for several weeks in order to provide the picture with the necessary tone of realism.

The story has its inception in post-Civil War days. One of two feuding families of Kentucky decides to call quits to the bloodshed. The head of the other family, sent to jail for the last killing, follows his old rival to Arizona. There the relentless feud is revived.

"Brief Moment," Columbia Pictures' adaptation of the successful Broadway stage production of the same name, will show as the preview Saturday night.

Jean Harlow and Lee Tracy, together for the first time as co-stars, are said to have provided the biggest truckload of laughs to roll out of Hollywood in the hilarious picture, "Bombshell," which heads the program starting Sunday at the Liberty Theatre.

The production is described as a pictorial record of Hollywood laughing at itself, a story woven around the myths and rumors that have flown out of the film capital and presented in a composite of humor and laugh-provoking situations for the amusement of the movie-going public.

Miss Harlow, in what she admits to be the most unusual role of her career, is seen as a glamorous screen star whose life is made miserable by the antics of her press agent, Lee Tracy; her liquor-loving father, Frank Morgan; her false lover, Franchot Tone,; her director, Pat O'Brien; her secretary, Una Merkel; her brother, Ted Healy—and a score or more of other well-known personalities who constitute what is practically an all-star cast.

After wardrobe experts and costume designers had debated weeks over the most appropriate clothes for Joan Crawford to wear in her latest starring picture, "Rain," which comes to the Liberty Theatre on pal nights next week, the United Artists studio bought her a $17.50 outfit in a Los Angeles department store.

It was not a question of finances, but of realism, that prompted the film corporation to pass up the facilities of its own large wardrobe department and shop for an inexpensive, flashy bunch of finery for the usually fastidiously-dressed star.

Fine Booth Exhibits at the Corn Show

quille Grange and the Bridge Grange each had a well-selected, nicely displayed exhibit of crops produced in the several localities.

Troop No. 14, Boy Scouts, in a greenery-walled booth, showed Boy Scout equipment and it is a sad reflection on human honesty to have to record that some of it was stolen Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Cooper's Myrtle Greenhouses at Myrtle Point, had one of the beautiful displays with its floral and rock plants exhibits.

The Myrtlewood Products Co. display featured a few myrtle novelties and huge slabs of myrtle, both polished and unfinished.

Swift & Co., display of Swiss and Brookfield cheese and butter was another which was tampered with, three 25-pound cheeses being removed Saturday evening.

A. T. Morrison's cranberry and floral display showed what he is doing since he retired as juvenile officer.

The Coquille Flower Lovers Club exhibit is elsewhere mentioned in this issue.

The McKinley community club was another of those splendid ranch displays which show what the farmer can do in Coos county.

The Home Ec club of the local high school, with their samples of sewing, canning, pie and cake-making looked most attractive.

The Coquille Camp Fire girls featured equipment used in ceremonials, and the Coquille High School F. F. A. boys had prepared a clever dairy ranch and poultry scene.

W. T. Alpine's display of coal from his well-known mine and Riverton was a mining scene, or rather one showing the huge lump of coal emerging from the Stygian blackness of the mine.

Wreck Due to Broken Rod

That wreck of Geo. Unsoeld's car just outside of Eureka on Wednesday night of last week was a very fortunate one, although the car was a complete loss. But it could easily have resulted in fatalities.

Mr. and Mrs. Unsoeld, their daughter, Barbara, and two of her school friends had gone from Arcata in to Eureka for a show and dinner. They started back to Arcata about eleven o'clock and Mr. Unsoeld found the car was not steering right. As he crossed a bridge at the edge of town he saw a red light in the fog just ahead. When he put on his brake, the car slid forward and the steering wheel had no control over the direction taken by the front wheels. The auto plunged through a fence, down an eight-foot bank, turned a somersault over its nose and then rolled on its side into two feet of water. Had it gone the other way it would have landed in eight feet of water in the bay.

Mrs. Unsoeld was bruised and shaken, Barbara received a cut on the back of her head, Mr. Unsoeld a cut on his ear, but the other girls were not injured.

The tie-rod which connects the two front wheels had broken and the impossibility of control caused the accident.

Every window in the car, except the windshield was broken out.

Mr. Unsoeld arrived home Monday with a 1930 Buick on which he had traded in the wrecked Hudson.

For several minutes after the wreck he attempted to hail passing cars but for some time none would stop.

Coquille V. F. W. Elects

At a meeting held here last night, Coquille Valley Post, No. 1412, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. elected the following named as officers for the year 1934:

Commander—Harry Oerding.
Jr. Vice Comdr.—Chas. O. Fohl.
Quartermaster—Ellis B. Fuller.
Post Advocate—J. Arthur Berg.
Officer of the Day—Chas. Lewis.
Trustees—Drue Cunningham, Alton H. Grimes and Lloyd Laird.

These were in addition to Henry George and Edwin J. Brophy, previously elected Senior Vice Commander and Chaplain respectively. Officers had previously been elected but the comrades decided to establish a new Post at Myrtle Point and as the other officers-elect were from Myrtle Point, they resigned in order to transfer to the new Post when organized, which will be early next month according to present plans. The newly elected officers will be installed next Friday at a hall to be decided later, in this city. The Department Officer is expected to do the installing.

The November meeting of the Coos County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Coquille Hotel next Monday evening, Nov. 20, starting with a dinner at 6:30 p. m. The annual election of officers will be held at that time and a full representation from all six towns in the county is expected. H. G. Kern has served as president of the chamber the past year, and Clifford Day, both of North Bend, as secretary.

There were a number of other entries in the parade which deserved special mention, the Woman's Club and B. P. W. floats, the Riverton and Valley View schools and B. Y. P. U. floats, the Coquille grades, marching as Pilgrims, the Junior High and Girls League floats, the McKesson announcing car which helped to a great degree both days, the Coquille Happy Timers and other unnamed groups, Dad in a wonderful garb and fascinating to the masculine eye, the Arago grade float, L. C. Starr's bridle bull, the V. F. W. ox team, the mule team and two-wheel cart, any one of which was worthy of more detailed description than we have room to give.

Grange Election Last Night

Coquille Grange No. 396 elected officers at their regular meeting in W. O. W. hall last evening. Those selected will be installed at the same time other grange installations are held, during the Grange Jubilee here in Coquille on Dec. 2. Those chosen last night were:

Master—W. E. Cross.
Overseer—Jno. A. Martin.
Lecturer—Mrs. Edna Rakestraw.
Steward—Ithamer Robison.
Asst. Steward—Carlton Smith.
Lady Asst. Steward—Mrs. Frank Wilson.
