● Ceaseless and unmerciful abuse on the toughest roads — worse treatment than you ever give a tire even with your fast-sprinting, higher-powered, easy-braking car — that's what the new "G-3" took, better than any tire ever built before! . . . Come see the greatest Goodyear ever offered — let us point out its marvelous features and quote you on a set.

GOOD NEWS

This marvelous new G-3 All-Weather with its many advantages over any other tire on the market costs you nothing extra.

Here's what you get in Goodyear's new "G-3"!

You get the broader road contact of a flatter, wider All-Weather Tread.

You get quicker-stopping and the greater road grip of more non-skid blocks in the center.

You get the easy steering and smooth travel of wider riding ribs.

You get the slow, even wear of closer-nested non-skid blocks and ribs.

You get more rubber in the tread—an average of two pounds more per tire.

—all of which adds up to 43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE at no extra cost to you!

Live News From Arago

Mrs. Mary Miller is spending a short time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Robison, on Fishtrap.

Mrs. Orvus Miller returned to her home Friday after a week's stay in Coquille at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McQuigg. Her back is somewhat improved but not well as yet.

Frank Miller has been suffering from rheumatism of late but was able to limp around and watch the ball games on the last day of school.

Mrs. Art Farrier entertained a group of friends with an all-day quilting party on Thursday. Among those present were Mesdames Norman Halter and Kermit Shaw, of Coquille; Everett Lafferty, of Myrtle Point; Wendel Shaw, Adrian Halter, Marvin Shaw, Gordon Fleming and Miss Evelyn Doyle, of Arago.

The Ladies Aid of Arago met for their last scheduled meeting of the summer Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Schroeder. They pieced another quilt top for the Boys and Girls Home at Corvallis and planned home work for the summer. Those present were Mesdames Olaf Aasen, J. L. Burtis, Tyrrell Woodward, John Carl, C. S. Webb, Albert Gulstrom, Ernest Watkins, Naomi Robison, Elizabeth Lett and the hostess.

The children, teachers and patrons of the Arago school gathered in the play building for a picnic dinner after the report cards were distributed Friday morning. The way the tables were lightened of their burden of pie, cake, noodles and other delicacies was almost like magic. While the ladies did the dishes and packed the empty baskets the high school girls practiced baseball—but they needed even more than that advantage—because after seven hilarious innings the ladies emerged victorious, with a much argued score of seventeen to eleven. The high school boys were fortunate enough to recapture the laurels with a score of 47 to 24. The game was too long for the men. This was due in part to the fact that four of the men's team were "convertible" and had already appeared during the full hard-fought seven inning ladies' game.

The graduation exercises for both the grade and high school were held in the high school gymnasium Friday evening. The building had been transformed by the members of the Junior class. The ceiling was interlaced with green and white crepe paper streamers while the background of the stage was a mass of shaded green fir boughs with the class numerals outlined in white roses. Large bows of white roses, the class flower, lined the edge of the stage, making a lovely setting for the young people. The program was short but unusually excellent, being as follows:

Processional - Mrs. Olaf Aasen
Invocation - Turner B. MacDonald
Song, "Dreams of Arago"

Iris Barklow, Jean Watkins,
Annie Deardorff, Mary Watkins
Introduction of speaker Mr. Allen
Address - Charles E. Walker,

President of Northwestern School of Commerce in Portland
Song, "A Thousand Goodnights"

Junior Boys' Quartet

Presentation of Diplomas Geo. Robison, Chairman Board of Education

The eighth grade graduates were:
Esther Barnett, Naomi Miller, Ivan
Robison, Clyde Lillie, Steven Aasen,
Ellis Rackleff. The high school graduates were Herbert Carl, valedictorian,

Iola Robison and Harold Fish.

The special Mother's Day services of the Arago Community Church were held in the gymnasium Sunday morning. Rev. Mallory Flanagan preached the sermon. Mrs. McAllister sang a solo and then the Sunday school put on a short program, featuring a dialogue by the primary pupils: Wallace Cross, John Paul Root, Lillaverle Myers, Glenda Stewart, Kent Hickam and Donald Hollenbeck; recitations by Jean Watkins and Maxine Rackleff; a duet by Jean Watkins and Annie Deardorff. The collections from the service were sent to the Boys and Girls Farm Home in Corvallis.

The honor roll of the high school as shown on the bulletin board for the second semester averages was as follows: Leatha Munford, Annie Deardorff and Mary Watkins, with the full semester average of 80 or higher; the honorable mention pupils with no grades below 70 were: Alvin Fredenberg and Willie Sinko, with just one 70 each to keep them from the honor roll; Merle Randelman, Wallace and Herbert Carl, Harold Fish, Jeanne Watkins and Cecil Patrick.

Friends of Mrs. Martha McNair, of Bandon, will be glad to know that she is able to sit up after her very serious attack of influenza recently.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watkins and daughters, Mary Jean and Anne, and B. B. Watkins drove to Bandon to spend the day with Mrs. B. B. Watkins, who arrived at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. John Dameron, on Friday evening after a three months' visit with her son, Ray, in Eureka, California, where she was convalescing from a nervous breakdown suffered at Christmas time. She is not able to come home as yet and Mr. Watkins returned Sunday to accompany her to the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. K. Baker, who lives on a ranch south of Bandon. They will stay until Mrs. Watkins has recovered sufficiently to come home.

Mrs. Ernest Wiebe and daughter, Helen, accompanied Alvin Billings from Powers Wednesday evening. They spent Thursday visiting her brother, L. W. McAdams and her older daughter, Beverly, who has been visiting her uncle and aunt the past week. Mrs. Wiebe and both daughters returned to their home in Powers Sunday.

John Dameron, of Bandon, drove up Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dameron and stayed till Monday evening visiting at the home of his uncle, Sam Dameron, on upper Hall's creek.

Marjorie Hill was able to be out Friday for the first time since her recent operation.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank the friends who gave such loving help and sympathy during the illness and after the death of our beloved daughter and sister, Madeline Bennett, and the lodges and all others who helped, and for the beautiful flowers.

An interesting Mother's Day program was given at the Church of Christ Sunday.

Miss Elsie Moller returned to her home after spending the week-end with friends in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Garrett and daughter, Margaret, returned home Tuesday afternoon from a six weeks' stay in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. E. Clausen spent the week-end with her daughter, Cornelia, who is attending O. S. C.

Donald Brown returned home Sunday evening from Lakeside, where he spent the week-end with relatives.

Mrs. R. L. Tucker and daughter, Ellen, left Wednesday morning for Mississippi, where they will attend the graduation of Burr Monrad, son of Mrs. Tucker. They plan to be away several weeks and will visit relatives and friends in several different states.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pedan and family have moved into the Furman house on the Roseburg road just out of town.

The Presbyterian Aid met in the church parlors Wednesday with Mrs. E. V. Ostrander, Mrs. N. E. Bond and Mrs. W. W. Deyoe as hostesses. The afternoon was spent sewing for the bazaar. Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Mrs. Ernie Barklow entered the Mast hospital Saturday to receive medical treatment.

Mrs. G. L. McKay and daughter, Harriet, returned home Monday from Corvallis, where they spent the week-end with Ferris McKay and Ena Christensen, who are attending O. S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wessel and daughter, Louise, and nephew, Leonard, of Laurenceburg, Calif., are visiting this week at the Fred Schofield home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fish and daughter returned to their home in Seattle after a visit here with Mr. Fish's mother, Mrs. Lily Fish, and his brother, Arthur Fish.

Mrs. Frances Keffler returned to her home in Portland after a visit here at the home of Mrs. Mary Poppe.

Mrs. William Lewis and two sons, of Arcata, California, are spending this week at the home of Mrs. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Mary Adams.

Graduation exercises for the 1934 Senior class of the Myrtle Point high school were held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening. Chas. Walker, president of the Portland business college, was the speaker of the evening. This year's class numbered 45.

Traffic began on the new Hoffman bridge Tuesday. The bridge will be completed in about ten days or two weeks.

Good Wrestling Card

Pleases a Small Crowd

The wrestling exhibition at the Community Building Tuesday evening was a much better card than the attendance warranted. In fact, several fans state that it was a better card throughout than is often seen at the Bay where the armory is crowded with thrill-seeking spectators.

Gus Bennett, of Tulsa, Okla., won two out of three falls from Lyndon Jones, of McMinnville, the latter substituting for Joe Gardiner, who was injured the night before.

Jones was much more scientific but the weight of Bennett's arms. After half an hour of pummeling, leg and arm and toe twisting, during which a lot of the thousand holds known to wrestlers were used, Jones was finally successful in a flying body scissors and instantly snapped on a step-over toe hold to win the fall.

The second round had not much more than started when Bennett secured an "Adams apple" press with his forehead and Jones patted the mat to save himself from strangulation.

Jones attempted headlocks to throw Bennett for the third fall but the weight of the latter was too great and as Bennett slipped from one of these punishing holds he grabbed Jones and threw him over his head. The latter was out for a few minutes but quickly recovered under the ministrations of Dr. C. G. Stem, chiropractor, who slipped the vertebrae in his neck back in place.

Jack Mitchell, of Longview, won two falls from Dutch Aultman, of Fargo, N. D., in what was the roughest match of the evening. Slugging, kicking, nearly everything went, and one was no more gentle than the other.

The preliminary, presented as the second bout, was between two youngsters from Camp Bradford. They put on a nice exhibition, with the rough stuff eliminated.

It was an excellent card for those who enjoy the rough mixing of present-day wrestling, and the fans seem to enjoy it.
