Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stanley, of Coquille, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jens T. Hansen, of Marshfield, returned last Friday evening from a combined business and pleasure trip up the Oregon and Washington coasts. They left here Sunday morning, June 17, and drove up the coast road to Astoria, where they attended to some business which required the greater part of the following day; they then crossed the Columbia river by ferry and drove up the Washington coast road, a continuation of U. S. 101 highway, to Aberdeen, where they stayed over night, driving out to near-by places of interest. Tuesday they drove via Olympia and Tacoma to Seattle, where they spent two days transacting further business and also visiting friends and relatives.

They started home Thursday morning but stopped at Centralia for a short call on Mrs. S. W. Upton, a sister of Mrs. Stanley, and arrived in Portland that evening, there calling on a sister and a brother of Mr. Hansen. They report a most enjoyable trip, although they had several showers both in Washington and Oregon. The strike was very noticeable both in Seattle and in Portland.

Fan Dancer at Liberty Tonight

---Flight Pictures Next Week

Charming and alluring Fay Baker, the original fan dancer, will be seen on the stage of the Liberty Theatre, in person, tonight and Saturday night. Behind waving and brilliant ostrich plume fans, Miss Baker performs the dance which has made her internationally famous and her feminine loveliness and attractive personality have put her over in a big way wherever she has appeared. And they say in the show business, Fay has "what it takes" to be a star... and that something is showmanship, personality, beauty and talent.

"Smarty," the novel story of a rotating wife who furnishes some of the strangest and most hilarious martial tangles imaginable, comes to the Liberty tonight and Saturday with Joan Blondell and Warren William in the leading roles.

The plot, based on the play by F. Hugh Herbert, concerns a young bride, beautiful but irritating, who longs to be crushed and mauled and beaten up in true cave man style by her love mate, and continues her search for such a he-brute until she finds him.

The most ambitious attempt ever made by a motion picture studio to bring an adventure story to the screen was completed with the filming of "Tarzan and His Mate," featuring Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan to be shown Sunday at the Liberty. Efforts to surpass all previous jungle pictures made necessary the creation of a hundred acre area packed densely with trees and undergrowth into which African animals of all kinds were released.

Beasts that are shown in action include a herd of more than twenty elephants, more than fifty lions, a man-killing rhinoceros, chimpanzees, monkeys, Wunderbeeste, gazelles, hippos, boa-constrictors and hundreds of other specimens of rare jungle life.

Two of the biggest climaxes of the picture show a herd of maddened elephants charging a safari of natives and white men and later an attack of dozens of lions upon a camp. Wild animal men and a crew of 1,000 production men were recruited from all parts of the country to assist the studio in obtaining the scenes.

The new story continues the adventures of Tarzan, played by Weissmuller when a safari of white men attempt to raid the "elephants' burial ground" of millions of dollars worth of ivory. Tarzan's attempts to protect the sacred jungle hoard get him into breath-taking hazards that far surpass the thrills of "Tarzan, the Ape Man."
