Live News From Arago

The Arago school opened Monday morning with an actual enrollment of seventy-one. Several expected pupils were not there for the first day. The total enrollment may reach eighty by the time the first six weeks is over. Seven freshmen enrolled in the high school to take the place of the three seniors in last spring's class. There is a majority of boys in the high school, with eighteen boys and fourteen girls. Ellis Barklow, a former student in the Myrtle Point high school, is the only student new to this school. Keith Kribs is missing from the senior class; he is in California. There are seven new first graders, the largest beginning class for several years. Girls are the majority here to even things up. The beginners are, Glenda Steward, Lillaverle Myers, Glenda Jean Lillie, Bonnie Jean Barklow, Marion Hoxey, Kent Hickam, Donald Patrick, Gwendolyn Shane joined the second graders. She was formerly in school in Portland. Evelyn and Bobby Newton were added to the fourth grade and the rest are old students. There is a class of ten in the eighth grade this year.

Lynn Paul is at his usual post as janitor. Ray Cornwall and Ernest Watkins are driving the buses.

Special services will be held at Arago Sunday morning, September 16, with Miss Goldie Wells, a missionary from the Belgian Congo as the speaker. Miss Wells is not a stranger to this community as she was in Coos county some years ago before she was sent to the Congo. A basket dinner will be held afterward so that her friends will have an opportunity for a personal visit with her. The Arago missionary society has made some contribution to the work at the school where Miss Wells is a teacher. Everyone is urged to come out and hear at first hand about mission work in Africa. There will be special music. Miss Wells will speak in North Bend Sunday evening, her only other speaking engagement in the county at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, of Calistoga, California, and Mrs. Laura Broadbent, of Lindsey, California, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barklow.

Warrants Must Come First

No school district having old outstanding warrants can pay its obligations in cash, stated Martha E. Mulkey, county school superintendent, in a warning just issued to school clerks in the county.

Mrs. Mulkey said that the recent audit by Wann and Collier of school district records showed that some districts were paying cash illegally under the above conditions. This procedure hurts warrant buying and is likely to get school boards into difficulty, it is said.

Riverton News

The grade school enrollment has exceeded the 70 mark. The high school has not quite reached 50. The latter is less than last year, due principally to several families moving out of the district. It is said that every one of school age, with a single exception, living in the district, is attending school here now. It has not been for years that we have had such a splendid record of school attendance.

Frankie Edgmon is at home now, from the Knife Hospital in Coquille, where she recently underwent a very serious operation for appendicitis. She is doing very nicely but will be unable to attend school for several weeks.

The Lee Bryant school bus, which operates between Randolph and Riverton, transporting both high and grade school students to Riverton, received a broken axle Tuesday night at the ferry.

The two school boards are sponsoring a reception for the teachers at the gymnasium on Thursday evening at 8 p. m. A nice program is being worked out, and refreshments of cake, sandwiches and coffee will be served. Every one in the district is invited. The ladies are being asked to bring either cake or sandwiches.

The members of the grade school board are: Mrs. Jeffries, H. J. Berry, and Joe Nilsen. The high school board consists of J. F. Van Leuven, Mrs. D. P. Jenkins, Mrs. Bill Carlson, Conrad Borgard and Mr. Nilsen. Mrs. M. E. Borgard is clerk of both districts.

Miss Gertrude Bullard, primary teacher, spent the week-end with her parents at Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nilsen and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Johnson and three children returned home Monday, after having spent nearly a week at the state fair at Salem, and visiting friends and relatives in and around Portland, Silverton and other places. They spent some time with Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson at Silverton. Dr. Johnson is Mrs. Nilsen's son and Randall's brother. While away Mr. Johnson took his little son, Randall, Jr., to see a specialist, who reported the little fellow was doing very nicely and he didn't believe he would have to be brought in for another examination for several months.

There will be no school here Friday. It is Children's Day at the Fair and all will be dismissed to attend.

Miss Faye La Branch, intermediate grade teacher, and her sister, Mrs. Will Kay, spent the week-end with her parents at the La Branche home in Bridge.

Miss Mary Donaldson leaves Friday for Monmouth, where she will resume her work as instructor in the Normal School. She will be accompanied as far as Eugene by Miss Helen Nulf, who will attend the university this year.

Fritz Hull brought back a splendid record from his prune picking employment in the Willamette valley during the late summer. In the orchards where he was employed, where several hundred other pickers were also at work, Fritz was rated as the best picker that had ever worked there. And the trees have been in full bearing for over 20 years. That is a record to be proud of.

20-30 Club Holds Session

The Coquille 20-30 club held its regular weekly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Club cafe, with President William Barrow in charge. George Stambrough, who was on the entertainment committee for this meeting, gave a talk on stamp collecting as a hobby. The other member of the entertainment committee, George McClellan, talked to the members about saw filing in the lumber industry.

Wheeler and Woolsey to Be Shown in "Cockeyed Cavaliers" at the Liberty Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

"As The Earth Turns," the picture based on Gladys Hasty Carroll's romance of New England rural life, is the feature attraction at the Liberty Theatre today and Saturday.

The picture deals with the lives and loves, the joys and tribulations of a small community of farmer folk which Miss Carroll has painted so vividly and picturesquely in her novel which was the best selling book of the year. Though she has dealt with a simple people living comparatively quiet lives she has made them live and breathe. The homely events have been brought out with a realism that makes them lifelike.

The picture is said to have caught the exact spirit of the novel and to have brought the many unusual characterizations to the screen with a sincerity and adherence to reality that makes the players seem not as actors but as real flesh and blood human beings, each going through his or her part as naturally as though they were actually living on a New England farm.

The largest collection of stellar talent ever recruited for a feature comedy is represented in "Palooka," to be shown as the preview tonight and tomorrow. Making one great big happy family out of such celebrated personalities as Jimmie Durante, Lupe Velez, Stuart Erwin, Marjorie Rambeau, Robert Armstrong, Thelma Todd, William Cagney—(brother of Jimmy in his cinema debut)—Mary Carlisle and others, with Gus Arnheim and his Orchestra in the offing to grab their share of glory, called for super-diplomacy on the part of the director. A hilarious cinema concoction, suggested by the characters in the famous Ham Fisher comic strip, "Palooka," tells the story of a loveable but not-quite-bright lad, whose mother tries to prevent him from going the way of his bright-light-loving dad.

The famous infirmity, kleptomania, provides much of the joyous action in "Cockeyed Cavaliers" Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey's gay musical comedy, coming to the Liberty on Sunday.

Wheeler is seen as a medieval vagabond whose kleptomaniac tendencies lead him and his partner into a maze of misunderstandings and misfortunes which Woolsey endeavors to straighten out in hilarious fashion. The comics do their singing, dancing, romancing and joking in early European costume against medieval backgrounds, while their wisecracks and practical jokes are 1934 "vita-fresh," ultra-modern and brand new.

Dorothy Lee, as the comely daughter of a commoner who is trying to evade a family-arranged marriage with a Duke, carries a sweet romance with Bert Wheeler. Thelma Todd, a Baron's wife, and Robert Woolsey are mirthful in their complicated love-making.
