Riverton News

Monday was visiting day at our school by Mrs. Mulkey, county school superintendent from Coquille. Mrs. Mulkey is held in very high regard here and we are always glad to welcome her and have her inspect our school and the work being done in it.

Mrs. Lester Clausen and two little sons, Max and John, spent Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Alpine.

Miss Dorothy Dutch is teaching this year in the Lee school and staying at the Jim Hervey home. She taught in the school here for several terms.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Griffin and three children from Medford came in Monday and expect to spend the week visiting friends and relatives here. Mrs. Griffin is a daughter of Mrs. Joe Nilsen and a sister of Mrs. Lee Stonecypher and Randall Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lennon, near Randolph, accompanied by Fred Berry and Pete Hull, motored out to see the big football game in Portland last Saturday. They drove out Friday night and returned Sunday. They report a wonderful trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nilsen returned Saturday from their two weeks vacation, part of which time was spent visiting at Silverton and Medford and hunting near Eureka, Calif. Mr. Nilsen brought home a big buck. Soon after their return Mrs. Nilsen had the misfortune to sustain a slight fracture of her skull, which confined her to the house for several days. She is reported as feeling much better now.

A large sturgeon, measuring twelve feet in length and weighing 425 pounds was caught in the big eddy below here Monday night, by Ralph and Eugene Smith of this place, while fishing with a net for salmon. It was a rare sight and created much interest and excitement here.

J. I. Watson came in Thursday from Kerby where he has been mining since last spring. He returned to Kerby Saturday. He came in to attend the wedding of his daughter, Retha Rae, to Mr. Frank H. Hill, of Powers, which took place at North Bend Friday evening.

Miss Ruth Irvin spent the weekend with friends in Eugene. Miss

John Lusk and his two sisters, Inez and Minnie, spent Wednesday on the Bandon beach. They were met there by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harris, of Gold Beach.

News Notes from County Supt. Mulkey's Office

The Saturday's primary meeting at Coquille was most excellent. Forty teachers gathered at the Washington building to hear Ida Mae Smith of Monmouth. Miss Smith spoke on the subject of the "Social Studies" in the primary grades. In the afternoon Mrs. Case, the president, led an interesting discussion on primary reading.

Miss Smith had a splendid display of readers and material which had been made by school children.

The lingering of teachers after the close of the meeting told of their interest. The next meeting will be held on the Bay.

A P. T. A. Conference will be held at the Pioneer Hall in Coquille on Thursday, Oct. 18. Mrs. Bonnie Walker president of the Coquille P. T. A., announces that all are invited to attend. The state president, Mrs. Wm. Kietzer, will speak during the meeting. The conference will no doubt attract people from all parts of the county.

Coquille, Bunker Hill, Powers and Remote are four districts having P. T. A. organizations.

Friday, October 12, will be a school

Good Pictures Scheduled for Week at the Liberty

Love tangles and martial mix-ups form the ingredients of the hilarious situations in "The Kansas City Princess," which opens at the Liberty on Sunday.

The story, by Sy Bartlett and Manuel Seff, concerns chiefly the love episodes and mad adventures of two mid-west manicurists, although a gangster, a millionaire playboy, his wife and her lover and two small town aldermen and their wives are all mixed up in the potpourri of laughter. In a swift series of kaleidoscopic incidents the picture takes the spectator from Kansas City to New York by train and airplane, aboard a French lines on which riotous scenes occur with the two manicurists chiseling their way across, and then to Paris where the smashing climax comes with the wildest love mix-up and a whirlwind of laughter.

Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell have the roles of the two gold digging manicurists with Hugh Herbert as the somewhat dumb millionaire, Robert Armstrong as the gangster who is chasing his manicurist lady love, and Hobart Cavanaugh and T. Roy Barnes as the small town aldermen.

The strangest and most fantastic, yet the most exciting and baffling of all S. S. Van Dine's murder mystery dramas, "The Dragon Murder Case," comes to the Liberty tonight and Saturday.

The first murder of the series takes place at the Dragon Pool on the vast estate of a multimillionaire scientist where guests have gathered for a week end party. At an evening bathing party one of the guests and the fiancée of the sister of the scientist, a part played by George Meeker, dives into the natural pool of water and fails to come up.

Police are secretly notified, which brings to the scene Sergt. Heath, District Attorney Markham and Philo Vance. The pool is drained but there is no trace of the missing man, although there is seemingly no way the body could have been washed out. On the bottom of the pool are great tracks as though made by the talons of a prehistoric monster.

To add to the eerie situation, the half demented mother of the scientist tells of a tradition of a dragon occupying the pool, sucking down its victims and then flying off to some secret lair with the body.

Things millions of women and men want to know will be revealed in Fox Film's latest release, "Now I'll Tell By Mrs. Arnold Rothstein," which will be shown as the preview on Friday and Saturday evenings at the Liberty. The film stars Spencer Tracy. Advance reports indicate that Tracy is an absolute sensation in a role that perfectly suits his talents. The screen play reveals a woman's sensational story—told for the first time with all its love and beauty, passion and heartaches. Helen Twelvetrees and Alice Faye head the cast in support of Spencer Tracy.
