Blindfolded Driver to Show Here Next Week

going to stop at different places of business, and while blindfolded, go into the store where he will make a purchase which he will give away to the crowd. This stunt will take place at 4 p. m. in front of the Liberty Theatre.

The blindfold feat has been advertised throughout the world as mental telepathy or super-optical vision, but it has promised to let the public in on the secret, which he will expose as a bit of clever bunk. In connection with this expose, the Liberty Theatre announces a contest, known as the blindfold guessing contest, during which Mason will offer $10 to any person guessing the correct secret as to how the feat is accomplished. Particulars of this contest can be had at the box office.

A few of the unusual stunts, which Mason and Le Radd perform, are the death-defying human bridge, living chair, public bath, and a score of other breath-taking stunts spiced with comedy and mystery. This stage show has been called one of the most sensational on the road today.

The picture to be shown the same evenings is "Bolero," featuring Geo. Raft, dancer supreme, and who is supported by Carole Lombard, in the leading feminine role.

Bates-Mead

The wedding of Miss Eva V. Mead, of Dora, and Francis A. (Frank) Bates, of Bandon, was an event of Thanksgiving day and the impressive ceremony which united this popular couple took place at the Ray Rookard home in Myrtle Point in the presence of only a few close friends of the bride and groom. Rev. W. A. Coudron, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated. The groom is an employee of the Coos Bay Lumber company and has been working in the Eden Ridge camp of this concern all summer. He is a son of Mrs. Mary Bates, of Bandon, and a brother of Miss Iva Bates, chief operator of the Coquille exchange. He was raised and educated in Bandon. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mead, of Dora, and graduated from the Myrtle Point high school with the class of 1924. Bates is at present working at Lakeside where the happy couple will be at home to their friends after December 1.—Herald.

COMPTROLLER COMMENTS INSTITUTE OF BANKING

WASHINGTON, J. C.—The American Institute of Banking, said to be the most successful project of its kind in the field of applied adult education, has performed a valuable function in training bank clerks for "sound public service as well as personal success." J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, said here in a recent radio address. The institute is a section of the American Bankers Association.

"While imparting useful knowledge, it has improved the morale of banking personnel and has stimulated in its members an intelligent interest in national and international monetary problems," Mr. O'Connor said. "Its courses cover a wide field in banking. Among the subjects, one finds Bank Organization and Operation, Commercial Law, Negotiable Instruments Law, and Economics, in the Pre-Standard Division; followed by such subjects as Money and Banking, Credit Management, Financial Statement Analysis and Bank Management, in the Standard Division.

"Each and every subject is one which is necessary to a knowledge of banking. However, the institute does not stop here, but encourages graduate study in Corporation Finance, Trust Service, Farm Credit Administration and Business Forecasting. Again it emphasizes in special courses the importance of the less technical but highly beneficial study of Constructive Customer Relations, Banking Fundamentals and Public Speaking. No comment is necessary on these courses: their value is at once apparent."
