

Loggers Win Easily From Eugene Sunday

Combinations of errorless playing, hard hitting in the pinches, heads up base running, and six-hit pitching won Sunday's ball game for the Coquille Loggers from the Eugene Atlas team.

The Loggers landed on Mope Russell, Eugene righthander, for five runs in the opening frame. Bud Duncan was walked. He advanced to second on Gupill's sacrifice bunt, to third on Stewart's fielders' choice grounder, and then scored on a double steal executed by himself and Stewart.

This commenced the parade which saw Stewart score on Hal Sowers' single and Kolstad and Sowers register when Mel Duncan homed. The quintet of tallies proved to be more than enough to win the ball game, but the Loggers belted away to hang up counters in all innings but the third. Triples, one each by Stewart and Kolstad, and a four-base blow by "Cocky" Brewer produced the additional heavy punch off both Russell and his successor, "Lefty" Cody.

Eugene was kept at bay by Brewer, Logger hurler. He worked efficiently in winning his second start, keeping the six hits against him well scattered. A hit batter and a walk combined with two singles to produce the two scores for the Atlas outfit in the fourth. After this only two men passed first base. Coughlan and Dunn reached third and second in the seventh. And, for that matter, only six Eugene runners got beyond the initial sack during the contest.

The Loggers were a fine playing club in this game and with such continuation they will likely go on through to many wins. In the game this Sunday with the Gilmore Lions, they will be facing a real test.

MEAT SCRAP, GOOD TANKAGE REQUIRED

Egg Production Is Increased by Animal Protein.

It is an established fact that maximum egg production is not possible on a ration of grain and grain byproducts without the addition of a high protein concentrate, such as meat scrap, high grade tankage, or milk, states A. J. Chadwell, University of Tennessee extension poultryman.

Numerous tests have been made by state experiment stations to determine the per cent of protein concentrate to use in the hen's ration. The amount of meat scrap used in these experiments has varied all the way from 5 per cent to as high as 25 per cent of the mash mixture. In the majority of these tests a mash mixture containing 20 per cent of meat scrap or high grade tankage gave the most profitable egg yields.

FORD SITE SOLD FOR 26¢ ACRE

Beauty Spot of San Diego Expo Commands Views of Mexico, City and Ocean

Sixty-seven years ago, one Fr. Hixon, of San Diego, sold the site of the Ford exhibit at the California Pacific International Exposition, opening May 29, for 26 cents an acre. Now that site is the commanding view in beautiful Balboa Park where the Exposition will be held.

Eighteen miles to the south of the promontory from which the Ford Building will loom, may be seen Old Mexico. To the west is the Pacific Ocean and in it, Coronado Isle. Slightly to the north stretches the famous Silver Strand and in the nearer background, the city of San Diego itself.

It was Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo who was the first white man to set foot on Point Loma and Senorita Florenz Kelton de Almada, a third generation Spaniard, is a descendant of those earlier conquerors of Southern California. In the accompanying photo she is shown looking out over the city from the Ford site.

Construction work on the Ford Exposition Building, in which the Ford exhibits will be housed, is proceeding rapidly as the concrete for the huge structure is being poured simultaneously with the building of replicas of the roads of the Pacific and the Music Bowl.

The Ford Exposition will carry out the theme, from earth to motor car, and also exhibit the exacting tests employed in the making of the car and its parts.

Sees Where Ancestors Landed

The senorita in this photograph is Florenz Kelton de Almada of San Diego. She is shown here looking out from the promontory in the California Pacific International Exposition grounds on which, on the opening date, May 29, the Ford Exposition will greet the public with an exhibit housed in a great circular building surrounded by terraces on which will appear replicas of famous roads of the Pacific. Senorita de Almada is framed by the steel work of the Ford Building and in the background are the skyscrapers of San Diego.

Better Ways to Light Up for Bridge and Other Games

When the so-called "bridge lamp" is used to light a game of bridge, as above, its nature and purpose have been misunderstood. At right is shown a correct type of lamp for the purpose.

By Jean Prentice MISPLAYED hands, sharp words exchanged across the bridge table—these are frequent indications that the "bridge lamp" has been misnamed. So-called because its extension arm holding the shade and bulb has been built on the principle of the cantilever bridge, the bridge lamp was really designed as a reading lamp, and not to play bridge by, at all.

General Illumination Needed When this lamp is used to illuminate a bridge table, we invariably find a result like that shown in the illustration at upper left. Because of its narrow circle of light, this lamp can properly illuminate only two of the hands of cards. In order to provide light for the other side of the table, the shade has been tilted, causing discomfort and glare all around.

Double-Purpose Lamps Available For adequate lighting of a bridge game, either the indirect torchere, as shown, or one of the indirect floor lamps containing a white glass bowl within the shade, may be used. The latter, which forms a good reading lamp, gives both totally indirect and semi-indirect light. Thus, it is a double-purpose lamp, and comes in a wide variety of styles and designs suitable for any decorative scheme.

The indirect torchere is well-nigh ideal for the game room or recreation room, besides doing its turn in the living room when a moderate amount of glareless light is desired. Many of these torcheres come equipped with the new three-light bulbs, by which any three different amounts of light may be had at the mere turn of a switch.

Make-Shift Lighting Inexcusable Make-shift lighting is no longer necessary or excusable, any more than is make-shift furniture. The well-kept home of today makes just as careful provision for the various lighting requirements of family and guests as it does for any other phase of living. Guests nowadays expect good, comfortable lighting, and the thoughtful hostess always endeavors to provide it, especially for games.
