Last Notes From Coquille Schools for This Year

High School News

Monday, May 27th, the Senior Class entertained the student body at class day exercises. At the assembly the following people very ably entertained: Girls Trio, consisting of Margaret Purvance, Elois Wilson and Myrtle Minter; Boys' Double Quartet; Reading of the Class Prophecy by Jim Robinson; Reading of the Class Will, George Ulett; Class History presented by Audrey Kendall. Each year the Senior Class gives this entertainment for the benefit of the incoming Freshman Class, at which time the Seniors relinquish their positions in the assembly.

The typing department wishes to announce that Geraldine Ensele and Doris Compton received awards from the Office Machinery and Supply Company at Eugene for typing 41 and 49 words per minute. In the contest the girls submitted three papers and the rules governing the awarding of Certificates are: The contestant must write for 15 minutes, and no paper will be accepted with more than five errors. The first paper must have a net rate of not less than 20 words per minute, the second 30 words, and the third paper 40 words.

The Sophomore Class has been announced as the winner of the inter-class rivalry contest. This is the second time since the cup was first awarded that a Sophomore Class has been successful in gaining the coveted trophy. This year's contest has been exceptionally keen.

Friday the Laurel will make its appearance for the first time in several years. The staff is to be congratulated on the issue. It consists of sixty-two mimeographed pages, among which all of the important events of the year have been explained. The issue is well illustrated. Geraldine Minard was editor-in-chief, assisted by Miss Hall and Mr. Luebke.

The superintendent, principal and staff of the Coquille High School wish to thank the people of Coquille for the splendid co-operation received this year.

The first grade kiddies have been on their toes the last week because of so many unusual things happening.

Class pictures were taken on Thursday with every child present. The annual picnic on Friday included every member of the class and several mothers. Thanks to Charlotte Brown and her parents for the use of their orchard and picnic ground.

On Monday the class was the recipient of a fine large box of anagrams for use in the first grade on stormy days.

A period each day has been devoted to repairing all books used by the class.

During the year the only pupil having perfect attendance was Keith Leslie. Next to perfect were Patricia Yarbrough and Marianne Rackleff, each having missed two days only.

The first grade have read 173 books at home and 345 at school during the year. Visitors numbered 113. Eight fathers have visited, and all mothers but two. Most mothers have averaged from one to two visits each month.

The contest among dominos, anagrams and globes resulted in sixteen children owning globes, seventeen owning sets of anagrams and eighteen having sets of dominos.

A surprise picnic was given to the fourth grade in Mrs. Walton's room by Mrs. Marc Shelley, Mrs. Ed Assen and others. After a bonfire repast the youngsters played pioneer and Indian.

The pupils of Miss Stanbrough's class have been very anxious to have one hundred per cent perfect teeth. When the dental inspection was given this spring the room had a thirty-nine per cent. They now have a one hundred per cent, which means a gain of sixty-one per cent.

The following pupils have earned spelling certificates, a mark of high proficiency in spelling: Patricia Brady, James Broadshars, Maxine Briner, Wade Cowan, Jo Anne Knight, Irvine Snyder, Billie Unsoeld, Fred Veltum, Jessie Sherwood, Donna Brown.

Lincoln Building

At an assembly held Friday morning the Junior High students witnessed the giving out of athletic and penmanship awards for the last semester of the school year. The assembly was opened by a short dramatization of Aesop's Fables given by the GY group. The boys' glee club sang two numbers. Following this Miss Bang presented penmanship awards to those who had paid for them, giving honorary mention of all who had earned certificates. Out of 79 awards earned, 12 final certificates and seven improvement certificates were given out. Mr. Beck presented the basket ball letters to the following: Ralph Fuhrman, Marvin Goodman, DeWayne Krantz, Virgil Arrell, Ted Cadman, Billy Smith, Dick Stacer, Zoe Sinclair and John Leatherwood. The following track letters were presented by Mr. Sayre: Marvin Goodman, Zoe Sinclair, Orlan Davis, Virgil Arrell, Leonard Farr, Everett Smith and Billy Yarbrough. Two Junior High girls also won track letters. They were Lillian Bauer and Delores Forrest.

For the past week the classes in literary instruction and art have been mending, washing and shellacking district texts. The books are receiving more attention this year than they have for some time. Every text has been washed and shellacked and most have been mended.

Loggers Defeat Marshfield Eagles, 6-4

Coquille jumped on the Marshfield Eagles early in last Sunday's game and, despite rallies in the later innings, the Loggers withstood all attacks, to win 6 to 4. The scene, Golden Field on the bay, presented the Fortierites away from home for the first time this season and the change in pastures altered in no way their winning complex.

Both "Cocky" Brewer and Paul McHale, rival hurlers, were stingy with the hits, but the Loggers were a bit more airtight in fielding behind their pitcher than were the Eagles. Brewer kept five blows too well scattered, while the attack on McHale was bunched in one inning at least, the third, when three hits aided in producing three runs. Otherwise Coquille's runs were gained through misplays.

Ray Woodyard was in the Logger lineup for the initial time this season. Woody likely will be seen often after his return from school. Score:

ground, running water, a cooling system, and many other advantages. These improvements, while making for sanitation and convenience, will in no way detract from the camping, since the boys will spend practically all of the 24 hours each day out-of-doors, in the invigorating mountain air.

The camp this year is in charge of James E. Monroe, Salem, scout executive for the Cascade area council. Mr. Monroe has had wide experience in this work, and is especially qualified as a leader of boys.

During the camp period scouts will receive instruction in all scouts' tests and out-of-door merit badge subjects, with special attention to swimming, life-saving, forestry, pioneering, canoeing, marksmanship, archery and nature study. Other subjects will include fishing, astronomy, bird study, botany, cooking, first aid, hiking, forestry, Indian lore, Leathercraft, path-finding, signalling, surveying, wood carving and wood work.

Each period will end with a court of honor, when merit badges and awards will be made. A well-balanced program of both work and play, with nine hours of sleep in the rustic cabins will be provided. Food, always an important item with boys, will be prepared by Bob Baker, popular cook for several of the camps. Fresh milk, fruit, and green vegetables will be part of the menu every day. Scouts will eat family style, eight to the table, in the screened mess hall, and "seconds" or even "thirds" and "fourths" will not be permitted, but encouraged.
