Chain Letters Cause Increase of Postal Receipts

According to figures given by Postmaster Elton Schroeder of Myrtle Point, stamp sales for the month of May, 1935, show a 34 per cent increase over the month of May, 1934. This was due principally to the chain letter fad and increased mailings by advertisers. The month of May was also 17 per cent over the month of April, showing a steady increase in stamp sales. In the matter of gross postal receipts, upon which the office is classified, the first two months of the June, 1935, quarter totaled only $184.00 of equalling the entire June, 1934, quarter which includes three months.

The Coquille office stamp receipts, according to Postmaster M. O. Hawkins, increased from $1122.61 in April, to $1290.51 in May. Some is not all this gain in May was due to the chain letter craze.

Wild Blackberries Ripen

Mrs. Lena F. Crump, who lives on Rink creek, brought into the Sentinel office Wednesday morning several wild blackberry twigs containing green, red and ripe berries. She picked a handful, to eat as she came to town. This is three or four weeks earlier than the wild berry usually ripens. Wallace Beery in "West Point of the Air" Tonight

When the picture, "Black Fury," opens at the Liberty Theatre on Sunday, local audiences will witness a production that is heralded by competent critics as sure to be one of the ten great pictures of 1935, and one which will make Paul Muni a leading contender for the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences this year.

Tense drama, tempered with humor, romance and astounding spectacles feature this picture, which has one of the largest casts ever assembled for a single production. There are thirty-six speaking parts, as contrasted to six or seven in the average picture. Hordes of hate-maddened miners battle beneath the earth, and storm the gates of the mines, seeking to seize it. The brutal killing of a father because he resented an attack on his daughter by a drunken guard, is a prelude to one of the most dramatic fights ever filmed, as Muni battles to avenge the death of his friend. Muni's one man strike, in which he barricades himself in the mine after blowing up all but one of the entrances with dynamite stolen from the company's store of explosives, and his reconciliation with his sweetheart who had deserted him for the arms of a treacherous policeman, are two of the dramatic and thrilling episodes that characterize this tremendous production. Karen Morley has the leading feminine role. Wm. Gargan portrays the part of her seducer.

Wallace Beery, who in the past three years has been established at the pinnacle of box-office popularity, is to be seen in the most stirring dramatic role of his career in "West Point of the Air," story of the United States Army Air Corps to be shown tonight at the Liberty. Berry's sensational success in "The Champ" was followed by "Dinner at Eight," "Tugboat Annie," "Viva Villa!" for which he won the International Award for acting from Italy; and recently "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal classic. Each picture established him more firmly as one of the world's favorite character stars.

In "West Point of the Air," his notable supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, as the youthful romantic lead; Robert Young, as Beery's son; Lewis Stone, James Gleason and others.

At famous Randolph Field, Texas, the $10,000,000 Army aviation school, Beery's son, played by Robert Young, finds romance with Miss O'Sullivan, the General's daughter. She offers encouragement to the cadet while he goes through the rigor of tests, flying instruction, solo flights, and, finally, spectacular aerial maneuvers and training reviews with hundreds of planes.

Thrills never before photographed for an air picture to be seen in the film include "power dives" from an elevation of ten thousand feet to the ground; a "group parachute jump" from one hundred planes in the air at once; peace time bombing maneuvers of training planes over 2,000 ground troops and other breath-taking aerial scenes. Nearly two years were required for technical research and story preparation for the picture.
