Live News From Arago

An unusual feature of the Randleman reunion picnic held June 16 at the home of Mrs. Louisa Barklow near Norway was that not one of the twenty-nine descendants of Henry Randleman who were present was named Randleman. Henry Randleman came to Coos county and settled on Bear Creek about 1870. The only living children are Mrs. Medora Sneed, Mrs. Louisa Barklow and Evander Randleman. Mrs. Sneed and Evander Randleman live on Bear Creek and Mrs. Barklow near Norway on the Coquille river. Due to the serious illness of one of the immediate family none of the Evander Randleman family were able to attend, the press of spring work and other reasons kept other Randleman families away and only part of the descendants of the two living sisters were in attendance. There were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sneed and grandson, Donny Sneed, of Bear Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Young and small daughter, of Bandon, Mrs. Clara Peterson, her daughter and a friend, Mr. Kelly, all of Roseburg, representing that branch. The rest were direct descendants of Mrs. Louisa Barklow, including Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barklow and daughters, Iris and Genevieve, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Miller and daughter, Velma, Mrs. Ray Barklow and daughter, Lela Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robison and daughters, Clea and Thelma, all of Norway, Mrs. J. S. Keller and children, Howard and Helene, and granddaughter, Reta Summerlin, of Lee, and Mavis and Carolyn Barklow, of Norway.

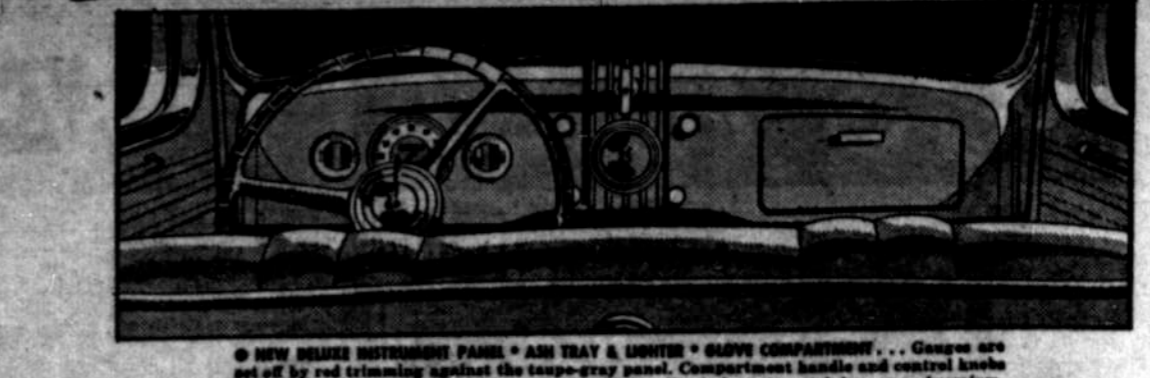

George Zinzerling, of the Arago brick yard, sealed the first kiln of the season early Sunday morning after a week's firing. Over thirty-eight cords of wood were used to heat this first lot of bricks. It is a most impressive sight to look into the kiln of red hot bricks were a heat of 1972 degrees is necessary before the kiln is sealed airtight and the fires are banked and the kiln is allowed to cool slowly. The heat is slightly more than that before the cooling starts, 2300 degrees will melt the clay. A glance into any of the eight furnaces at the last will show the bricks lining the fire box well glazed, almost dripping from the intense heat. Making bricks is a very interesting process and Mr. Zinzerling is glad to show and explain each step to visitors. He hopes to burn three more kilns this season. His new drainage ditch completed this spring enabled him to work the clay several weeks earlier than formerly and he will have the first bricks of the season ready to market about the first of the month. A new die purchased last fall makes an even better product than he has marketed before and each year the demand far exceeds his supply. If weather conditions are in his favor he will make about 250,000 bricks this season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Peabody, of New York city, and more recently of Port Orford, where they are spending the summer, were Friday afternoon callers at the T. B. MacDonald home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Damron received a letter from a former neighbor, Oscar Henry, which is the first news from him in more than a year. He is well known throughout Coos county where he made his home from 1920 when he started working on the highway near North Bend. He worked on the road from Coquille to Bandon till it was finished and then worked south to the Curry county line, living in the various localities. He owned a ranch on upper Hall's creek which he used as winter headquarters. He sold this to Jess Damron of Bandon in 1933 and went to Washington. He has been in the hospital in Pasco for some months and is now at the Veteran's Hospital in Walla Walla and will be bedfast throughout the summer. He would appreciate hearing from any of his former friends as his days are long and lonely. He served in the army for the entire duration of the war. His address is Ward 2, Veterans' Hospital, Walla Walla, Wash.

A most enjoyable day was spent viewing the Coast highway in full bloom when a group drove to Yachats and then returned to the Hecata Head lighthouse for a picnic dinner last Sunday. Visiting and exploring were the order of the day till the home trip late in the afternoon. The group included, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Aasen and son, Jerry, Mrs. M. T. Aasen and daughter, Elda, and Miss Beneva Volkmar, of Myrtle Point, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keltner and sons, Claire and Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Halter and sons, Ronald and Allan, and Raymond Halter, of Coquille, who is spending the summer with his brother on the Halter ranch.

The annual school meeting of the Arago district was held at the school house Monday evening. The clerk's annual report showed all outstanding warrants paid, with a disbursement of over $10,000 for the year and a balance on hand for next year. The gymnasium and the teacherage have been painted and repaired and the school property is in good repair. George Gillespie and Mrs. Ruth Shaw were elected without opposition for the positions of director and clerk respectively.

NILES MOTOR COMPANY

New Location 344 Front St. Coquille, Oregon

Mrs. B. B. Watkins received word Monday of the death of her only sister, Mrs. Angie Weaver, in Batesville, Arkansas. Mrs. Weaver was injured, a broken back in an automobile wreck May 24. She died June 8. Mrs. Weaver and her daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McClendon, lived in Coos county in 1926-27.

Rev. R. C. Young, of Myrtle Point, conducted both morning and evening services in the school house Sunday. There were his last sermons at Arago before the yearly Methodist conference and Arago hopes sincerely that he will be returned so they will be able to hear him again. The fellowship with both Mr. and Mrs. Young has been enjoyed very much by members of this community.

S. C. McAllister is gaining in strength each week and was able to turn himself slightly on one side this week for the first time in almost seven months.

Mrs. Ed Myers was able to be out Sunday after a week's illness. She has almost entirely recovered her strength but her neighbors are glad she is better.

Gilbert McNeil, who has spent the past year assisting with the farm work at the Glenn Cox place, left for Los Angeles last week. He is a brother of Mrs. Cox.

Russell Hill was a business visitor in Coquille Monday. He is fully recovered from his recent illness.

Albert Gulstrom is improving this week. He is not suffering so severely as he was for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McAdam drove to Coquille Friday, where they weighed their small daughter, Barbara, who is gaining as rapidly as so small a lady should.

Mrs. B. B. Watkins and her guest, Miss Juanita Robbins, spent all day Friday visiting Mrs. S. L. Lafferty.

The final meeting of the Red Cross class in home nursing was held Friday afternoon with Mrs. Fay Edmonds in charge. All those taking the work completed it satisfactorily, according to the final grades given at that time and each member felt that the time had been very well spent.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Watkins took their guest, Miss Juanita Robbins, to her home in Bandon Saturday morning after a two weeks' visit. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins visited relatives in Bandon until Sunday afternoon. On their way home they were fortunate enough to meet their eldest son, Earl, who was driving to Bandon from Portland. They visited briefly on the highway. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watkins will visit relatives at Bandon for several days before going to the Watkins ranch to spend a few days.

present were Mrs. Adrian Halter, Mrs. Wendell Robison, Mrs. Glenn Robison, Mrs. Frank Burbank, Mrs. Gordon Fleming, Mrs. Marvin Shaw, Mrs. Everett Lafferty, Mrs. Art Farrier and Miss Opal Robison.

Silo fillers were busy for three days at the Clarence Schroeder place last week.

Jacob Moomaw returned to Arago last week from his studies at the Eugene Bible School. He plans to spend part of the summer with his father, J. B. Moomaw, on the ranch. His wife and children, David and Donna, spent a few days in Arago when they returned from Langlois, where Mrs. Moomaw has been teaching for the past two years. They went to Dunsmuir, California, to spend several weeks visiting Mrs. Moomaw's brother and sister, who live there. Mrs. Moomaw will teach in Lane county next year.

Mrs. Clarence Schroeder and daughters Lois and Mrs. Frank Burbank, visited her father, Price Robison, at his home in Norway Sunday afternoon. They found him able to be about again but not in robust health.

Evelyn Doyle returned from Powers last week after spending a week visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doyle. Mrs. Doyle left for Pleasant Hill, where she will make her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Cooper, a brief visit.

Mrs. Harriet Burbank spent Saturday and Sunday at the Clarence Schroeder home. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burbank returned to her home on upper Fishtrap to remain overnight Monday with her.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. MacDonald returned to their home from Port Orford Tuesday evening, expecting to remain till the end of the month.

The engagement of Miss Elda Aasen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Aasen, of Myrtle Point, but formerly of the Arago district, to Mr. Claire Keltner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keltner, has been announced. These young people are both graduates of Myrtle Point high school and of Oregon State College and have several years' teaching experience to their credit. Miss Aasen is the niece of Oluf and L. M. Aasen and Russell Hill, of Arago.

Word has been received of the very critical illness of James (Grandpa) Parry, father of Mrs. Ben Gant, Mrs. Will Warner and several sons in this county and he was a resident here for many years. Mr. Parry is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter, another daughter, in Boise, Idaho. He is past 86 years of age.

The girls' 4-H sewing club and the newly formed calf club of Arago are making big plans for their attendance at the Bandon 4-H day. There will be several carloads.

Mrs. Emily Miller, of Myrtle Point, spent all day Tuesday visiting Mrs. B. B. Watkins. Earl Watkins and daughter, Wilma, of Portland, also came in Tuesday, remaining till Wednesday evening when Ernest Watkins and B. B. Watkins families joined other relatives in Bandon for a beach party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watkins and Wilma.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. MacDonald have sold part of their acreage and are now new house to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beaver, of Myrtle Point. They will give possession July first when they move to Port Orford.
