Job's Daughters Install Officers Monday Night

The public installation ceremonies of the Jobs Daughters which occurred Monday evening at the Masonic hall, were attended by a large number of parents and friends of the Daughters, this being the last meeting of the organization until fall. Among the out-of-town visitors escorted to the east were Mrs. Grace Falls, of Marshfield, who holds the office of Grand Guardian, and Dr. June Martin, of Marshfield, Grand Fifth Messenger, and who is also Bethel Guardian in the Marshfield organization. Mrs. Inez Glaisyer, Worthy Grand Matron of O. E. S., was also escorted to the east, as was Mrs. Almer Walstrom, mother of Leville Walstrom, newly elected Honored Queen of Coquille Bethel, and Mr. E. Purvance, Grand Outer Guard. All of them made very nice talks and complimented the officers of the Bethel on their splendid work, which was given in a most creditable manner, due to the sincere and faithful efforts on the part of the girls and their council assistants. Miss Zelma Bosserman, retiring Honored Queen, acted as installing guide for the evening and was assisted by Miss Ione Walder, past Honored Queen of the Marshfield Bethel. The new officers for the ensuing six months are: Honored Queen—Leville Walstrom; Senior Princess—Dorris Compton; Junior Princess—La Velle Dale; Guide—Marilyn Compton; Marshal—Dorothy Glaisyer; Senior Custodian—Betty Axtell; Junior Custodian—Bessie Sumers; Custodian of Lights—Virginia Hartson. Outer Guard—Peggy Wernich; Inner Guard—Mary Dye; Recorder—Elizabeth Varney; Treasurer—Georgiana Johnson; Chaplain—Mary Lou Nosler; Pianist—Margaret Purvance; Librarian—Cherie Mae Hartwell; Messengers—1st, Evelyn Berry; 2nd, Margaret Belloni; 5th, Aileen Percy; 4th, Evalyn Rider; 3rd, Audrey Taylor.

Following the installation, the beautiful ceremony, "Book of Gold" was presented, little Harriet Walker appearing in the role of Angel. Miss Muriel Dae, accompanied by Mrs. M. O. Hawkins, played several selections on her violin, which, as always, were greatly enjoyed by those present. The Bethel presented Miss Bosserman with a beautiful white Bible, upon the completion of her term of office. Report cases of cruelty to children and animals to Humane Society, Medford. Complaints must be signed by two or more witnesses. Information confidential.

Smith - Roberts

At eight o'clock last Friday evening, at the Drue Cunningham home in the north part of town, Miss Veryl Roberts, sister of Mrs. Cunningham, was united in marriage to Carlton F. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Smith. Rev. W. S. Smith performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The bride wore a gown of white crepe and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and rosebuds. After refreshments had been served the happy couple left on a short trip down the Coast Highway. The bride, who spent last summer with her sister here, was a graduate on June 6 of the Aberdeen high school in Washington. The groom grew to manhood here and has a host of friends who wish them every happiness. He is employed by the Smith Wood-Products company. They will make their home on Sanford Heights where the groom had a home prepared for his bride.

Shower for Vada Swinney

Miss Vada Swinney, who is soon to wed Ellis Davidson, of Eugene, was given a lovely miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the C. C. Farr home, by Mrs. Ruth Clayton, who had invited the members of the Church of Christ and several other friends for the occasion. A ring at the door and a request for Miss Swinney, by a representative of Farr & Elwood, disclosed a barrel of gifts, for which she had to sign and guarantee freight charges. This caused much merriment but Miss Swinney, though surprised, did her part well. After a few games, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Clayton, assisted by Mrs. Jas. Watson, Mrs. Clarence Stem and Edythe Farr to the forty-three guests present.

Robison - Hill

At two p. m. last Saturday, in his office here, Justice J. J. Stanley pronounced the words which made Gene L. Robison, of Fishtrap, and Marjorie B. Hill, of Halls creek, man and wife. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hill and a grand daughter of Ben Smalley. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ithamer Robison. Both of these popular young people attended Arago high school, and have many friends who are extending congratulations and best wishes. For the present they will make their home on Fishtrap where the groom is associated with his father on the dairy ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Stiltner and Dale Ellis, of Roseburg, spent the weekend at the Roy Ellis home and attended the Clinton-Smith wedding. A very pretty home wedding occurred Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellis on the Roseburg highway, when their daughter, Miss Aileen Clinton, became the bride of Mr. Virgil Smith, the son of Mrs. William Barger. The service was read by Rev. Chaires Barklow in the presence of the immediate families of both the bride and groom and a few friends. The ceremony took place before the fire-place which was banked with greenery, white lilies and blue and white canterbury bells. The bride beautifully attired in white carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas and blush bride rosebuds. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Verona Clinton, who was dressed in a printed green and white silk. Mr. Clyde Barger acted as best man for his brother. After the services a delicious buffet supper was served to the assembled guests. Later the house was thrown open to friends wishing to extend best wishes to the happy couple. The evening was spent in dancing and conversation. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. L. Ellis, of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Stiltner and Dale Ellis, of Roseburg, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kellenburger and children, of Coquille. Later in the evening the young couple were charivariated in the traditional style by the younger set and were treated by the groom with candy and cigars. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left Sunday afternoon for Philomah, where they will make their home. Dr. and Mrs. D. Kelker and two children Marilyn and Stanley, and Mrs. Ella Guerin arrived Monday from California and will visit at the Lorin Guerin home for a few days. Sumerlin, Mrs. La Flamme, Mrs. Elmer Russell, Mrs. Bert Pearson Mrs. E. C. Barker and Mrs. Chas. Woolridge. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peele and daughter, Barbara, of San Pedro, California, are visiting this week at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. A. LaFlamme. Mrs. Myrtle Clinton, of Corvallis, is visiting friends and relatives in Myrtle Point this week.

Pictures at the Liberty The Coming Week

Hats off to that prince of showmen, George White! "George White's 1935 Scandals," a splendid sunburst of a spectacle, starts its long-heralded engagement at the Liberty Theatre today. There's something new under the sun after all. This is it! It's hard to begin praising, when half a dozen different things clamor for instant mention. There's the story, first of all, rich and arresting. Then there's the brilliant all-star cast of singers, actors and dancers, each one fit to dominate a picture. What talent! There's Alice Faye, James Dunn, Ned Sparks, Lyda Roberti, Cliff Edwards, Arline Judge, Eleanor Powell, Emma Dunn, Benny Rubin, and George White himself. Tuneful songs by Broadway's ace composers stud this 1935 issue, which starts where last year's edition left off. "George White's 1935 Scandals" provides clean sparkling entertainment for every member of the family. A story more than sixty years old, which has sold more than a million copies, reached many millions of readers, been published in many editions, and which was once produced as a silent picture, now appears as a talking picture with its elements of interest and appeal multiplied. The story is "A Dog of Flanders," the classic novel by Louis de la Ramee, "Ouida," and is showing at the Liberty Theatre with Frankie Thomas in the leading role. Helen Parrish and "Lightning," famous dog star, are seen in other prominent parts. The picture is this week's preview. "Traveling Saleslady," rollicking comedy-romance, opens at the Liberty Theatre Sunday, with Joan Blondell heading an all star cast. It is an up-to-date story of a young girl, who refused an opportunity to enter the business office of her father, a toothpaste manufacturer who has become fossilized, signs with his rival to sell a paste with cocktail flavors, an idea submitted to her by an inebriated inventor. She herself goes out on the road to sell it, beats her father's star salesman at every turn, and after nearly ruining her fond parent, falls in love with her salesman rival. Joan Blondell has the title role with William Gargan in the part of the star salesman. Glenda Farrell is the other side of the triangular love affair. Others in the cast include Hugh Herbert, the inebriated inventor, Grant Mitchell, as the conservative manufacturer, and Al Shean, his more modern rival.

It used to be, "Set a thief to catch a thief." Now, it's "Set The Nitwits' outfit the thief." Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are said to exemplify this variation of the age-old adage in their newest comedy, "The Nitwits," showing next Wednesday and Thursday. The boys are now cast as cigar counter proprietors with sleuthing propensities. Woolsey invents a lie detecting machine which shocks a confession out of the most stalwart liar. Wheeler writes songs with murder themes as an avocation. An opportunity to put their fads to practical use comes when they attempt to solve a blackmailing plot which is a highlight of "The Nitwits." An extortionist operating as "The Black Widow" is terrorizing the city and has slain two men. Wheeler's sweetheart, played by ravishing Betty Grable, is accused when she's found with the murder weapon. "Murder in My Heart," "The Black Widow Will Get You If You Don't Watch Out" and "You Opened My Eyes" are the three melodies in "The Nitwits" which should find favor with the American whistling and singing public.
