Fight Card at Coos

Bay This Evening

Another capacity house is looked for tonight, July 12, at the Marshfield Armory arena, when Promoter Tex Salkeld, features some of the greatest fistic stars in the northwest. With such fine support by the fans on his last program, Salkeld stepped right out and signed a state championship fight and another outstanding main event.

Elmer Buzz Brown, who has made Marshfield his home, also holder of the lightweight title of Oregon, will put his title at stake when he clashes with Leroy Gibson, of Wichita, Kansas.

Eddie Volk, Portland welterweight, will meet Logger Jack Hibbard, of Klamath Falls, in the other feature battle. Volk is a stocky built boy, a great puncher with both hands, has fought the best in the business, he has wins over such boys as Young Joe Firpo, Sammy Santos, Wildcat Carter and many others. Hibbard is well known to Coos Bay fans, he has always pleased and should give the hard punching Volk a real test. Both feature bouts are billed for eight rounds.

Billy Supeck, Coos Head CCC welterweight, who scored a three round knockout over Jack Nard, of Coquille, will have a tougher job in front of him this time. He meets Mickey McGafferty, of St. Paul, in the six round semi-final.

Eddie Wilder, of Coquille, will try and hurdle Georgie Hill, of St. Johns, in the second four rounder. Hill kroyed Jack Francis in three rounds on the last card and Wilder will have to step to stop this youngster.

Popular prices will prevail. The first bout starts at 8:30 p. m. sharp.

Ohio Visitor Sees Wilds

Harvey Stoner, a cousin of Assessor J. P. Beyers, from Canton, Ohio, arrived in Coquille last Saturday after being a month on the way. At the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday noon, he spoke briefly and said he had wanted to see this country for a long time and was not a bit disappointed in it.

Mr. Beyers broke him in the second day by taking him on a jaunt into the wilds of the Tioga country, up between Coos and Williams rivers, where he saw nature in its wildest and roughest.

Another new experience for the visitor, who is a minister by profession, was his first visit at the motion picture show. He accompanied Mr. Beyers to the Liberty theatre where they saw Will Rogers in "Doubting Thomas."

Marriage Licenses

July 5—Levi Jacob Grant and Hannah Griswold, both of Powers. They were married last Friday by Rev. W. A. Stephens at the Louis Miller home at Powers.

July 6—John J. Bell and Harriet Burbank, both of Arago. They were married here on Saturday by Justice J. P. Stanley at his office.

July 6—Earl Edmon, of Riverton, and Evelyn Doyle, of Arago. They were married on Sunday by Rev. W. S. Smith at the Chas. H. Oerding home here.

July 8—Erwin Richert, of Coquille, and Jessie Waggoner, of Bandon. J. J. Stanley performed the ceremony for them at his office on Monday.

July 8—Walter S. Hood, of Langlois, and Mollie Baird, of Bandon. They were married at the home of Mrs. Flora E. Dunne, on Monday, by Rev. D. Loree, of Bandon.

July 9—Everett G. Davenport, of Marshfield, and Eva Gault, of North Bend. They were married here by Mr. Stanley the same day.

July 9—Albert Eckles and Rose Ann Aubin, both of Powers.

July 10—Raymond F. Douglas and Hazel Smith, both of Marshfield.

July 11—Geo. N. Smith and Clara Mr. Stover, both of Marshfield.

July 11—Jay C. Elliott and Clara E. Elliott, both of Marshfield. Although they had the same name they told Mr. Stanley that Elliott was the bride's married name before the ceremony of yesterday.

Mrs. Skeels Entertains

Last Wednesday Mrs. Birdie Skeels was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon, given for a few of her friends and relatives from Bandon. A beautiful bouquet of assorted sweet peas and baby breath was used as a centerpiece for the luncheon table. Cecile Brummer roses decorated the living rooms.

The afternoon was spent with knitting, conversation and music. Those present were: Mesdames Charles P. Lorenz, Frederick Moore, George Lorenz, Jr., Henry McCue, G. W. Treadgold, Clare Treadgold, Misses Emma Lorenz, Mary Edna Lorenz, Helene Gage, little Florence Moore and the hostess.

Club Notes and Other

Social Activities

The annual J. G. W. (those jolly grandmothers of the west) was held at the Gould Elkhorn cabin at the Kanu Klub grounds on the East Fork last Sunday. For the past six years the ladies and their families have held a picnic on the first Sunday in July.

Last Sunday, it rained all day at Brewster, keeping the forty in attendance housed up, but they all enjoyed the day, possibly more because they could not spread out. Three carloads went out for breakfast.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Hawkins and daughter, Ann, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman and son, Fred, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, Don and Markie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Folsom and George, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Gould, Mrs. Birdie Skeels and Marvin Skeels, Mrs. Gertrude Lorenz, Mrs. Edna Hartson and daughter, Virginia, Mrs. L. L. Mahan, Miss Ella Walstrom, J. E. Walstrom, Jim Robison, Misses Grayce Barker, Isabel Unsold and Helene Gage.

Mrs. W. V. Glaisyer entertained Monday in honor of the members of Beulah Chapter, who early in June presented the drill at the Grand Chapter session at Portland. The afternoon was spent with sewing and conversation, after which refreshments were served, with Mrs. Lafe Compton pouring. An interesting feature of the refreshments was the use of the silver coffee service presented Mrs. Glaisyer by Beulah Chapter. Following are the guests who attended Mesdames Mable Laird, Bert Folsom, H. W. Pierce, R. E. Boober, Wm. Ulett, L. H. Hazard, M. Earl Wilson, J. E. Axtell, Paul Walker, O. C. Sanford, Keith Leslie, Wm. Mansell, Theodore Clinton, Stanley Kitzgerald, Joe Knight, Julius Ruble, Ralph Taylor, A. N. Gould, Lafe Compton, C. W. Gano, W. E. Bosserman, R. A. Jeub, Harry Godard, Misses Bess Maury, and Edna Robison.

Entertaining for Mrs. Jennie Williams, of Burlingame, Calif., Mrs. F. L. Greenough and Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman were hostesses for one of early summer's most delightful parties. After a delicious luncheon, the guests sat about the yard of the Greenough home. Those attending were Mesdames R. L. Stewart, George Ulett, Nels Osmundson, H. A. Young, Sr., R. A. Wernich, L. L. Rosa, James Watson, R. E. Boober, L. L. Charneski, George Chaney, Pearl Ellingsen, F. S. Emery, Bert Folsom, L. H. Hazard, M. O. Hawkins, H. E. Hess, J. A. Lamb, Kenneth Lawrence, M. Earl Wilson, Lafe Compton, Ray, Thomas, Lloyd Oddy, J. E. Paulson, H. W. Pierce, O. C. Sanford, A. J. Sherwood, J. L. Smith and Mrs. H. A. Young, Jr., of Boise, Idaho.

On Wednesday evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Fortier, Mrs. Verrill McCurdy entertained at cards in honor of Mrs. Harold Peart, a recent bride. Sweet peas, candytuft and snapdragons were used in decorating. Those present were: Mrs. Wm. Strain, of Bandon, Mrs. Ralph Cochran, of Marshfield, Mrs. Chas. Crowley and Miss Dorothy Williams, of Eureka, and Mrs. Harold Peart, Mrs. Leland Peart, Mrs. Harold Gould, Mrs. Cyril McCurdy, Mrs. Earl Hamilton, Mrs. Walter Bingham, Mrs. Wm. Fortier, Mrs. Verrill McCurdy and Miss Gloria Getz, all of Coquille. Prizes were presented to Mrs. Strain and Mrs. Bingham and a guest prize was given to Mrs. Harold Peart. Mrs. Peart is visiting in Coquille for a short time before joining Mr. Peart at Medford.

Mrs. H. W. Pierce was hostess to the Monday Night Club at her home last Monday evening. Mrs. J. L. Smith held the traveling prize for the evening's play and Mrs. Bert Folsom carried top honors. Those present were Mrs. John Asen, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mrs. Bert Folsom, Mrs. Geo. Lorenz, Mrs. Ed Lorenz, Mrs. Muri Pettit and Mrs. R. F. Miller.

Frances Oddy entertained her contract club Thursday evening at her home. The members attending were Katherine Jane Hassler, Marietta Hufford, Margarita Brodie, Elizabeth Pierce, and Lena Williams. Audrey Asen, Elda Gilman and her guest, Charlotte Wahlmark, of Olympia, Washington, were guests of the club.

Mrs. Walter Bingham entertained with a dessert luncheon and bridge party at the Jack Lefevre home Tuesday afternoon, the following being present: Mrs. Art Ellefson, Mrs. M. Graham, Mrs. Chas. Haglund, Mrs. Harold Gould, Misses Gretchen Mehl, Pauline Ellingsen, Gloria Getz and the hostess.

House of David Team

Here at 11 a. m. Sunday

after it was apparently in the bag. The two contests played last July are still fresh in the memories of the fans. In these the Fortermen won, 5 to 1, and lost, 4 to 3.

The morning game on Sunday, starting at 11:00 a. m., will see the usual great House of David club meeting the Loggers. A bird's-eye view shows the following dope:

Third Base—Andy Anderson. Eight years with team. Hit 350 last season. Is original long-haired player and member of "pepper game."

First Base—John Tucker. Sensational fielder who has thrilled fans all over the United States, Canada and Mexico. Also a member of the "pepper game."

Second Base—Hub Hansen. Second season with team. Hit 354 last year, and with Atwell and Tucker completed 210 double plays. His timely hitting and sensational fielding had much to do with success of team.

Center Field—Frank Clift. Second season with team. Hit 365 in 198 games last year.

Geo. Anderson, 3rd Base Member Pepper Game Trio

er and the only living man that can put a baseball in his mouth. This feat will be demonstrated during the "pepper game."

Short Stop—Dick Atwell. Fourth season with team. Led team in home runs last year.

Right Field—Roy Hutson. Third season with club. Hit 370 in 198 games last year.

Catcher—"Flip" Fleming. Has been with team nine seasons and caught on an average of 160 games a year. Hit 350 last year.

Pitchers—"Doc" Tally, one of the original long-haired players. Has been with team eighteen years. Has pitched over 400 games and played outfield in many more. He has traveled over 400,000 miles by car with the club. Also a member of the "pepper game." Other pitchers: Wykoff, Bass, Wapp, C. Tucker.

Cars Collide on Sugar Loaf

Mrs. Dora Brodsgar, of San Francisco, Calif., received treatment at Mast hospital Friday for a cut head and injured knee suffered in an automobile accident on Sugar Loaf mountain on the Myrtle Point-Roseburg highway.

Mrs. Brodsgar was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Renwan, also of San Francisco, when their car and one driven by a Bradford CCC worker crashed head on. The Bradford man, who was coming to Myrtle Point from camp, claimed he was blinded by the sun and ran off the road into the gravel, he swerved back onto the highway, meeting the oncoming car. Both machines were badly damaged. The California automobile was towed to Myrtle Point by a local wrecker.—Myrtle Point Herald.
