Pictures at the Liberty

The Coming Week

Mysterious crimes, an amazing feat of detective work, and brooding bewilderment mingle with hilarious comedy in a unique blend in "Murder in the Fleet," to be shown at the Liberty tonight and Saturday.

Thrills blend into laughs and vice versa, as a naval lieutenant follows a criminal amid a crowd of civilian visitors and a ship's crew, impounded on a suspicion-laden ship. A sensational fight with a murderer and an astounding climax in which the criminal is disclosed after practically every soul on board has been under suspicion, mark high spots in excitement in the fast-moving play.

Little Jean Parker, heroine of "Sequoia," has her most ambitious role to date as the sweetheart of Robert Taylor, the young officer who solves the crime tangle. Veteran Jean Hersholt plays the principal character role as the government inspector, and comedy interludes are in the skilled hands of Nat Pendleton, Ted Healy, Una Merkel and Mary Doran.

An array of stars, plus a sophisticated story triumphantly tested first on Broadway, plus the important factors covered by "production value" equals "No More Ladies," Irving Thalberg's new production, which opens Sunday at the Liberty Theatre. Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery are co-starred, heading a cast which includes Charles Ruggles, Franchot Tone and Edna May Oliver. The co-stars were last seen together in "Forsaking All Others" and in "Letty Lynton" before that. "Ruggles of Red Gap" was Ruggles' latest. Miss Oliver played Betsy Trotwood in "David Copperfield," and Tone scored in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer." The new Crawford-Montgomery vehicle is based on the stage hit by A. E. Thomas, which completed a long run on Broadway and was hailed by critics and public alike as the most sparkling romantic comedy of recent seasons. The screen story stays close to the original, retaining all the comedy situations and bright dialogue that characterized the play. In keeping with the aristocratic character she plays in the new picture, Miss Crawford wears Adrian-designed gowns of chic simplicity and tailored smartness. There are twelve of these glamorous ensembles in all.

The picture opens with a whirlwind romance between Marcia (Joan Crawford) and Sherry (Robert Montgomery), and maintains a rapid-moving tempo until the final fadeout. Marcia is a light-hearted but level-headed society girl whose love for Sherry, an incorrigible heart-breaker, is such that she submits to wedding bells well within the first reel. It is then that the picture settles down to revealing the problems that accumulate behind the glamorous exterior of the too-popular young Park Avenue couple. Meantime, into the story have walked such true-life characters as Fanny, Marcia's salty maiden aunt (Edna May Oliver); Jim, who wants to save her from her husband (Franchot Tone); Edgar, a thorn in the side of organized society (Charlie Ruggles); and Therese, the night club singer (Gail Patrick).

The final scene comes when Marcia, in revolt against Sherry who has neglected her, invites all Sherry's former women friends with their ill-assorted husbands, to their country home. The ensuing party, with its surprising consequences, carries the story to a triumphant finale.

Riverton News

Mr. and Mrs. Bart Gasner and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gasner and baby, of Norway, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dewey and family Sunday afternoon. Both Mrs. Gasners and Mrs. Dewey are daughters of Mrs. Flora Cusic, who is living with the Deweys.

Ralph Combs, of Bandon, is working for Jess Edgmon now, taking the place of Mr. Edgmon's son, Earl, who married Miss Evelyn Doyle, of Arago, last week and who is now living in Coquille, where Mr. Edgmon is employed with Swift & Co. Mr. Combs is Mr. Edgmon's cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith were hosts to their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, of Coquille, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Howard Smith taught in the Riverton schools four years.

Robert Smith, graduate of 1935 and one of Riverton's outstanding athletes for the past seven years, left Sunday for Prineville, having received word from his brother, Clyde, that there was an opening for him in a logging camp there. We are sorry to lose such a fine young man, who was president of the student body in 1935 and who has always won his way into the hearts of his many friends but we are glad such an opportunity was opened for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler and son, Warren, moved Saturday from where they have been working for Joe Nilsson for the past year to Roseburg, where they lived prior to coming in to this section. Warren suffered from rheumatism while here.
