Junior High Play, Dec. 17

Under the direction of Miss Mary Loomis, who has had considerable experience in dramatic work, the Coquille Junior High school will present two one-act plays Tuesday, December 17, at 8 p. m., in the high school auditorium.

"His First Dress Suit," one of the plays, presents Richard Dye as young Ted Harding, who suddenly finds it important to look his best. As usual there is a woman, Geraldine Cole, taking the part of Betty Harding, who is responsible for this yen for finery. Other members of the cast include Lillian Bauer as Mrs. Harding and Harold Taylor as John Drake.

The comedy team of Florence Ryerson and Collin Clements have written the other play to be presented, which is "So This is Hollywood." The girl, who is a fickle, utterly feminine character, is played by Eunice Howe, and the victim of her womanly intuition is the boy, a part carried by Robert Adams.

Intermission numbers include a tap dance by Patsy Holverstott, selections by the Primary Rhythm Band and the Girls Glee club.

Dorris Compton Chosen As Honored Queen

Election of officers was the principal business of the regular Job's Daughters meeting last Monday evening, resulting as follows: Doris Compton, Honored Queen; La Velle Dale, Senior Princess; Marilyn Compton, Junior Princess; Dorothy Glaisyer, Guide; and Georgianna Johnson, Marshal.

Special guests for the evening included Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Beulah Chapter, O. E. S., a number of whom were present and escorted to the East.

The Daughters voted to use a part of the proceeds from their recent musical comedy, "Rose Dawn," to help defray the current expenses of the Masonic hall, which they use, rent free, and the greater portion of it as a nucleus toward a much needed furnace for the hall.

Installation of the new officers, to which the public is cordially invited, will be held Dec. 23rd.

This evening the girls are having a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. O. C. Sanford, guardian of the Bethel.
