Grangers Enjoy Annual Jubilee Here Saturday

Henagin, of the Fairview Grange, a most humorous reading.

The Cornfield Canaries quart—J. L. Smith, O. T. Gant, E. D. Webb and F. G. Leslie, presented the Coquille Grange's number—a group of songs—and those who were privileged to hear them say they never were in better form.

"Mellerdramer" was given by the Green Dell Grange of Green Acres, and Walter Laird, accompanied by Mrs. Stockhoff, played several violin selections as Myrtle Grange's number.

The program was under the direction of Miss Beth Culver, of Bridge.

The lively games which concluded the afternoon, were directed by the new Pomona Grange master, Ray Deadmond, of Fairview.

Joint grange installations which will be held tomorrow, Dec. 14, will be divided into two sections. The first will be at 10 a. m. at North Bay-side Grange Hall, and the second at Myrtle Point at 8 p. m.

Arthur Brown will be installing officer at both ceremonies, assisted by Miss Grace Rackleff, of Arago, and Mrs. Marie Schmidt, of Norway.

Club Notes and Other

Social Activities

The Friday evening contract bridge club met with Mrs. Harold Gould last week. Members and guests present included Mrs. Verrill McCurdy, Mrs. Chas. Haglund, Miss Eunice Gremgard, Miss Gloria Getz, Mrs. Margarita Brodie, Mrs. Clarence Osika and Mrs. Geo. McClellan. Mrs. McCurdy will be hostess to the club next Friday.

The Episcopal Guild ladies announce their Christmas party, which will be a 6:30 dinner for members of the church, the guild, and Sunday school, next Thursday evening, Dec. 19. At the regular Guild meeting on Wednesday of this week, Mrs. Geo. Lorenz was hostess, the following ladies being in attendance: Mesdames Mansell, Hazard, Robinson, Sherwood, Pettit, Gillespie, Woodward and Vinton.

The Business and Professional Women will hold their Christmas party next Monday evening in the Pioneer Hall, with Mrs. Viola Newton, chairman for the evening, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Gano. There will be no exchange of gifts, but it is reported that Santa will be there in person, and that no little woman will be slighted!

The Past Matrons and Patrons club of the O. E. S. is enjoying a Christmas tree n'everything, including dinner at seven o'clock this (Friday) evening at the Masonic hall. It is hoped that all Patrons and Matrons and their wife and husbands will be present.

Members of the "K" club will be the guests of Miss Barbara Bradford, of Marshfield, this evening. Attending from here will be Miss Kathleen McClintock, Miss Dean Harding, Miss Jean Young, Mrs. John Hawkins, Mrs. Clarence Osika and Mrs. R. C. Vaughan.

The Friendly Dozen sewing club, composed of Sanford Heights neighbors, met with Mrs. L. P. Fugelson Wednesday for their Christmas party. Those enjoying the afternoon were Mesdames Fred Nosler, Fred Wheaton, Sam Arnold, Sr., Jack Hultin, Geo. Matney, Grant Wilcox, Aaron Wilson and Harry Houghton. Mrs. Black was a special guest for the occasion.

Mrs. Walter Litzberger entertained her contract bridge club Tuesday evening of this week, with two tables in play. Mrs. Julius Ruble making high score. The next meeting of the club will be their Christmas exchange party, at the home of Mrs. Ruble next Tuesday evening. Present this week were Mesdames Theo. Clinton, Kenneth Kistner, Donald Estes, Orvin Gant, E. A. Walker, T. S. Stevens, Fred Watson and Julius Ruble.

Miss Carol Young was hostess to her contract bridge club this week, with the following members and guests participating in play: Miss Elizabeth Pierce, Miss Grace Ellingsen, Miss Lena Williams, Miss Katherine Jane Hassler, Miss Vesta Miley and Miss Dolores Belloni and Mrs. Marietta Powers, of Myrtle Point.

Mrs. Geo. McClellan has invited to her home this evening a number of friends for contract bridge. Those attending will include Mrs. Harold Gould, Miss Gloria Getz, Mrs. Chas. Haglund, Mrs. Donald Estes, Mrs. Verrill McCurdy, Mrs. Walter Litzberger, Mrs. Wanda Cochran and Mrs. Viola McElwaine.

Future Farmers Bean Feed Last Friday

at the opening of lodge sessions might well envy Harold the ability he showed in presenting the ritualistic work.

Music was furnished by L. L. Bernath, music instructor of the schools, who rendered two splendid violin selections, accompanied by Miss Margaret Purvance at the piano, and by Orvil Bailey, on the guitar, who sang to his own accompaniment.

Supt. P. W. Lane made the principal talk of the evening. He declared the Smith-Hughes department the most important in the schools and expressed the wish that this work could be tied up more directly with the ranches in the valley.

Floyd McDonald, Smith-Hughes instructor, gave a good talk, reviewing activities of the department and detailing some of the problems he has encountered in carrying on the work.

Bill Cuning, who was at the head of the department for several years and started the Father & Son banquet idea, came in for complimentary mention of the way in which he had co-operated with farmers and townspeople in bringing the Smith-Hughes work here to the high standard it has.

Others who spoke more or less briefly were J. L. Smith, Jack Clinton, H. H. Hartley, Keith Leslie, Earl Cross, F. C. McNelly, J. E. Norton and Frank Biasca.

At the close of the banquet the officers of the chapter exemplified the work by conferring the Green Hand degree on twenty freshmen who entered the Smith-Hughes class in September. Again it must be said that their presentation of the ritualistic work was excellent. Those boys in a few years will make very efficient officers in secret organizations.

Two to Give Recital

Mrs. M. O. Hawkins is presenting two of her piano pupils, Misses Geraldine Ensele and Elois Wilson, in recital at her home tomorrow (Saturday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock. A most enjoyable evening is anticipated by their friends. Light refreshments will be served by the hostess after the program, which consists of the following numbers:

- Mazurka - Erick Meyer-Helmund
- Les Sontes D'Hoffman Offenbach
- Transcription by Fritz Spindler
- Pizzicati from "Sylvia" - Delibes
- Elois Wilson
- Murmuring Zephyrs Jensen-Niemann
- Valse Arabesque - Lack
- Geraldine Ensele
- Vocal Solo, "Allah's Holiday"
- - - Rudolf Friml
- Vocal Solo, "Nightingale Song"
- - - Ethelbert Nevin
- Elois Wilson
- Prelude in G Minor - Chopin
- Butterfly - Grieg
- Fragment from G Minor Concerto - F. Mendelssohn
- Geraldine Ensele
- Rustle of Spring - Sinding
- Ase's Death and Anitra's Dance
- Peer Gynt Suite - Grieg
- Elois Wilson

8th Graders Visit Court House

The eighth grade class of the Bridge school visited each department in the court house on Monday. After the dismissal of the jury Judge Brand gave the boys and girls a very interesting explanation as to the Circuit court. These young people are now studying civics and this seemed a very practical way of teaching government.
