Rev. T. R. Jackman Writes of Observations in India

dictment to make against any people but their religious system has encouraged rather than discouraged them in their moral depravity. By way of illustration it has been their religious leaders that have fought most vehemently the abolition of child marriage. Though a law has recently been passed prohibiting the marriage of baby girls, it is known that the practice is still in vogue by these leaders and the people generally.

Although man is by nature a religious being, whether you find him in a civilized or uncivilized state, religion in itself is not enough for him, whether that religion be of the stamp found in the U. S. or that of India. Man in his natural moral depravity needs not religion but a religious experience that has an uplift.

I am persuaded more than ever before that Christianity has that uplift that men everywhere need. Mark you, I said Christianity, by that I mean experiencing Christ in the individual personality. The Christian religion separated from this definite experience is no better as an uplift to salvation than the religions of the heathen.

We are taking many moving pictures and have some splendid ones of India, particularly of Benares with its beautiful temples and burning ghats on the banks of the Ganges river.

Yesterday we visited the famous old seaport of Aden Arabia. Everything is very quiet in spite of the war that is so close. The most exciting thing that happened in Aden was not that we were anchored among many British submarines and cruisers but that the fish were biting good; so good, that even the captain lost his dignity for the time and joined the other officers, crew and passengers and fished. It was an amusing sight, for the time being a great ocean liner converted into a luxury fishing boat. Ivanelle was thrilled and we caught our share.

Will try and drop you a line from Jerusalem.

Sincerely, Ted Jackman

All sectarian controversies will be avoided. Class will meet at the Baptist church, 4th at Elliott on Thursday evening of each week, beginning Thurs. Jan. 9. Nine weeks will complete the course.

Class number II. Parent - Child Problems. This is a nine weeks' course. This class will meet in the council chambers at the city hall. The exact date and hour has not as yet been determined. It will be necessary to consult prospective members as to when it will be most convenient for the majority to come together. ### Faculty to Present Plays

The three one-act plays being prepared by the combined faculties of the Coquille schools will be presented February 7, instead of January 17, as originally planned, at eight o'clock in the Community Building. The money from these plays will be used for three purposes: playground apparatus for Washington School, library books for Lincoln school, and library books for the high school.

The first play, "The Valiant," has its setting in the warden's office of a state prison. The plot centers about James Dyke, a convicted murderer. The action is dramatic and moving. Characters for the play are as follows:
 Warden Holt - A. L. Beck
 Father Daly - L. L. Bernath
 James Dyke - P. W. Lane
 Josephine Paris - Jean Hill
 Dan - Joe Sayre
 Attendant - Clarence Osika
 Guard - Harold Santee

The second play, "Corned Babies," is a laughable one-act play depicting the difficulties of a young married couple when they have to present an imaginary baby to the husband's employer. The characters of this play are:

Wilma Baker - Mary Loomis
 Lula - Alfa Bang
 Leslie Baker - Clarence Osika
 John Bernard - H. H. Hartley
 Alice Wainer - Rosabel Shong
 The third play, "Henry's Mail-Order Wife," concerns the troubles arising when an old cowpuncher decides to enter matrimony via the mail order route. He orders one bride and receives two! The characters appearing in the play are:
 Abe Smithers - Clarence Osika
 Henry Gubbons - Floyd McDonald
 Jim Jones - Harold Santee
 Beckey Simpson - Marie Stewart
 Mrs. Tucker - Averil Stewart
 The Minister - Joe Sayre

Notes from Mrs. Mulkey's Office

4-H Home Ec and Health Club will meet at E. M. Wilson's home, Coquille, Friday, January 17, at eight p. m. Others who are interested in 4-H Club work are invited to attend.

Helen Cowgill, assistant Home Economics club leader for Oregon, will be in attendance to help club leaders. Also Mrs. Lela Elrod, health nurse, will give points as to health club work. Lans Leneve, rural sanitation supervisor, will explain the new sanitary toilets which are available through the government.

Each club leader will have a part in the program by telling something which her club has done. Gertrude Borgard, of Myrtle Point, will preside.

Schools Have Sanitary Toilets

No doubt many rural schools will want to install the new sanitary toilets under the government sanitation program. We understand that only ninety days were allotted for this government service.

Hot Lunches at Bandon

Many children in Coos county are getting warm food at noon. In several districts this is merely a jar of food which has been placed in a pan of water to heat. The Bandon school probably has one of the most complete lunches. The cost per child is seven cents. The Bandon Women's Club sponsors the hot lunch and pays the cook. The school provides the fuel and janitor service. The dishwashing is done by students who can't afford the seven cents. One thing which has helped to keep down cost is the generous donations of left over foods from banquets, etc.

Bridge

Children may take their regular baths at Bridge school. The showers are used for this purpose. This serves as a great accommodation for children from homes not equipped with bathing facilities. Also it makes for more cleanliness in the school.

P. T. A. Notes

The executive board of the Parent-Teachers association will meet next Tuesday evening, January 14, at eight o'clock in the Washington school building. Matters of importance are to be discussed and all board members are urged to attend.

Speakers from several of the service clubs of Coquille will give five-minute talks. Mrs. Geo. Chaney will speak to the association on "Co-operation between parent and teacher."

Fathers are given a special invitation to attend this evening meeting.

The Study Club of Mrs. Chase's room met at the home of Mrs. Toole on Henry street, January 2, with seven mothers present including the room teacher. A chapter on McKown's book, "Character Education," was read and discussed.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Oederkirk, Mrs. Ed Aasen, Mrs. Rose Johnston, Mrs. Pomeroy, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Benham, Mrs. Robt. Dutton and the hostess, Mrs. Toole.

Fairview

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Teagarden and son, Harold Young, returned to Fairview on Tuesday of this week, from a trip through the southern part of California. They reported seeing many interesting and historical sights, and ideal weather conditions along the coast.

The Fairview-North Fork Grange, No. 739, will hold its next regular meeting in the community hall on Saturday evening, January 11. Plans are being made for the Pomona meeting, to be held within the next week.

To date, there are at least a dozen new families in the valley, which also adds to the enrollment at the local school. Estimate of the number of pupils has been placed at fifty.

The stormy weather that swept the valley last Thursday and Friday, has caused considerable damage. The bridge on the Ray Deadmond ranch was swept away by the high waters and terrific winds, and left the Deadmonds stranded on the other side of the river.

Warren Dow, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dow, is still rejoicing over his narrow escape from a watery dip. Warren had just crossed the old dam near his home, which is the only connection this family has with the main road, when the timbers were crushed by the onslaught of water and wind, and sent crashing down the roaring North Fork. Other minor damages have been listed but none so far of the consequence that the above were.

Harold Heangin spent the weekend in Fairview with his family, returning to his work, near Eugene, on Sunday evening.

Rev. G. A. Gray, of Coquille, held services in the church last Sunday. His next trip will be on Sunday, January 19. As a special number Mrs. Leneve and Mrs. Benham sang a duet which was much appreciated by all. The secretary's report, read by Mrs. Lora Holverstott, was unusually good, as it indicated more interest and attendance.

The extremely high waters prevented the local school teachers from reaching Fairview until Monday evening. Miss Woodward managed to get here that evening, but Mrs. Harrah was delayed until Tuesday. Mrs. Alice Hubbell substituted for Mrs. Harrah in her absence.

The school board meeting, held in the school house on Monday evening, January 6, resulted in the election of George E. Stevenson as director. Mrs. Bethel C. Norris, chairman of the board, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Carl Alley and daughter, Harriett Jensen, came home Sunday from Eden Ridge, where they are employed. They remained for a few days and Mrs. Alley returned to her work. Miss Harriett expects to return soon.

The Fairview Townsend Club, No. 1, held its regular meeting at the community hall last Saturday evening, January 4. The extreme weather er conditions prevented many from attending, several of whom were to be on the program for the evening, but the local club managed to have a good meeting in spite of this. The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the following: president, Lans Leneve; vice president, J. W. Powell; secretary, Bette Ann Yeoman; and treasurer, Mrs. Manda Johnson. It will be noticed that both Mr. Leneve and Mrs. Johnson succeeded themselves in their respective offices. At this, the first meeting of the New Year, thirteen new members were gained, making the total membership ninety-seven.

MAKE WINTER YOUR FRIEND—NOT YOUR ENEMY

WINTER can be a lot of fun—or the most miserable time of the year. It depends upon whether or not your body is strong enough to resist infection. Science says that vitamin A helps protect your body against infection in general. Help build up your resistance now with MCKESSON'S VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS OF COD LIVER OIL. These chocolate-coated tablets supply vitamin A, as well as vitamin D, which makes up the lack of "sunshine" values in winter. Each tablet contains one grain of dicalcium phosphate. Each tablet furnishes all the vitamins in one teaspoonful of Cod Liver Oil, U.S.P.X. (revised 1934). Six tablets daily will fortify your resistance to winter's ills. At any good drug store. A $1 bottle brings you 100 MCKESSON'S VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS.
