ARAGO

Mrs. Marvin Shaw was hostess Thursday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Patty, who celebrated her fourth birthday. Those present were Mrs. Everett Lafferty and Allen, Joan and Josephine Milani, Mrs. George Zinserling and Junior, Mrs. Gordon Fleming and Donald and Virginia, Mrs. Adrian Halter and Allen and Ronald.

Rev. G. A. Gray, of Coquille, conducted the morning services at Arago Sunday, speaking on the "Three Hour Sermon" of Kanamori, the Japanese evangelist. There were seventy in attendance at Sunday school afterwards. In the evening Mrs. J. L. Burtis was the Christian Endeavor leader and David Root brought the message of the evening. John Carl will bring the message next Sunday evening. Ernest Watkins will be the leader for Christian Endeavor and there will be special musical numbers. Rev. H. A. Minter will preach at the morning service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zinserling and family spent Saturday and Sunday in Newport visiting her aunt and uncle.

Word received early Thursday of the death of the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schroeder, Freda, Mrs. Larvey Swofford, in Reno, Nevada, Wednesday, came as a great shock to relatives in this district. Mrs. Swofford was home last March during the illness of Mrs. Schroeder. She left a tiny daughter, Audrey Irene, who will be left in the hospital in Reno for some weeks. Her sister, Irene, Mrs. Gordon Fleming, and her parents are residents of the Arago district. She also leaves a host of uncles, aunts and cousins in Coos county. The funeral was held from the Schroeder chapel in Myrtle Point on Wednesday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane in the Roy district was the scene of a jolly dinner party Sunday in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Lane. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lane and son, Dick, of Myrtle Point, Mrs. Althea Harrah and Marvin and Arden, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Myers and son, Oliver, Gerald Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Halter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barklow, Mrs. Sarah Barklow.

Miss Eleanor Corthell returned to Arago late Sunday evening after attending the Freshman Glee at Willamette University in Salem. The class of 1936 won the annual competition for the fourth consecutive year, which is the first time this has occurred in the twenty-eight years it has been held. Miss Agnes Corthell is a member of the 1936 class.

Harry Collier returned Tuesday night after spending several weeks with his sister, Ethel, in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Barklow, Lyle and Bonnie Jean, spent Saturday and Sunday in Sixes, visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rowan.

Mrs. Joseph Bognuda was a Sunday guest of her father, Andrew Smalley. She returned from a trip to Ferndale Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Oluf Aasen spent Sunday afternoon at the Damron ranch. They called on Sam Damron, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Jess Damron. The recent sunshine made it possible to drive the entire distance without chains. Damrons live more than a mile from the gravel road.

Lee Collier, who accompanied the high school basketball team to Ashland, remained in that place. He got work to do and enrolled in the normal school for the spring term.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Watkins took Mrs. Will Warner, of Broadbent, to Bandon with them Sunday morning. They returned to their home Monday. Their great grandson, Jack Damron, who has been ill with complications following flu since last November, was able to return to school for the first time Monday morning. The home of their granddaughter, Mrs. John Damron, was robbed Monday morning, just before the Watkins drove home. When they left all she had missed was the money from the children's savings banks. The house was badly upset by the hurried invader.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Farrier were both bereaved this past week. Mrs. Farrier through the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Leneve, who was buried in Bandon Wednesday, and Mr. Farrier through the death of his brother, Lewis, who was buried Thursday in Denmark.

Will Duncan suffered a very bad fall last week while pruning fruit trees at his home on Fishtrap. He is still very lame from a back injury and is unable to move about very rapidly.

A card from Miss Pearl Robinson, the song leader during the revival campaign held here last fall, states that her mother was buried last Saturday in Sutherlin, where she had been ill for two weeks. Miss Robinson will be at her home with her father for a time but hopes to visit friends in Coos county later in the spring.

Sam Damron, who has been seriously ill for the past ten days, is able to be up part of each day and hopes for a full recovery soon. His improvement has been much slower than his friends had hoped.

Miss Arda Gillespie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gillespie, was taken to the Keizer hospital Friday. She is critically ill from complications following flu and measles.

The Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Frank Burbank on Friday. Following the business meeting the ladies adjourned to the dining room where places were set for all and the members of Mrs. David Root's bible class were hostesses at a luncheon of salad, nut bread sandwiches and birthday cake, which Mrs. Root, as guest of honor, cut. A handkerchief shower and a tea service from her class were part of her surprise, which was so complete that she did not realize the meaning of the affair until her name was sung in birthday greetings. Those present were Mesdames David Root, J. L. Burtis, C. S. Webb, Albert Lillie, Albert Gulstrom, Marvin Shaw, Everett Lafferty, Harriet Burbank, Gordon Fleming, S. C. McAllister, Adrian Halter, Leon Paull, Oluf Aasen, Frank Burbank, Lawrence Rackleff and Miss Mary Watkins. Mrs. Art Doyle is able to be out again after a bout with the flu. Ray Shane left Wednesday to drive to Portland for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Shane.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rogers and family, who have rented the P. W. Laird ranch near the river for the past two years, moved to Coquille on Wednesday. The vicinity is sorry to lose such fine neighbors. The high school will lose one freshman when Julia is gone.

The Arago cheese factory is erecting a new whey tank this week to facilitate sending whey to the new condensing plant in Coquille.

The final rehearsals for "The Strange Bequest," which will be given by the Juniors and Seniors, have started.

The Arago basketball squad, consisting of Charles Webb, George Paull, Francis Barklow, Alvin Fredenberg, Cecil Patrick and Clyde Lillie, accompanied by Wallace Carl, Lee Colmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parker and Gene, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watkins, left Wednesday afternoon for Ashland. The boys played their first game with Central Point Thursday at one o'clock and they played a fine game, making a better showing at accurate basket shooting than they had at any time during the season. They won with a score of 28 to 20, which put them in the bracket to play at nine o'clock with Phoenix, the champions of Jackson county. During the first five minutes of the evening play they made a brilliant showing. Then the Phoenix team solved their style of play and things went wrong for Arago, the final outcome being Phoenix 26 and Arago 23. However, the boys never quit playing and Phoenix knew they had had some stiff competition. The loss of this game eliminated the boys and they decided to come home on Friday. They watched the morning series of games, seeing Port Orford defeated by Myrtle Creek and Powers winning over Jacksonville in an exciting 21 to 22 game. In the afternoon they visited the airport at Medford, having the opportunity to inspect, both inside and out, one of the transcontinental planes of the United Airways. Both cars came in that evening. There were no injuries and one of the interesting things of the first game was that there were no fouls. Webb was the high scoring man of the team, making fourteen points in the first game. One of the high lights of the tournament was the hard-fought game between Riverton and Port Orford, with Riverton losing in the third overtime with the score of 19 to 18. Riverton suffered an equal disappointment in their second game when they lost to Chiloquin by 19 to 20. There were twenty-nine teams in the tournament. Arago will have a nucleus of a team to start with next year, with Paull, Lillie, Fredenberg and Barklow. Webb and Patrick will graduate.

Fairview

The lovely, sunny weather which has invaded the valley during the past week, is certainly a welcome sight. The amount of illness, mostly colds and flu, has decidedly decreased, which is a glad thought for all.

The Fairview-North Fork Grange will hold its regular meeting in the community hall on Saturday evening, March 14. All grangers are cordially invited.

Lorraine Norris won highest honors for all-around good citizenship in upper grades of the Fairview school this week. Points in this contest are given for conduct, courteousness, recitation, and similar achievements, so anyone attaining such recognition should be justly proud. Doris Hatcher, Verlin Moore, Albert Moore, Thelma Hatcher, Marvene Henagin, Coralee Ellis and Melvin Johnson scored highest in the primary grades. Since the beginning of this system of gaining mention through good school work, keen competition has been noticed between the two rooms and also individual students. This week the primary room takes the laurels from the advanced students, which should prove an added necessity for more intensive work in the upper grades for the coming week.

Irwin Henagin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Henagin, is visiting friends and relatives in Eugene at the present time.

Many valley residents attended the Coos County Farm Outlook Conference in Coquille this week. Ray Deadmond, of this locality, was prominently mentioned during this meeting, and Harold Neal, also of Fairview, was called upon to speak.

The attendance at Sunday school was good last Sunday. In the absence of the superintendent, Wm. Byerly, Miss Harriet Jensen took charge. Rev. G. A. Gray, of Coquille, will hold services next Sunday, March 15.
