Mrs. D. S. Brode
Funeral services were held at eleven o'clock Thursday morning from Schroeder Funeral Home in Myrtle Point for Mrs. Emma Brode, of Bridge, who passed away at Mast hospital in this city Tuesday, March 31, 1936. Rev. W. C. Cronk, Methodist pastor, conducted the last rites and the interment services, which were held at Norway cemetery.

Mrs. Brode entered the hospital Monday night to undergo an abdominal operation Tuesday morning. Surgeons discovered on the operating table that she was suffering from a cancer. After the operation she rallied from the anesthetic but death came at three o'clock that afternoon.

She was born at Elkader, Iowa, October 29, 1883. Her father was a native of Ohio and her mother was Swiss. In addition to her widower, Daniel S. Brode, several sisters and brothers survive here and three daughters, Mrs. Neva M. Hiestand, of Myrtle Point, Mrs. Eileen Evernden, of Bancroft, and Mrs. Marvel Mutschman, of Bridge.—Myrtle Point Herald

Mrs. Rebecca Anne Clinton
Mrs. Rebecca Anne Clinton, who lacked a few days of being 90 years old, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Mast, just this side of the Beaver Hill crossing, last Friday and funeral services were held here at 1:30 p. m. on Sunday, at Schroeder Bros. Mortuaries, conducted by Rev. W. S. Smith. Interment was in the Norway cemetery.

Born April 10, 1846, she was married to DeWitt Clinton in 1864. Of the twelve children born to them, three survive: Mrs. Inez Mast, of Coquille, Mrs. Nellie Bigelow and Jas. Clinton, of Lee. Her husband passed away several years ago.

Heat Energy of Gasoline
The gasoline engine of autos converts, at best, 25 per cent of the heat energy of the gasoline. Fifteen per cent would be considered a good average figure. At this rate, if 100 per cent efficiency could be obtained, which is, incidentally, impossible, a large, heavy car could easily go 60 miles on a gallon of gasoline and a light car could go about 100 miles on a gallon.

According to the dictates of the coiffure guild in New York and the many famous hair stylists who recently gathered in that city at a national convention of the clan, the smartly coiffed women of 1936 will observe the following rules. Hair will be shorter, from two and a half to five inches long. There must be as many parts as possible forming triangles, and other geometric effects. Ears will be exposed and waves will be soft and fluffy. For evening wear, hairdress will follow the renaissance mode, elaborately dressed with use of cork-screw curls, braids and horizontal curls. A wide use of ornaments is foreseen for evening, including monogram clips, feathers, velvet or metal leaves and classic Grecian cord bandeaux. An sigrette coronet for evening wear is shown at the top in the picture. Centered in the group a back view shows the smart horizontal curls. These are held at each side by rhinestone clips. Note also the crest of curls at the top of the head. Below is a Marie Antoinette hairdress with rhinestone tiara ornament surmounting the forehead.
