No. 3—MIST AND FOG

So long as there is light we may skip around at a lively rate over this old globe of ours. We may span oceans in surprising time. We may cross the continent from sun-up to sun-down.

But every now and then Mother Nature decides to put us in our place, and of all her devices to make us slow down, none is more effective than mist and fog.

Now we may not have to contend with fog and mist very frequently, but we're bound to now and then, and when we do, it can cause us a lot of annoyance and trouble.

When a good heavy fog comes—on land, at sea or in the air—everything that moves, moves with caution. The ocean liner slows down several knots an hour. Lightships signal, buoys sound and foghorns boom. Airlines ground their planes and cancel trips. Even trains on tracks reduce their speed—and we drivers on the highways, too, must make our way cautiously through that baffling screen. For one thing is true. In spite of all our progress, transportation still depends on pairs of eyes in human heads.

Scientists who have studied fog, say that it is composed of tiny drops of water. These drops are so small and light that they hang in the air, and so close together that light can hardly get through them. Instead, these little drops act like tiny convex mirrors. When we try to pierce them with a beam of light, a great deal of it is thrown right back at us, so the effect is just like a great, gleaming white curtain in front of us.

Experienced drivers say that the first thing to do is to get our lights right. The main thing is to direct the beams downward. If we have them shining straight ahead, those little mist-drop mirrors reflect the rays back in our eyes. But if they're pointing downward, the rays are deflected toward the road.

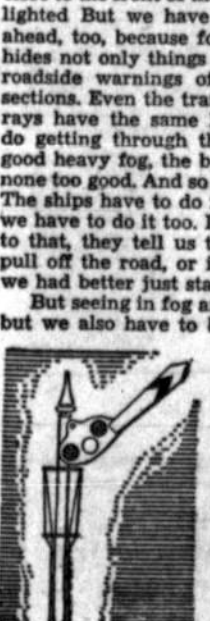

Then they say it's a good idea to guide by the road edge at our right, and if we have a spotlight on our car, to focus it right on that road edge close to the front of the car, so the edge will be clearly lighted. But we have to keep a good weather eye ahead, too, because fog veils more than the road. It hides not only things on the road but such things as roadside warnings of curves and hills and intersections. Even the traffic light's red and green signal rays have the same hard time that our headlights do getting through that strange haze. In fact, in a good heavy fog, the best we can do for our vision is none too good. And so the main thing is to slow down. The ships have to do it, the trains have to do it, and we have to do it too. If we won't make up our minds to that, they tell us the best thing we can do is to pull off the road, or if we have not yet started out, we had better just stay home.

But seeing in fog and mist is only half the story. We not only have to see, but we also have to be seen. Our headlights properly adjusted are strong enough to do their duty in pointing us out to people coming from the opposite direction. And, in addition, some drivers use their horns like foghorns by giving them a toot every now and then. But another thing we have to think of is to be sure drivers behind us see us. That's why it's so important to have our stop-signal and tail-light working when we're driving in fog. And so it's a good thing to wipe off those little red lights are working and to wipe off those little red glasses if they happen to be covered with mud. If the weather's clear and our tail-light has gone out, the other fellow's lights may point us out fairly well. But if his headlights are fighting fog, they can't do much to protect us.

So, when all is said and done, driving in fog is more careful. If we do that, we can drive our cars safely, even through Nature's stubborn obstacles of mist and fog.

Coquille School News

Coquille High School News
Coquille's debate team, accompanied by Miss Hill and Miss Hall, left this morning for Grants Pass to uphold the negative against the affirmative. Lovelle Walstrom and Howard Hickam, who compose the team, are followed by the best wishes of the high school.

Eighth grade students are high school guests this week. Students from Lincoln School and surrounding country districts are visiting the high school and becoming familiar with the routine of the school. Members of the freshmen class are acting as individual guides and sponsors.

Invitations have been received by the girls of the senior class to attend the annual party in their honor arranged by the Coquille Business and Professional Women. The reception will be held at Pioneer Hall Monday evening, April 6.

Washington School Notes
Visitors since last report are: Mr. Rubles, Mesdames Dutton, Gormley, Hunt, Ruble, Geo. Taylor, Walter Oerding, Saylor, Fred P. King, Preston, Lawrence, Payne, Milligan, Shultz, Denzer and Brown.

New pupils since last report are Leonard Allen and Donald Payne.

Both third grades are having a very interesting "Clean Hand Contest." Each pupil keeps a daily health chart. Those who have excellent scores for one month will receive health buttons. Much interest is being shown.

The following pupils in Miss Stamborough's room have 100 per cent in multiplication, addition, subtraction and division facts: Bonny Avery, Shirley Hannon, Janet Lewis, Clarissa Pierce, Fern Davidson, Frances Davidson, Mildred McCarthy, Jane Munroe, Earl Appleton, Sherman Gregory, Donald Minard, Jim Goffey, Marion Denzer and Earl Benham.

The fourth and fifth grades in Miss Ellingsen's room have chosen sides and are having a contest in health. Every morning there is inspection for clean hands and finger nails and a check-up on teeth and hair. The losing side is to furnish the dessert at a picnic to be held as soon as the contest is over.

Last Friday free-hand paper cutting was done in art class and some very good snowflakes and borders were made.

Eugene Mead brought an excellent map of the world, United States and miscellaneous maps of all kinds to class, which has made the geography period much more interesting.

Nine new students have entered the Washington school since spring vacation, bringing our enrollment for the year to 261. Donald, Terry and Corrine Payne came from North Bend, Leonard and Ethan Allen from Lincoln school, Betty Lou Edminster from Roy District, Phyllis Barlow from Eureka, California; Edward Holbrook from Glendale, California, and Nancy King from Medford, Ore.

FAIRVIEW

Clara Myer and Dollie Crump were on the honor roll in the advanced room last week at the Fairview school. The primary pupils are still in the lead, however, with twice that many students attaining high grades. They are: Thelma Hatcher, Verlin Moore, Doris Hatcher and Lindy Lou Holverstott.

The boys and girls' 4-H clubs met as usual on Wednesday of last week. The girls were disappointed when their leader, Mrs. Neal, was unable to attend. These organizations will meet again on April 8, hoping for better results.

The Fairview-North Fork Grange No. 739, met in the community hall Saturday evening, March 28. The open lecture hour, under the direction of Mrs. Sophie Toest, proved unusually entertaining. A lunch was served later on in the evening by the Home Ec. committee, headed by Mrs. Florence Norris.

The Hayseed Quartette met at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Leneve on Tuesday of this week. The following ladies were present: Mesdames Lena Moore, Daisy Henagin, Nita Neal, Hazel Benham, Miss Bette Yeoman and the hostess. The time was spent in preparing numbers for the coming Townsend meeting. The ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Hazel Benham for the next practice.

Plans for the annual observation of Easter in this community are well under way. The customary pot-luck dinner will be held with everyone invited to attend. The services will be a combination of the three major organizations and the school and it is hoped that a minister can be secured to speak.

The Fairview Townsend Club, No. 1, will meet in the community hall Saturday evening, April 4. A big time is planned for this meet, as is usual at Fairview. Everyone is urged to attend.

Card of Thanks

I want to thank the Coquille Firemen for their efforts in trying so hard to save my home last Sunday.
Mrs. Jennie Price, Coquille.

Calling cards, 50 for $1.00.

Junior Woman's Club Meets

Following Mrs. A. L. Beck's report on the lack of available housing facilities for the Junior Woman's Club, the group, during their meeting at the home of Mrs. Joe Sayre, entered into intense discussion concerning their problem. It was learned that no halls owned by fraternal or religious societies could be rented for less than $5 an evening and the club had been denied use of city-owned property by the council.

Arrangements were made for a cooked food sale to be held Saturday, April 11, with Mrs. Elbert Schroeder as general chairman.

Mrs. Joe Sayre, delegate to the county federation meeting held last week in North Bend, presented her report in a splendid and interesting manner. Chief item of interest to the local club was her statement in connection with the co-operation accorded other county groups by their ownspouse. North Bend was the leading example in that their organization had been allowed free use of a fine meeting place.

Mrs. Everett Strain will be hostess at her home for the next meeting April 14.

Refreshments were served following the business meeting.

BRIDGE

Ernest Bryant who was operated on for appendicitis last week at the Mast hospital in Myrtle Point, is getting along nicely.

Miss Ionella Curtis is at home again after spending a few days at the Louis Root home in Myrtle Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Lett were Coquille visitors Monday.

The local Christian Endeavor was presented at the union young people's meeting at the Brethren church in Myrtle Point Sunday evening by the following: Mrs. Stanley Lake, Virginia and Vivienne Lake, Mrs. John F. Dunckley, Myrtle and Virginia Beckett, Lou and Maude Hooton, Pauline Farmer, Nadine Ellis, Glenn Hutton and Junior Bartlett. James Morrison is able to return to work again after being laid up for several days with an attack of appendicitis.

There was a good attendance at the Civic Club meeting Friday afternoon and an interesting program was presented. The club has arranged for the serving of hot lunches to the school children again since the weather has been cold and stormy.

The community was shocked and saddened Tuesday evening when word came that Mrs. D. S. Brode had passed away at the Mast hospital about five p. m. following an operation that morning for cancer.

She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband and three daughters, Mrs. Neva Heistand, Mrs. Eileen Evernden and Mrs. Marvel Mutschman, besides several other relatives. Her sister, Mrs. E. E. Fraedrick, had been with her since Saturday.

Among those who have been on the sick list the past few days are Lorraine Holmes, Myrtle, Wilda and Alden Beckett, Mrs. J. O. Farmer and Evelyn Morrison.

There will be a morning church service next Sunday, conducted by J. L. Ellis.

R. N. A. Bestows Jewel

The most interesting meeting of the year was held by the Royal Neighbors in the Woodmen Hall Wednesday evening. District Deputy Ada Lemon, of Myrtle Point, was formally introduced, as was also Mrs. Edna Kelley, who was the guest of honor for the evening. She and her husband are charter members of the local camp, who have been in continuous good standing for over twenty-five years. Mrs. Lemon presented the Kelleys each with a twenty-five-year jeweled pin, gifts from the local Camp. Mrs. Mary Bigger was then initiated into the order. After the business session a musical program was enjoyed. Mrs. Jane Burch rendered a vocal number and Leonard Ensele gave two fine violin solos, accompanied by his sister, Geraldine. The kitchen committee served dainty refreshments, the table being decorated in Easter fashion.

A potluck supper is to be held the evening of the next regular meeting and each member is asked to bring a covered dish and their families.

Taukanso Club Notes

The members of the Taukanso club spent a very pleasant evening last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Ensele. Some of the members enjoyed cards, while others did fancy-work. As the evening drew to a close, the hostess served dainty refreshments to the following: Mesdames M. D. Sherrard, El Burch, Billes, Ernest Johnson, Jack Leach, Wm. Peart, Henry Belloni, Robt. Waggoner, Nye, Weyland Custer, Miss Geraldine Ensele and the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Jack Leach, the evening of April 23.
