"Oregon Products" Meeting

Mrs. Inez Chase told of Oregon authors, calling attention to two writers of Coos county who had received recognition, these being T. S. Easton, of Dora, and Frances Holmstrom, of Coquille. Mrs. Holmstrom read several of her poems among which was the "Corn Worm," which seems to be a favorite with many people.

In her discussions on Oregon artists and cartoonists, Mrs. Ruth Beyers told of the several statues which connect up with Oregon history.
