Ray F. Miller Victim of Pneumonia

on the Cunningham, Jan. 21, 1893. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Miller, who passed away a quarter of a century ago.

He graduated from Coquille High School in 1914 and spent a year at the University of Arizona.

When the United States entered the war Pete responded to his country's demands, and was on a vessel at Norfolk, Va., bound for France, when the armistice was signed.

Returning to Coquille he entered the hardware business with his brother, John W. Miller, and when that was closed he purchased the Cow Bell Dairy which he and Mrs. Miller have since conducted. A few months ago they moved to enlarged quarters, next to the postoffice, and were enjoying an increased patronage.

On October 27, 1922, Mr. Miller was united to Miss Effie Floten of this city, who survives him. He is also survived by a sister and two brothers, Mrs. Anna M. Rooney, of Coquille; Alf B. Miller, of Empire; and John W. Miller, of Merrill, Ore. The latter arrived here last night. Pete was the youngest of the family.

Pete was an ardent sportsman and one of the charter members of the old Coquille Gun Club. He played football in high school and college, followed all sports for the sports' sake, and got more pleasure out of living than do most men. Life was a joy to him and he made friends by his cheery smile and friendly disposition. Mrs. Miller says she never heard Pete say that he did not like any one.

Beside his Elks and Legion affiliations, Mr. Miller was a member of Chadwick Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of the higher branches of Masonry, the Shrine, and the recently organized Coquille Rotary Club.

There is probably no one in Coquille who would be more poignantly missed than Pete Miller will be, and his legions of friends sincerely mourn his passing in the prime of life.

Emmett E. Arrell

Funeral services were conducted at the Schroeder Chapel, at 2:30 p. m. yesterday by Earl F. Downing, for Emmett E. Arrell, who died at the Coquille Hospital, Monday morning, at the age of 45. Interment was in the Masonic cemetery.

Mr. Arrell had been a resident of Coquille for the past twelve years and formerly operated a ranch down the river. He had been ill about three months.

He is survived by four children, Mrs. V. Tyson, of Portland, Kenneth, Francis and Virgil Arrell, all of Coquille; two sisters, Mrs. Doras Ebbe, of North Bend, Mrs. Ida Hester, of Portland; four brothers, Oscar and Gus, of Klamath Falls, Kenneth, of Independence, and Frank, of Eugene.

Eastside Assault Case Heard

Assault and battery on the person of a police officer is not any more of an offense in Oregon than it is to beat up a private citizen, so on motion of District Attorney Flaxel, the case against L. Myers, of Eastside, heard in Justice Stanley's court here yesterday, was decided by binding him over to the grand jury.

The police officer was Sylvester McGriff, of Eastside, and the beginning of the episode was back in 1910 when the Circuit court decided a dock east of the Bay belonged to the city of Eastside. However, the claimant of ownership leased the dock to Myers, who cut and stored wood on it.

The dock has been unsafe for some time and the city council there ordered the marshal to barricade it. He did so and Myers tore down the barricade. Words followed and in the heat of discussion Myers swung on the officer's chin, knocking him down.

Bennett Swanton, city attorney for Eastside, insisted that the case be brought before Mr. Stanley and half of Eastside was over here yesterday to hear the trial which did not materialize, although a dozen witnesses were heard.
