Try Mission Orange Drink

It is no longer necessary to go to the trouble and inconvenience of squeezing oranges in order to make an orange drink, states Geo. P. Johnson, of the Cream O'Coos Ice Cream Co.

"There is now available at all grocery stores, drug stores, markets and any place where beverages are sold, a drink known as Mission Orange, that is meeting with exceptional popularity. We make Mission Orange drink every day in our plant from the juice of California Valencia oranges. The same care is used in its preparations as we are required to exercise with our other dairy products.

"Besides the big five-cent bottles sold throughout the city, a larger package for home use can be delivered daily. Many housewives are finding it convenient to keep this cool, healthful drink in the family ice box. It eliminates the inconvenience of preparing an orange drink as it is always ready to serve."

Mr. Johnson stated that Mission orange drink contains no artificial colorings or preservatives.

TODAY'S TAXOGRAM

Taxes eat up about as much money as the nation's total bill for clothing, food, rent and electric light all put together, a recent study of the tax situation shows. Taxes take roughly one fifth of all each person makes.

Loggers Win From Crescent City by 8-3 Score

It was not "Rocky" Peterson who proved to be the downfall of Brother Jim Peterson, but Mel Duncan had to see the Crescent City portion of the Peterson family defeated, so he took over chief swatting duties for the day and as a result Crescent City was downed here last Sunday, 8 to 3, by the Coquille Loggers.

Up to the last of the seventh inning, Coquille was trailing. The Merchants from California had scored once in the third and twice in the fifth, while Coquille had been held to one lone run in the fourth. Against his brother, "Rocky" had done fairly well up to about mid game, scoring the Logger lone counter by hitting for a triple and registering when the third baseman let the throw-in go through him, and in the time at bat before his hit, Brother Jim had hit Brother "Rocky" with a pitched ball.

Two were away when Coquille tied the count in the seventh. Bill Calvert, third man up, singled, then stole a base and continued on to third on an error. Mel Duncan strode to the plate and his smashing home run carried far and away to the boards and the score was tied, 3 to 3.

The eight came around and a mighty rally won the game for the Loggers. Pulford walked and advanced to second on Fischer's out. Foss tripped, but "Rocky" was an easy pop out.

In succession Woodyard singled, Kolstad was hit by a pitch, and Calvert singled. Mel Duncan produced again with a double which scored two runners and the five additional counters were in. Joe Spencer struck out to end the bombardment.

Ray Woodyard sparked afield for Coquille with his nice work around third base. Lineups:

Fans Liked Harry Elliott's First Wrestling Card

Last Friday saw the first all-star wrestling card put on by Matchmaker Harry Elliott at the Community Building and it was an exciting affair from start to finish.

In the preliminary, Bobby Burns, the Florida Flash, wrestled a beautiful no-fall draw against Walter "Sneeze" Achin. Burns used his powerful head snapper hold and the Dayton Chinaman came back with his Jiu Jitsu. It was obvious that the thirty-minute limit was not long enough to determine who was superior.

Bill Kenna in the one-hour special event came out strong against his black opponent, Jack Clayburn, and annexed the first fall with the dreaded crab hold. After the three minute rest, Kenna came back and seemed about to take the colored boy with another crab hold when Clayburn suddenly stiffened his legs, arched his back and took the fall with a reversal of the crab.

In the last canto, the black boy really went to town. He threw Kenna all over the ring and used an airplane spin for the deciding fall.

The main event, Danny McShane opposing Pascual Costello, was a viciously fought duel.

Costello took the first fall with a rocking-chair hold in which he spun McShane around the ring and then pinned him. McShane used what looked to be the toughest hold of the evening when he secured a hammerlock and arm stamp on Costello. The Spaniard endured the hold for less than ten seconds and hurriedly pounded the mat. McShane came back full of confidence and continued his roughing. After throwing rights and lefts the Irishman put on his hammerlock and arm stamp. Costello lashed out with both feet, knocked McShane to the mat and reversed the hold which decided the match in the Spaniard's favor.

It was a real all star event and bids fair to draw a capacity house next time. Matchmaker Elliott announced his next card for July 31st.

UNDER THE BLEACHERS

(By Mark Seeley)

What next? Now we have a ball team of "Convicts." No foolin', that's the straight dope. The team is named the "Convicts" and they are supposed to "murder the ball," "steal the bases," and "crack the bats."

Admittedly, I'll say that I don't know if these "Convicts" have ever served time or even spent the night behind bars to cool off a bit. But the ball club is named the "Convicts," the members wear striped uniforms, and are supposed to put on a great show for the fans. Maybe they're whites or maybe they're colored boys, I have not found out for sure as yet.

This club may be here in Coquille on Sunday, August 16. Bill Fortier has been offered the 15th, but he's trying to get the Sunday date. At least these "Convicts" will be a welcome change from the usual attraction of nice ball players, who are not jailbirds.

Wrestling may have found a niche in Coquille, if the turnout at last Friday's card is any indication. All over town and down at the Smith Wood-Products the boys are talking "rassling," so it looks all well and good for Harry Elliott and his troupe of entertainers.

The fans really go for modern-day wrestling despite the fact that it's a "you win tonight and I'll win next week" proposition. I don't blame them a bit, because I guess it's entertainment. In fact, it's so entertaining that the mat meanies are truly capable of giving many of the bad men of the movies instruction on how to be bad and nasty. They're all actors.

Personally, I like wrestling before it got to be such a thing, but my opinion doesn't amount to much so skip it. My idea of wrestling is not an act in which one grappler kicks another into what is supposed to be submission. Wrestling in the days gone by when Farmer Burns and Frank Gotch were kings and Strangler Lewis and Joe Stecher were coming into their own was on the up and up. The collegians have helped alter the game.

But no matter how they wrestle nowadays, the fans go for the rough Hollywood stuff. It's great sport to the public, and the crowd is merely a portion of the act.

Bring on the meanies, Mr. Elliott.
