

Loggers Close Season Here

With 2 Wins From Negroes

Taking two games from the Van Dyke Colored House of David last Sunday and Monday, the Coquille Loggers completed the home season with all colors flying high in playing great ball to defeat the traveling darkies. The scores were 5 to 3 on Sunday and 9 to 5 on Monday in six innings.

Pitching the games for Coquille were Merle Johnson, of Glendale, on Sunday and John "Lefty" Nykanin, of Empire, Monday. The pair hurled nice ball, holding their opponents in check while receiving airtight support.

The great game on Sunday saw some heads-up ball played. Coquille ultimately won in the first inning on four runs. The frame saw Bailey go out, to be followed by singles by Calvert and Foss. "Rocky" Peterson then homed to count three scores.

Continuing the assault, Woodyard got a life on a boot, stole second base and scored on Duncan's single. Outs by Pulford and Johnson ended the attack after a walk to Fischer.

Coquille scored again in the fourth on a walk to Johnson, Bailey's neat sacrifice, and a roaring line drive single by Eddie Foss.

Merle Johnson held the darkies to eight scattered blows, and when he did get into trouble, double plays mowed down the baserunners. Three such plays were made by Coquille, one each in the second, fourth and ninth cantos.

A triple and a single registered one House of David score in the third. The other two came in the sixth after two were out. Breedlove singled; Lomax hit a hump back liner to Mel Duncan, which the left fielder dropped, putting men on third and second to be scored in a mixup on an infield single by Bagby.

Monday night things were almost reversed when the darkies scored three times in the first after two were out and twice in the fourth due to three walks. The lead melted away, however, after Coquille began to find the range.

It was 5 to 2 in the fifth when the barrage started and before darkness ended things at the end of the sixth. Coquille had scored seven runs on six hits. The big bat of Marion Fischer drove in five of these on his smashing home run and a single.

UNDER THE BLEACHERS

(By Mark Seeley)
The curtain has fallen on Coquille baseball. The Loggers have one game at Medford remaining, but as far as our fair city is concerned, the show is over. But let's not forget for one moment that the 1937 season is coming. Let's plan.

Why not night baseball in Coquille? There's a strong sentiment for it and if the movement gets a good push it will probably roll along merrily. Already two well known Coquillians have volunteered to help push the movement.

It's the only thing for Coquille and it won't be hard to finance. Other towns have done so. Why can't Coquille?

With lights in Coquille, high school sports, as well as baseball, would prosper. There might even be a chance of bringing in Southern Oregon Normal and some other small college football teams for a seasonal game.

It's in the air, so let's all support the "night baseball movement." Night baseball is a cinch.

At Medford on Sunday, John Miljus and his boys will have a chance to defeat Coquille. The Miljus lads were easily taken in the game played here when "Rocky" Peterson toyed with the opponent batters from the hillcock. Bill Fortier hasn't mentioned who he's going to have pitch at Medford, but he'd better be wary of Johnny.

Writing about Medford reminds us that next month the Cincinnati Reds of the National League will be holding a baseball school there, offering a splendid opportunity to Oregon boys who want to go places in baseball. If Allan Bailey, "Rocky" Peterson, Verne Oderkirk, Eddie Moore and others can make it, this chance might be too excellent to pass up. Even a few days in the school might put a youngster in the limelight.

Mrs. Mae Lund, who had been visiting her mother, Mrs. O. O. Lund, on Sanford Heights, and other friends here for the past three weeks, left this morning for her home in Long Beach, Calif., accompanied by her daughters, Helen and Louise. The latter had spent the summer here with her grandmother.

all individuals, industry and business. Mr. Tooze did not infer that President Roosevelt would be the dictator, but that the tendency of this administration, if continued, could have but one result in a very few years.

Nor was it the president who is responsible for the communistic trend of the administration. It is the forces back of the president which have controlled federal government activities, the brain trust, if you please—Fankfurter, Tugwell, Ickes and their ilk—whose theories of government are being put into practice. wherever the supreme court has not put a stop to them.

It is not the democracy of Thomas Jefferson, or even of Woodrow Wilson, that is being fought this year, it is the New Deal successor to the principles they supported.

"We want to take the government out of Tammany Hall and Washington and return it to the people," was Mr. Tooze's emphatic declaration. And quoting the last great democrat, Woodrow Wilson, the speaker repeated these significant words by the war president, "The history of liberty is the history of limitation of governmental power; when we resist the concentration of power we are resisting death, for the concentration of power always precedes destruction of civic liberties."

County candidates introduced by Harry A. Slack, who presided at the meeting, were S. M. Nosler, republican candidate for the legislature; J. P. Beyers, for assessor; James L. Watson, for county clerk; Gene Laird, for district attorney; and Wallace L. Finnie, for county commissioner.

Mr. Slack announced that arrangements had been made for a republican headquarters for Coos county in the First National Bank building in Coquille. Not only the county central committee, but the Young Republicans club, Pro America, and any other republican agency will make use of the room as headquarters.

Natives of Borneo Jungles Taste Their First Ice Cream . . . and Like It

Native workers around the camp of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson in the heart of the Borneo jungles like ice cream so much that Mrs. Johnson is probably going to have a time of it keeping up with the demand. One of Mrs. Johnson's pastimes, when she isn't busy helping Mr. Johnson film the sound pictures of wild animal life with which the Borneo jungles abound, is making frozen desserts for the white members of the expedition. A few weeks ago, she decided to treat the native helpers, and any one can see by looking at the accompanying picture what the effect on these Borneo natives was when they tasted ice cream for the first time. Mrs. Johnson looks as pleased as the natives.

Telling about her picturesque introduction of ice cream as an addition to the native diet in the jungles, Mrs. Johnson said: "They liked it very much, and like Oliver Twist, are always asking for more."

This ice cream feast in a dense tropical jungle where the temperature is perhaps hotter than anywhere else in the world, could not have been accomplished if the Johnsons had not taken with them to Borneo two kerosene-operated refrigerators as part of the scientific equipment of the expedition. These were made available by the manufacturers of Electrolux refrigerators at Evansville, Indiana.

The Johnson sound pictures are being made for the American Museum of Natural History, and are also to be shown in moving picture houses throughout the world. The explorers will remain in Borneo two years. This is the first time that modern refrigeration has been used in an exploration of this kind, and certainly the first time that "home-made" ice-cream has been fed to native tropical tribesmen.
