FAIRVIEW

K. O. Bernhardt and sister-in-law, Mrs. J. C. Hedden and Alice, of Marshfield, spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Deadmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Flinn, of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Neely, of Coquille, were in Fairview and the North Fork last Tuesday. They narrowly escaped very serious injury when their car left the road on a grade below the Powell ranch but fortunately the auto did not slip over the bank. A wrecker was called from Coquille and the vehicle was pulled back into the road undamaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Flinn lived on the place now occupied by J. A. Deadmond more than 25 years ago. The Fairview country was clear and free from fog and smoke on Monday and Tuesday but the rising temperature caused numerous fires to start again and the smoke settled back. The fire of the previous week completely swept the Fairview mountain but the only property to burn was the vacant house owned by W. M. Withrow. The logged-off claim of the Coos Bay Lumber Company also burned as did other logged-off claims nearby. At several times all roads from this section were blocked by fire but families who were moving out forced their way through. The main fire now is back of the Clarence Hatcher ranch and close to the Carl Alley home.

Several people in Fairview have been suffering the past week with colds and the flu.

Bette Yeoman has returned to her home in Fairview. She may return later to the Ashland Normal. The local Women's Club met Wednesday to finish the club quilt and work on quilts and comforts to be given to the refugees of the Bandon fire.

Initiation practice by the local Grange was held Wednesday evening in preparation for new members joining Saturday evening.

An unusually large number attended Sunday school last Sunday. Rev. G. A. Gray, of Coquille, conducted the preaching services, following the usual morning classes. Wm. Byerly delighted all present by making the Sunday school the gift of an altar, made by himself and a truly fine piece of workmanship. The community joins in a vote of thanks to Mr. Byerly for his kindness.

Quite a few ladies of the community met at the community hall on Wednesday of this week to work on several projects for the Bandon relief.

The Fairview-North Fork Grange, No. 739, will meet in the community hall Saturday evening, October 10, at eight o'clock. The first and second degrees of initiation will be given all candidates at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farmer and family have moved to Bridge, where Mr. Farmer has employment.

Mrs. Kenison, mother of Vern and Harold Kenison and Mrs. Bert Dow, is visiting in the valley at the present time. Mrs. Kenison's home is in South Dakota.
