BREWSTER VALLEY

The company of CCC boys who have been at Camp Sitkum for the last six months left for Chicago Monday, Oct. 12, and a new company from Texas came in the same day.

Perley Crowley, John Roberts, Oscar Durrell and Lester Durrell helped Albert Christensen last Thursday and Friday in the building of a new barn to take the place of the one that burned.

The fire that roared around Split mountain and through Bear Wallow and down over the hills south of Nickasons and Mayses threatened valley folks again last Friday and Saturday. Lester Mayse moved his household goods out into the fields. W. A. Nickason had theirs packed and ready to move. The Marshfield men who came to help moved all of Durrell's best pieces of furniture to the Christensen home. As the fire travelled on, the wind changed and took it west. The L. B. L. logging company moved their logging outfit out of camp. The fire didn't get to any of these places but the motto was, "Better be safe than sorry."

Those who have visited with Mrs. Crowley the past two weeks and worked on the pansy quilt, which has been set up at her home, are Mesdames Oscar Durrell, Ernest Krewson, Elmer Wilson and W. A. Keller.

Mayse the past ten days or so. Mr. Mayse had his arm and hand so badly burned that he couldn't milk. He stumbled in some of the burned debris on the Christensen place and caught his hand in some that was still afire.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Laird received word Saturday that Sam Hill, of Redding, Calif., had passed away after being in the hospital two weeks. Sam Hill was an old and dear friend and had visited here at their home not long ago.

To conclude a contest that has been running on in the Young People's Sunday school class for the past three months a party was given by the losing side at the home of the class teacher, Mrs. W. A. Keller, Saturday evening. The leaders were Christina Christensen and Wilda Shepherd. A new contest has been started which will last until Christmas. The leaders are the Krewson sisters, Eloda and Velma. Those attending the party were Richard Christensen, Velma Krewson, Raymond Wild, Mrs. E. L. Boles, Priscilla Miller, Alice Oberman, Melvin Christensen, Eloda Krewson, Marino Callifello, Emil Bizub, Claud Hicks, Sherman Spencer, Dean Oberman, Ted Miller, Lincoln Miller and the Killer family. Refreshments of cookies, apples and punch were served.

Grant Harry came Monday to visit his sister, Mrs. J. D. Laird, and other relatives for a few days. He had
